MAJOR RENOVATIONS BEGUN AT

IMPERIAL ESSO PLANT

Tuesday morning saw the beginning of major changes to the plant and marine facilities of the Esso plant operated by Norman Mouat. The changes are to take several weeks and involve increasing the capacity of oil storage facilities with several new tanks to be installed.

The new tanks are to be shipped on a barge and are expected here about the end of the week. They will be loaded on a flat bed truck and hauled to the top of the present site. Four of the present tanks are to be removed as are the loading facilities and piping.

A new system of delivery of oil from the barge is to avoid the present interference with float and servicing operations.

Major building changes in progress now include the removal of all old buildings presently being used as warehouses.

The large shed at the south end of the float is to be finished and fitted as a modern warehouse for the storage of Esso products.

Norman Mouat was understandably pleased after waiting some time for these necessary changes. He beamed at the thought of a brand new office, included in the plans to occupy the space at the present entrance to the plant.

While the extensive changes are being accomplished the business will be carried on via a special barge to be anchored at the dock. This will enable the products to be distributed as usual without having to use the present tank facilities.

All members of the W.I. join in a social afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Anderson on Thursday, December 9th at 2 p.m. This is the Christmas Party and all bring a small gift - there will be a Christmas Tree and refreshments - and some colored slides shown by Mrs. Violet McClaron.

On December 18th, two things are on at the Fulford Hall - the Children's Christmas Party in the afternoon and the big 500 drive at night - 8 p.m. with a turkey door prize and card prizes - refreshments and fun. This too, is a Christmas Party really getting into the swing of things now.

Some of the ladies who were kept very busy satisfying hungry appetites at the Rod & Gun Banquet. Left to right, Marion Hollings, Mrs. F. Hollings, Mrs. R. Patterson, Carol and Jean Bennett, turned home after spending a week or two in Wisconsin, where she visited her Aunt who was in hospital.

Sir Philip and Lady Livingston will return on Tuesday after spending a few days in Vancouver.

Miss Bea Hamilton attended the Canadian Womens Press Club luncheon meeting at the Dominion Hotel dining room on Monday. Mrs. V. McClaron, her sister, accompanied her.

We hear that the Centennial Committee is getting active about the Island project, they are going to need help, brawn and muscle, pretty soon, to get things in shape. All the best to them

SUPPORT C.A.R.S.

CAMPAIGN

Canadian Arthritis & Rheumatism Society have cans at various business places on the Island hoping for your donations. One small boy who donated his last penny to the can at Driftwood almost two weeks ago was back recently, shook the can and said disappointedly "You still have only my penny here."

Help the C.A.R.S. campaign by making your donation.

The cans were distributed and sponsored by the C. W. L. with Mrs. O Ratzlaff as convenor who says they will be collected at the end of December.

Mr. Eric Faure, secretary of the lion's Club says

"Our Club urges your support of this very worthy organization, and will delay any appeal on behalf of Lions Club charities until the C.A.R.S. campaign is complete."

Charlie Hunt who, with his Orchestra played for the recent Rod and Gun Club Dance at Fulford Hall has been a longtime in the business.

Islanders remember dancing to his excellent music as far back as 1926. Certainly Mr. Hunt, at the piano, looks as if he enjoys the evening as much as the dancers. One other of the orchestra members was with the original group.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

BLESSED CHRISTMAS

By Bea Hamilton

So it's Christmas-almost. Now don't get 'fashed' folks as they say, in Ireland, enjoy this Christmas and make it a budget-easy one. If you want to buy a gift, buy one but do it because you want to and not as a duty. If it's duty bound you are, then make it small and neat - a gift is appreciated for its thoughtfulness and love and not for its financial worth. Christmas is a time of genuine kindness and love to commemorate the day of Christ's birth. Oh, so you don't believe in all that. Well, that's your privilege. What we believe in is very important, be it good, bad or indifferent. If you dislike a person, don't try to hurt him, if you cannot send a good thought, sent nothing.

Thoughts are powerful, living vibrations and circulate to do good, or harm. Crazy? No. It is a well known fact. And by the way your thoughts reflect on yourself, angry thoughts sour you and make you ill, upset the digestion and cause acids - acids can go on the war-path inside your tummy - you guessed it - & cause ulcers and other ailments.

Good thoughts, kindly thoughts, up-lifting thoughts bring a feeling of serenity and peace, and have even been known to cure ills. Because such worthy thoughts act in your insides like a

Did you watch "Seven Days" and its documentary on Viet Nam on Sunday last? Did you have the same sick nausea I did while listening to a grinning U.S. pilot describing with shouting erotic rapture the thrill he experienced as a result of hitting a native village with napalm and "utility bombs"?

Did you feel the same sense of hatred and disgust for the American when a series of photographs showed the result of the air raid - row on row of burning homes with the mangled bodies of native men, women and children, entangled in the utter devastation?

This same pilot's only regret was that he could not be two places at once in that he was in his plane miles away and could not be on the scene on the ground to see how "we really knocked them over."

The recorded words of another marine infantryman in a sort of blind soliloquy on how he saw the position he was in. That he had a job to do. That the U.S. had never been beaten or wrong before and he figured it wasn't up to him to ask himself any questions. "He had a job to do. That job was to kill communists and that was what he was there for."

Another lovely scene showed several soldiers holding down on the ground a trussed up prisoner who was blindfolded and who was being tortured by some sort of liquid which appeared to be poured over his head.

My mind went back to World War II, I recalled that many of these brave fighting men of the new U.S.A. were only the so-called gleam in the eyes of their fathers, or at best, infants newly arrived on this planet. They could not remember or know of the black anger and world condemnation called down on the head of Hitler, who, without compunction or guilt of any kind, deliberately walked into other sovereign nations declaring he had a better way of life for them. Battering down any resistance put up by the natives of each country in turn with an overwhelming force of highly trained and equipped army that could strike with lightning speed.

They could not know that this same man, Hitler, came within an ace of accomplishing his objective of world domination before the forces of justice caught up with him and eventually broke his awful power.

If they could know or have experienced this bit of shameful history, would their attitude still exude blind unthinking bestiality toward fellow humans?

Wasn't it just this kind of long-term emotional ignorance and hatred in a large segment of an otherwise civilized society that made it possible for Hitler to go as far as he did? How long do we wait before the American people, who have a proud history of friendship toward the under-privileged and needy, to give over this present folly and recognize this brute destruction foreshadows their own national ruin.

An equal tragedy is the present trend in our own country to hear official statements condoning this savage American foreign policy in Southeast Asia.

This, in spite of the policy recommended by Prime Minister Pearson in a speech delivered in New York, March 5, 1965. In that speech he said, "Today...the aim of the international community must be to secure conditions in Southeast Asia in which, under international control and international supervision and effective international policing, the states in that area can work out their own affairs and conduct their own policies without any interference from any neighbour or any outside power."

THE WEEK'S TATTLE

We hope you have remembered that this week is the deadline to get mail away to the U.S. and distant Canadian points if you want to be sure of delivery in time for Christmas. Next week is deadline for other out of town points.

Mrs. Beth Wood at the recent Centennial meeting was quoted as saying the "average Canadian knows more about the history of United States than about his own country." We have heard this remark made over and over again but have never been able to find out whether there is any validity in it. Nor why Canadians feel this way.

We wonder if it isn't a matter of living in the shadow of such a huge nation as the U.S. Even though their propaganda comes to us loud and clear all the time, our own sun is still there. We hope that Mrs. Wood will clear the matter up for us.

Meanwhile, we thoroughly enjoy hearing and finding out more about local and Canadian history at every opportunity.

It was good to see Mrs. Marie Till visiting her old friends on Salt Spring last week. She has now returned to her job cooking at a camp near Vernon but reports that she really enjoyed her holiday.

We received a letter from Miss Marg Johnston, formerly of Stark Road who is now established in Vancouver and back in the real estate business.

A daughter, Lisa Christine was born November 13 at the Ashcroft Lady Minto Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Munro. Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid of Arbutus Court are the grandparents.

A clipping from a 1939 newspaper was brought to us recently by Mr. Harry Loosmore listing donations of cash & volunteer labour, of those "assisting with the construction of the new school at Ganges." Mr. Loosmore explained that in that pre-war building programme Islanders pledged volunteer labor or cash donations so the tax mill rate could be kept in control. Most of the men donated $25 in labour which - back then would have been the equivalent of several days. Names like Hepburn, Loosmore, Beech, listed are still active supporters of Island efforts and activities. Unfortunately, this sort of co-operative community effort would no longer have any effect on our tax rate. We hope that what is gained through greater government control in these matters is a much higher standard of education for our young people.

No date has been set as yet but Mr. Faure told Driftwood that the Lions are planning to present one of their very enjoyable "Lion's Shows" again this coming year. It is an evening of fun that we all look forward to.

YOUTH SCOOP

On Monday, Holiday Theatre came to town and everyone in school chipped in his or her fifty cents and went to see them.

It was a really good performance. The man told all about where puppets originated, how he got his, and explained the stories. The best one, I thought were the shadow puppets.

Exams start at the end of this week and go all next.

C.W.L. NEWS

The December meeting of the C.W.L. was held in the Church Hall with 12 members present and president, Mrs. G. St. Denis presiding.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for the children of the Parish for December 18th.

The ladies made arrangements for cleaning and decorating the Church for Christmas.

The Committee in charge of the C.A.R.S. drive sponsored by C.W.L. reported that 10 cans have been placed around the Island at various business places, including Vesuvius and Fulford. Tea hostesses were Mrs. O. Ratzlaff and Mrs. A.E. Marcotte.

"Dare glasses certainly attract attention, don't they, dear?"

CHRISTMAS EVENTS AT THE CHURCHES

Christmas plans are underway at all Island Churches for special Christmas events.

White Gifts will be offered by the children of St. George's Sunday School. December 12th at 11 a.m.

December 19th at both St. Mark's and St. Mary's. Archdeacon Horsefield has planned what he terms a "Carolade" — a delightful word, he says he has patented which he defines as "a service made up of carols with prayers and/or readings between".

Full Gospel Chapel has their annual Sunday School Christmas Pageant in final stages of rehearsal. The final presentation is tentatively planned for December 23rd. Definite date will be announced shortly.

December 12th marks the Annual Vesper Service of the Canadian Girls in Training to be held Sunday evening December 12th at 7:30 p.m.

AROUND THE VILLAGE SHOPS

We spent a most interesting and enjoyable morning recently in a somewhat frenzied fashion, this being the Christmas shopping season, in looking around the local stores to see what they are offering to Christmas shoppers. We found there is a wide selection of gift items ranging from the practical to the beautiful and from the imaginative to the comic.

As is usual, we were a little green with envy when we viewed the beautifully decorated windows of the flower shop and the jewelry store and the attractive displays in Turners and the Pharmacy.

City stores by now are packed with crowds pushing and milling around - no place to park, tempers of both shoppers and clerks fast rising with frustration. Shop around here first. We think you will enjoy it more and fret less.

Of course our grocery stores are bringing in lots of special items for Christmas. Right now, they are taking orders for turkeys, have holiday baking needs displayed and other special Christmas items.

The conventional style home and tree decorations are available from several local merchants. Inside and outside lights are on display.

If you want a special and beautiful home decoration, see the locally made originals in decorative panels and swags for your door or wall. A fine selection of candles are available, including lovely cherub candles holders from Germany which could make a center of interest for your mantel this year.

Why not give your home a special gift this year too? We saw a set of TV tables in a new shimmering plastic that would be easy to clean and handy for extra guests. There is a good selection of small electrical appliances as well as clocks from the necessary alarm style to decorative types.

Need glassware? There are all shapes and styles of glasses available including some in beautiful Polish glassware. Punch bowls in the Polish glass as well as milk glass are on display. English bone china is always a wonderful gift for the home at any time of year.

On the more practical side, but a good idea if needed - new style, silvered rural mail boxes with flag attached. Ashley wood heaters, fire screens, TV's and radios. And in regard to TV's, the tiny portable that was shown to us right here at Driftwood, seems really practical. It got excellent reception on a built in aerial and has earphones attached so you can listen to your program without outside family noises interfering or, on the other hand, not disturb the light sleeper if you want to see the late, late, show.

Already we find ourselves out of space and have hardly started to tell you of our shopping survey. We can give you a few more suggestions next week.
