The Sub-Editor had just finished typing a stack of letters and was putting the stamps on the envelopes. 'I've got good homes for all my grandchildren except one,' she said (I forgot to mention that the Sub-Editor is a Spaniel) 'A fine little male.'

That will cost you fifty cents for a classified Ad,' I said.

You ought to know better than charging your own Sub-Editor,' said the Spaniel. 'And it's about time you paid more attention to the advertisements anyway.'

The Spaniel opened her cigarette case, took out a bone, chewed on it reflectively for a moment, then continued. 'In the last issue, you left out Jack Smith Taxi advertisement, and you left out William Crawford's the shoemaker, too -- and that in spite of the fact that you had just got a couple of pairs of shoes repaired by him too. That was very bad.'

I said nothing. She was right. 'And the Classified Ads didn't show up enough,' said the Spaniel, 'and there wasn't an ounce of humor in the whole darned sheet. You'd better let me do the layout this time.'

'Right,' I said, 'Go to it.'
And we will see how the troops like this one.

RUMOUR DEPARTMENT

The story goes that some prospectors have been on Mount Bruce and have discovered ore and staked claims. The ore is supposed to be 32% of some metal used in the manufacture of steel, possibly manganese.

The Colemans may be leaving the Fulford Inn. Anyway, some new people have taken an option on the place.

Gavin Mouat is in the East. It seems that the possibilities of the Vesuvius-Crofton ferry look bright.

DEATH BY MISADVENTURE

Jimmy and Bobby Wood were driving a deer towards Robert J. Wood and 75 yards away to Robert Wood's left, on a stump in full sight, stood Robert Wood's grandson, Teddy Wood, aged 19. Robert Wood fired at the deer, the bullet hit something, mushroomed, and ricocheted at nearly a 90 degree angle, struck Teddy in the chest and killed him. At the inquest, which brought in a verdict of death by misadventure with no blame attached to anyone, the Game Warden stated that in all his experience he had never met with an accident of this nature. So far as can be seen all safety precautions had been taken.

The funeral, which was conducted by the Rev. J.G.G. Bompas, was attended by so many people that there was no room for them in the church and crowds stood outside, showing their sympathy and also the esteem in which the Wood family is held. The flowers filled two trucks.

The pallbearers were, Mac Mouat, Norman Mouat, Kello Wilson, Vic Okano Herby Howard and George Hurst.

The hymn book racks were made and donated by A. Hardwick.

HIGHER INTEREST MAKES CANADA SAVINGS BONDS BEST INVESTMENT EVER

For several reasons, the new Canada Savings Bonds are just about the best investment going, whether you purchase them outright or buy them on the instalment plan,' declared Howard Chalk, Manager of the Bank of Montreal in Ganges, this week, in discussing the new Government Issue on sale at his office.

One of the great things about Canada Savings Bonds, 'said Mr. Chalk, 'is that you can always get the full-face value of your investment. The price is guaranteed.

'Another thing about this new Issue,' he continued, 'is that it has the highest interest rate on record for this kind of bond.

'Each bond bears 10 coupons at the rate of 3.75 per cent,' he said. 'The first coupon covers a 21-month period (equal to 2.14 per cent per annum), due August 1, 1954. From that date, one coupon at 3.75 per cent is payable annually on August 1, until 1963. This replaces last year's rate of 3.5 per cent and amounts to 3.44 per cent per annum over the life of the bond, compared with 3.21 per cent last year.'

A lot of people are unable to purchase their bonds outright, Mr. Chalk pointed out, but, on the instalment plan - for only $2.50 down - anyone could make the initial payment on a $50 bond; $5 down pays the first instalment on a $100 bond. The remainder can be paid in easy, regular instalments over the period of one year.

'Although the Government has removed the controls on consumer credit,' Mr. Chalk stated, 'the need for fighting inflation still exists. Purchasing Canada Savings Bonds is a fine weapon in this fight, and it's a wonderful way to build a nest-egg for yourself.'

L. L. A. DANCE. The Fashion Show of Women's dresses was put on by Marjorie Fashion of 855 Denman Street, Vancouver. Steps lead down from the stage onto a raised walk which extended out into the dance floor.

The models came out from the right walked across the stage, turned back and down the steps (everybody had difficulty with the steps) and walked down the ramp where they turned again and returned to the stage. In the meantime Mrs. P. Cartwright was describing the dresses in terms not readily comprehensible to mere male. The light in the ceiling was perhaps too high to show the dresses to their full advantage and was perhaps rather blinding to the performers. The tags were still attached to the dresses & one's eye was distracted by the large white oblong hanging from each lady's sleeve. The dresses looked very nice and were moderately priced.

The models were; Mrs. Elliot, Mrs. Deyell, Mrs. Gurney, Mrs. Booth, Mrs.

DEATHS. Raymond Morris, son-in-law of Mrs. Borradaile and stepson of A. J. Eaton, was killed by a rolling log under the air beacon on Mount Tuam while working with Velleau Bros. of Duncan. He leaves his wife and son, Michael. (We learn that the crew had just finished work when the accident occurred).

Edward Wood, age 19, was killed in a hunting accident.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND. The Harvest Festival services were held at St. Mary's Fulford, Sept. 28; at St. Mark's on Oct. 5, at St. George's and at Beaver Point and Vesuvius on Oct. 12.

At a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary it was decided to hold a Potluck Congregational Supper on Oct. 24.

PENDER ISLAND. A very interesting event took place recently at the North Pender Island School when V. W. Menzies presented a map of Pender Island on behalf of his brother, Dr A. M. Menzies of Vancouver.

The map was drawn by Dave Smith of Balsam Street Vancouver, a cousin of S. P. Corbett of Pender Island. There was an insert portrait of Captain Daniel Pender who carried on Government survey work in these islands round 1860. Pender Island was named in honour of him.

Victor Menzies presented an enlargement of the first class, the teacher & pupils of that school 50 yrs ago. The teacher, Miss Springer, left Pender Island shortly after on account of her brother's death. There were fifteen pupils then: Peggy, Mary, Jean & Chrissie Hamilton; Ross Clifford & Alex Brackett; Ethel, Gertie & Basil Phelps; Percy & Winnifred Corbett; Clara, Morris & Ethel Menzies.

RUSH BREAKFASTS

Tom Carolan's weekly movie show has been given in Eddie Bambrick's old store.

Most of the bridges have now been made into culverts with the aid of special machinery, and good work has been done on the roads.

All the post holes for carrying the Galiano Light & Power Co's power up to the post office in the valley have been dug except those were blasting is necessary.

The new school is going up rapidly. It looks imposing.

A peculiar movement of ships was observed on the night of the 3rd. A large passenger vessel dropped anchor off Rip Point and remained there till 9.30 pm.. It then pulled up anchor, circled the Gulf and went through Active Pass where, in front of Captain Anderson's, it passed another boat of similar size going in the opposite direction. Owing to darkness the names of the boats could not be seen.

Three new families are moving in. One, the von Kaltenbergs and their three small sons, is staying at Fair y Pool Cottage.

Dear Folks of the Gulf Islands:

Have you seen -- or heard -- the construction activity on the Ganges Road side of our home -- the corner pointing towards the Cenotaph? We're getting quite excited about it ourselves.

You see, when we moved here last July, we knew we had chosen one of the most beautiful spots in the world for our home.

And soon now we expect to be ready to start our business -- the most beautiful business in the world!

Flowers are our business, and our flowers we hope will carry joy into the hearts and homes of all the Gulf Islands, and convey messages which cannot be expressed in any other way.

Our sincere desire is that we may be of real service here. We make up our own designs for all occasions, designs of your own choosing.

We shall also carry cut flowers, potted plants, cacti and succulents, hospital arrangements, dish gardens table centres -- a variety of things designed to add cheer and color and beauty to your lives.

We hope to open Nov. 1st. We'll let you all know as soon as we know.

Sincerely yours,

VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE ON GALIANO Two fires were extinguished, one up at Morgan's which started from the incinerating can and burnt to within thirty feet of the house (his 100 gallon storage tank was used as the source of water supply) and the other in the cemetery where a clearing fire began to get out of control

SQUARE DANCE AT FULFORD. This dance was held by St Mary's Guild of which Mrs Hippisley is President. The $60 it cleared will go to remodeling the vestry which is at present altogether too small. The work, all voluntary, will be under the direction of W.W.Hippisley, and the lumber has already arrived.

Mrs E.Lacy was in charge of supper, helped by Mrs A.O.Lacy, J.&Mrs Silvester, Mrs W.Y.Stewart & E.Lacy, and Miss B.Hamilton of Music. A.Hepburn was M.C. and called the dances, and Mrs A.Hepburn, General Convener, helped out those who got lost in their intricacies. Most of the dances were square dances with some Schottishs, French minuets, waltzes etc. Bert Boddis was at the door. Over a hundred people attended.

GALIANO & VESUVIUS-CROFTON FERRY The Galiano Development Association met, and about 30 people were present of whom about half came from the north end. VESUVIUS CROFTON FERRY AND
GULF ISLANDS IMPROVEMENT BUREAU

The Gulf Island Improvement Bureau held its October meeting on Mayne Island in the afternoon of Wednesday 1st instant, most delegates being present. Three visitors from north Galiano attended and discussed the benefits which might accrue should the proposed Vesuvius-Crofton Ferry include Retreat Cove on its route. Bureau members suggested that more information be obtained before taking action if any.

THE CHURCH of England Women's Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Underhill, with Mrs Maiden, President in the chair. Members were asked to give publicity to the sale of work to be held at 2 pm on Thursday 13 Nov, Joint hostesses to the tea which followed the meeting were Mrs C. Lord & Miss Underhill.

FULFORD SOCIAL CREDIT. Under the auspices of the Fulford Social Credit Group, the M.G.M. film MUSIC FOR MILLIONS together with a short GREENER HILLS was shown at the Fulford Hall 4 October.

After the showing, refreshments were served to nearly 200 guests. Old timers commented that this was the largest turn out the hall has known for such an event.

A silver collection was taken & it was very gratifying to the group to find that expenses were amply covered.

This is the first of a programme of non-political evenings which the Group proposes for the winter months and which, if present plans mature, will cover further film showings, debates on items of topical interest and possibly lectures on subjects of a semi-scientific nature.

THAT NUMBER HAS BEEN CHANGED TO-

As many of the numbers in the telephone book are wrong because the number has been changed. We have been asked by quite a lot of people to publish their correct number. This is to prevent the following only to common situation. You ring up X and the line is busy, so you wait half an hour and phone up again. By that time your line is busy. So you wait, and phone up again. By this time the X line is clear but there's no answer. Some time in the evening you get through 'Can I speak to X?' 'Sorry-- but the number's been changed'. So then you ring up the Operator, get the right number, and start all over again. In fairness, the Operators do their best to prevent this happening!

We were asked to publish a slip so that people could cut it out and stick it in the phone book, but as a matter of fact we forgot a number of the names because we hoped the phone company would bring out a new book soon, and we didn't want to
