ISLAND HEALTH COUNCIL MOVES TO INCORPORATE CHRONIC CARE HOSPITALS

At a recent meeting of the Cowichan Newcastle and Islands Health Council, a body made up of Hospital medical and administrative staff, Public Health personnel and B.C. Hospital Association, a resolution was approved for action at the next B.C. Hospitals Association Convention, calling for the government Hospital Insurance Service to take over responsibility for chronic care cases in appropriate facilities located in or convenient to the regular acute hospital treatment centres.

It was recommended that this step be taken to provide improved care and continuous treatment for the chronically ill.

At the present time many of these long term cases are treated in hospital facilities designed for acute treatment cases or are occupying beds in nursing or rest homes where modern treatment techniques and facilities are largely lacking.

In the same resolution it was further recommended that construction grants for these hospitals be on a fifty-fifty basis between the government and the local community rather than the present one-third. The group also is recommending that the cost of non-profit nursing homes be included under the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service program.

The resolution is to go before the B.C. Hospitals Association, and if approved will be forwarded to the government for action.

Dr. E.A. Jarman, vice-chief of staff of the local hospital, indicated that this is a significant move in the direction of more efficient treatment services for a much wider range of hospital treatment programs. "Rather than the present 10 to 20 per cent of the active treatment beds in the average hospital being taken up with cases requiring long term care, this would mean that a number of chronic care

ANNUAL FALL FLOWER FIESTA 'BEST YET'

Dr. R.W. Bradley, novice chrysanthemum grower, carried off the Scott and Peden trophy for the best chrysanthemum bloom in the annual fall show staged by Salt Spring Island Chrysanthemum and Garden Club in Fulford Harbour community hall, last Saturday. Mrs. E. Worthington was runner-up in this class.

Mrs. E.E. Groff won the Freeborn trophy for the special club chrysanthemum class. Trophy for grand aggregate points in chrysanthemum beds would be located in close proximity to present hospital facilities. "It would also mean that patients recovering from active treatment could be transferred to this department for convalescent care, thus relieving the present shortage of active treatment beds.

At the present time also, chronic cases are not covered by BCHIS, says Dr. Jarman, this plan would bring long term treatment cases under the provision of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

classes went to Joseph Wallis. Mr. Wallis was also awarded National Chrysanthemum Society certificates of merit. Mrs. Scot Clarke won the trophy for best floral arrangement in the show. Special prizes in the children's floral arrangement class were awarded to Terry Anderson and Geoffrey Lacy.

Mrs. Ena McCabe, president Victoria Horticultural Society, and instructor for the local club, opened the show with words of praise for the high standard of the exhibits. She was introduced by Austin Wilson. Well-known Victoria horticulturists acted as judges. Mr. & Mrs. C.J. Freeborn judged chrysanthemums; Mrs. McCabe, dahlias and other flowers; Mrs. R.J. Eveleigh, arrangements.

Striking background for the beautiful floral display was provided by an exhibition of paintings by Salt Spring Island artists, which was staged by Miss Gwen Ruckle. Artists included: Mrs. Mildred Seymour, Miss June Mitchell, H.B. Dickens, Mrs. Fred Saunders, Mrs.

VISITORS AT CEDAR BEACH RESORT HIT TROUT JACKPOT

Undeniable proof that late summer visitors to Salt Spring can enjoy an exciting visit is indicated by the fine mess of large cut-throat trout, caught this week in St. Mary Lake.

Inside twenty-four hours W.R. Bates and Keith Bates from North Surrey, who were enjoying a week end windup holiday at Cedar Beach, caught a baker's dozen trout weighing around three pounds each. The boys said they used worms with some sort of lake trout trolling equipment and had no trouble hooking two or three of these monsters each time they were out on the lake.

They wondered what all the fuss was about, not being aware that this seems to be something of a record, at least for this season.

A further report of the present trout population of St. Mary comes from our own staffer, Bruce Fiander, who recently observed a very large trout nearly jump onto the shore.

Mrs. Margaret Nickerison of Cedar Beach resort now feels much more confident of her answer when visitors ask the inevitable question, "How's the fishing?" (See Page 3.)

WHY BUY PASTEURIZED MILK?

Pasteurization kills bacteria and disease germs.

Raw milk contains so few of these germs and bacteria it is not necessary to process it. Rigid Government inspection and quality testing, is your safeguard
and assures you of top quality delicious natural milk.

Milk for pasteurization is allowed to have up to 75,000 colonies per milli-litre; whereas raw milk is allowed a maximum count
of 30,000 col. per m.

EDITORIAL

We were able to catch the Seven O'clock Show on TV last week on which owner operators of Ambulances were being interviewed on the question of increased ambulance costs. It appears that ambulance costs on the lower mainland are sky high already and a considerable popular protest is being raised about threatened increases.

The present tariff on an ambulance call in Burnaby is a whopping $30.00 minimum with an additional charge based on mileage. This makes the use of ambulance services in this area almost beyond the reach of the average citizen.

As a result of this discussion we were again impressed with the value of our Lions Club Ambulance Service locally, where for a modest five dollar fee per year a whole family can be eligible to use the ambulance when needed. The trend seems to be for ambulance service to be taken over by the BCHS, but until that time we are most fortunate.

While the local Lions organized the service and, along with the help of our volunteer firemen, provide drivers on a volunteer basis, the Lions Club do not have any control over where or when the ambulance goes. This is the sole responsibility of local doctors and police. The ambulance is available to go anywhere anytime, but the trip must be ordered or approved by the medical staff of the hospital.

We imagine there are others who are not aware of this further benefit to S.S.I. living. We owe a great deal to the Lions for providing this service.

BITS 'N PIECES . . . . .

Our morning cereal was laced with fruit this morning. At this time of the year this may not seem strange or newsworthy, but when I report that the fruit happened to be large luscious strawberries this is somewhat astonishing.

Mr. Harry Loosemore dropped into the office yesterday with a little bag full of these beauties picked that morning, from his garden strawberry patch, as he has been doing for some time now. They were lovely - thanks Harry.

In line with strange natural phenomena this week was Monday's display of a crazy barometer. The pressure at our house Monday morning was something over 30. ? with the indicator pointing smack in the middle of VERY DRY. Looking outside one could hardly see the end of the yard for the steady downpour of rain.

Bob Fortune mentioned it in his regular evening weather report, but didn't offer much of an explanation except to say you can't always go by the weather description around the circle of your glass.

We'd like to know the answer to the question as to why the ferry fare from Vesuvius to Crofton, a twenty minute run, is the same as the fare from Fulford to Swartz Bay, which takes twice as long.

Could be that this is the government's way of streamlining administration and avoiding the necessity of having two fare structures involving different ticket systems etc. Anyway we think it seems rather a high tariff especially for those visitors to Salt Spring who do not use commuter tickets.

It is possible we might have more visitors sampling our Island scenery all year around, possibly on their way to and from the mainland via Long Harbour if it weren't for this expensive short jump from Vesuvius.

What say you, C. of C. ?

Yesterday's news item from Vancouver on one aspect of the traffic problem seems to us to be somewhat illogical, to say the least.

Vancouver Police Traffic Superintendent, Allan Rossiter announced that the traffic officers of the force have been ordered not to give any traffic tickets to motorists who exceed the speed limit, providing these drivers are moving along with the flow of traffic on the main streets. Police officials are committed to impress on citizens the importance of respect for the law and this principle is properly backed up with appropriate penalties. One wonders if there shouldn't be appropriate penalties also for such officials as this, who openly announce, without reference to anyone else apparently, that the law will be suspended.

How can this be rationalized or explained in view of the principle that one must obey and uphold even a bad law until it is changed?

BOAT'S-EYE-VIEW (Cont'd) by the Second Mate.

Musgraves is 18 miles by road from Ganges, the latter part of which is little more than a narrow mountain trail. Once a year Mouats oil truck effects this hazardous trip to service the three houses at Musgraves, all now owned by an American multi-millionaire, the Corn Flake King - Mr. W. Kellogg.

On foot, the road is quite enchanting - we explored it for a mile or so. It is thickly carpeted in pine needles and the tall trees whose boles are covered with velvety moss and hidden by sword-fern meet overhead in a canopy of cool green.

Down at the Landing one is utterly entranced by the solitude and beauty of the little bay. It is fringed by great cedars, their overhanging branches dipping right down into the sea. The air is pure-fresh, free from exhaust fumes. Nothing breaks the silence but the wash from an occasional passing craft and "the song of wind-stirred trees in lonely bay,

The scent of ancient cedars, growing grey."

Reluctantly leaving Musgraves we cruise along admiring the three houses on the hillside. The first sumptuous mansion with its elegant grounds is the summer residence of the Kelloggs, the white house which was formerly Smeaton's is occupied by the caretakers and the last one, tucked into a snug little inlet behind Burial Island is the Mitchell's (relations of the Kelloggs).

FAREWELL-COME AGAIN TO MRS. VI GRANT

by Bea Hamilton

Solimar was alive on Sunday with the annual marine picnic and outing of the Victoria Power Squadron.
The visitors arrived early and barbecued lunch, then enjoyed a full afternoon of fun
and frolic.

Mrs. Grace Gillson's
hands were full that day,
for she no sooner got rid of the Power Squadron crowd
when a local party arrived to spend the evening around the fire, barbecuing their supper, chatting and generally having a good time.

This was a farewell supper in honour of Mrs. Vi Grant who has recently left the Island to live near Sidney at Deep Cove. Good wishes and good luck were showered on our neighbour
and friend-who can't keep away from the Island anyway - she pops over to say hello to her friends once in awhile.

Our best wishes for a happy home go to Vi Grant.

W.I. NEWS

by Bea Hamilton

The first meeting of the season for the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. Lee last Thursday, with a baker's dozen members present. (That means 13 and little Frankie Mossop made it 14).

They elected the writer as delegate to the October 8th W.I. Conference at Lake Hill. Miss V. Salliss and Mrs. E. Anderson, who are on the District Board, and several other members, will be going to the conference as well.

A card party is scheduled for Sept. 25th at Nan's Coffee Bar. A letter of thanks from the Fulford Hall committee was received, acknowledging their pleasure at the donation of a gross of cutlery.

After the business, came pleasure, and a gift was presented to Mrs. Vi Grant, who served as secretary for the last time at the meeting. Mrs. Grant is now living at Deep Cove. She was presented with a pen and light and nandy pad, three in one sort of thing. A card of good wishes from all the members went with the gift.

Mrs. Grant also won a lovely cake in a lucky draw. Mrs. Slingsby, president, then produced a hilarious guessing game, won by Miss Salliss and Mrs. W.Y. Stewart. They played a tie-breaker and Miss Salliss won - (a pot of jelly from Mrs.
