GANGES SHELL SERVICE

The Ganges Shell Service has been in operation since the era when gas tanks were filled by a bucket and the buyer tested the quality of the gas he purchased by throwing a match into a small sample. This 37 years of continuous operation makes the Ganges Shell Service one of the oldest Shell stations in B. C.

Mr. Albert Bittancourt, a member of one of the oldest families on S.S.I., started the business in 1923, when more horses than cars were seen and four customers a day was a busy day at the gas barrels. The first station was located near the present White Elephant Cafe under a huge maple tree that has long since disappeared.

After the first manual, visual gas pump was installed, it wasn't long before the canny people of S.S.I. learned that it was much better to buy only one gallon of gas at a time. Due to the height of the pump and the angle of sight, the operator invariably put much more than a gallon in the car when he attempted to give the customer only one gallon.

Mr. Bittancourt built the station, as pictured above, in the present location in the early Thirties. He ran the station until his death in 1947. The station was then sold to D. L. "Goody" Goodman who ran it until selling to the present owner, Alex McManus, in 1956.

Alex, who has been the Shell distributor for the past fifteen years, has modernized the station, added a modern tank truck and wrecker service, sells gas and electric appliances, and has added a Rockgas storage area. Alex has lived on S.S.I. (Fulford) since 1945. He and his wife, Ida, have four children, three girls and one boy.

The fantastic growth of the oil industry is reflected in the story of this local station - from 1923 when more coal oil and naphtha was sold than gasoline, to the present day modern oil company that sells hundreds of products ranging from rocket fuel to synthetic fibres.

BEAVER POINT SCORES AGAIN!

The Beaver Point Community Assn. float won top honors in the annual Victoria Day celebrations for the second time Monday afternoon.

Dull skies and an over abundance of "island dew" failed to dampen the spirits of the hundreds of fun-seekers here to enjoy this annual celebration sponsored by the Fulford Hall Association. The celebration was held again this year at the Ganges School grounds.

The parade, under the direction of Fred Jackson, assembled at the Ganges Wharf, wound through the business district, and ended (CONT'D ON P. 2)

(CONT'D FROM P. 2) . . . PARADE . . . in a large circle at the school grounds. Members of the R.C.M.P. in their scarlet tunics led the parade. The queen's float, supplied again by B. C. Hydro, carried an honour guard from the Canadian Scottish Regiment from Duncan. Seated on the throne was this year's queen, Lynn Akerman, in a lovely gown of white nylon, embroidered with yellow flowers and wide yellow cummerbund. The retiring queen, Kathy Butt, stood behind her, also dressed in white. The two princesses Roberta Akerman and Verlyn East, wore pink and apricot gowns. Michael Horel was the page boy. The new queen was crowned on a flower-bedecked dais at the main entrance to the school building. She and her court were introduced by Miss Marguerite Gear, secretary of the Student Council, and presented with cups and gifts to mark the occasion.

The winning float depicted the famous "Beaver Point Bean Supper." There was a large stove with huge iron pot of beans being looked after by "cook" Andrew Stevens. Tables along each side were all set for the hungry mob and were being served by all kinds of "beans" There were green beans, purple broad beans, coffee beans, scarlet runner, etc. On the very back of the float was a huge bun, plate of beans and pie. On top of the cab Johnny Klassen was running the Bingo game and on the hood sat a "has bean" with large bingo card.

The second place winner was the Canadian Legion float depicting "The Village Blacksmith." A huge spreading chestnut tree (genuine) was mounted in the center and underneath its branches a complete blacksmith shop was in operation. An island blacksmith was located on the present site of S.S. Motors over 50 years ago. The anvil came from the old stone quarry on Saturna Island and was over 75 years old. Mr. H. Loosmore was the blacksmith and Mr. Magorran was kept busy at the grindstone.

Third place winner was McGill's Bakery with the loveliest assortment of S.S.I. "cookies" ever assembled in one box. This float was piloted by the "chief baker," Miss Jennifer Graham.

In addition to the three winning floats there were many others worth honourable mention. A group of "roaring 20's teen-agers" in an old 1921 Model T. Mr. A. Quesnel as Paul Bunyan complete with his ox, "Blue Babe." The local Fire Department was hilarious as they made a "2 a.m. fire call." Firemen were dressed in pajamas, and one, Ben Greenhough, was trudging behind the truck in his boots and underwear. A "just married" fireman was in his car, with boots hanging alongside and tin cans still tied to the rear of his car. There were Sea Scouts and the local Dog Obedience Training Club paraded their prize "pooches" and even horses complete with fiercely painted Indians riding bareback.

Following the crowning ceremonies and the presentation of awards the royal party was taken to Lady Minto Hospital for the benefit of the patients unable to attend.

Judges for the parade were Mrs. F. Olsson, Mr. L. Williams and Mrs. E. V. Fisher.

GULF ISLANDS DAY

Tomorrow, Friday, May 26th, has been declared "Gulf Islands Day" and many visitors from Galiano, Saturna, North & South Pender will be on Salt Spring Island at the invitation of the S.S.I. Chamber of Commerce. There will be a free lunch for the visitors and a tour of the Island conducted by members of the Chamber.

"Gulf Islands Day", which is hoped will become a yearly event, is a day for Gulf Islanders to get together and become better acquainted with their neighbours, to promote better understanding of each island's particular problems, and to lead toward closer cooperation among the islands.

Like members of any close-knit family, we are all different and we have the odd internal squabble, but for all our differences we are still Gulf Islanders - one big happy family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sober and family journeyed to Burnaby last week-end to join in the celebration of Mrs. Sober's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Swaykoski's Golden Wedding Anniversary. (CONT'D P. 3)

Danny and Morrie Akerman of the Salt Spring Boxing Club fought in the open-air boxing programme held in Royal Athletic Park in Victoria on May 22nd. The bouts, sponsored by the Sertoma Boxing Club of Victoria, featured three Canadian Champions and boxers from the P.P.C.L.I. Army Boxing Club, Vancouver, Chemainus, Salt Spring Island, and Victoria.

Danny, fighting at 70 lbs. lost a very close decision to Jimmy O'Neil of the Sertoma Club and Morrie decisioned tough Grant Mehar of Sertoma in the 90 lb. class. This closes out a highly successful boxing year for the S.S.I. boys. The local boxing club will resume activities next September.

SAFETY AT SEA..... Whether we like it or not, the Government has certain regulations concerning safety equipment aboard a boat. While a lot of Government regulations seem to deprive us of freedom, the regulations concerning life jackets does make a little sense because of the great increase in the boating fraternity by people with little or no sea experience. A case in point happened at Ganges last Monday. However this wasn't a pleasure boat being handled by an amateur. It was a 38 foot commercial boat from Steveston on a pleasure jaunt, with 12 people aboard and only five life jackets. The R.C.M.P. inspected the boat and would not let it leave without the proper amount of life jackets. Through the kindness of three citizens of S.S.I., the Skipper was able to borrow seven jackets and return to his home base.

Taking advantage of the weather, using the art of "gamemanship", and with a lot of luck, the team of Nels Vodden and Woody Fisher was the winner of the Horseshoe Tournament on Monday. There were 12 entrants in the tournament, including three people from Duncan. Later in the afternoon, Nels and the "Old Drifter" played off for the James Grosart Trophy, with Nels losing out in a close decision. While the entry list was small, there were indications that there are many horseshoe pitchers on the Island and there was talk of forming a league, possibly two -- one at Ganges and one at Fulford. If anyone is interested in playing horseshoes, he can contact Gavin Reynolds at 24 - B or phone 176.

Two princesses and one queen were chosen for Victoria's celebrations last week-end and Miss Marieka Schwagly, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwagly, was chosen as one of the princesses. Miss Marieka, just five foot tall, played the accordion and sang songs in four languages to win the talent portion of the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Schwagly are the owners of the Dutch Beauty Salon.

Mr. Pat Lee, of Kimberly; Mr. John Hewitt, of Cranbrook; Mr. Peter Chubb, Prince George; Mr. Robert King, of Merrit; and Miss Elsie Price, of Victoria, all ex-employees of the Ganges Branch of Montreal, arrived en masse for the holiday weekend.

Mr. David Lade, Assistant Superintendent from Vancouver Sunday School, will be special speaker at the Bible Chapel this Sunday.

Mr. John Smith, his brother Jerry and Duncan Hepburn spent the weekend "fishing" at Buttles Lake on Vancouver Island.

In his quest for someone to unravel the mystery of a ferry schedule, he ended up in the office of Salt Spring Lands, Ltd., where they promptly made him Office Manager in charge of the bookkeeping, the photo copying machine, and the girls. Within a short time, he had solved the mysteries of ferry schedules and had a nice little sideline going, acting as Chartered Accountant figuring out people's income tax and ferry schedule problems.

Jack, upon his arrival, immediately jumped into community affairs and has the scars to prove it. He served for three years as a School Trustee, one year as Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Treasurer of the Legion, Secretary of the Farmer's Institute, Chairman of the Scout-Cub Group Committee, and was even connected with the ill-fated Centennial Museum.

Shirley, the perfect mate for Jack, was off doing things in the P.T.A., Legion Auxiliary, Camera Club swimming classes, captain of the Girl Guides, and other forms of mischief while Jack was galavanting around at various meetings and Scout activities. Their baby-sitting bill was astronomical.

Since the Green's house has been converted to one huge dark room, the Greens have been doing a lot of camping, hiking and fishing. Jack says the fresh air of S.S.I., including the occasional whiff of the Crofton Mill, is much better than the smell of developing chemicals. Jack and Shirley are leaving the Island with much more than when they arrived. Derek, age 4 and the only native born plus a dog and a cat have been added to Peter (12) and Gillian (9).

Jack will be leaving about the 5th of June and the rest of the family will be going up North at the end of school. Bon Voyage!

They will be missed.
