QUEEN IS CHOSEN AT SALT SPRING

Queen Suzette Menzies (seated) and her princesses, Linda Pallot and Nikki Keating were chosen by high school students on Friday.

NO QUESTION!

Company to Conform

Report that the Land Development plans of McMillan and Bloedel Properties could result in a population of 10,000 on Galiano Island is "totally unrealistic", D. F. McCrimmon, manager of MacMillan & Bloedel Properties, said today.

"Our plans, as presented to the Galiano Advisory Planning Committee could result in the development of 1,100 to 1,400 lots, depending on the amount of land which would be taken up by roads and open space," said McCrimmon, and the development would take place over ten to fifteen years.

"With an average lot size of 0.6 acres, one would presume this would create a population of about 4,000-- and mostly seasonal, rather than permanent.

"8,100 acres will remain undeveloped on our tree farm."

McCrimmon said that after the meeting with the Advisory Planning Committee the Company discussed its development plans and the Gulf Islands questionnaire with Regional District officials. The Company presented the opinion that the Gulf Islands were geographically separate, each had its own individuality and they should have their own subdivision and zoning bylaws. This opinion coincided with that of Mr. J. M. Campbell, the new representative of the Outer Islands on the Regional Board.

"We never suggested nor considered that our proposed develop-

JUNK CAR PROGRAM LIKELY TO WAIT UNTIL AUTUMN

SAM, the junk car man will not likely be on Salt Spring Island until fall, Salt Spring Island Planning Association was told on Monday evening.

The provincial government will make arrangements to bring it here and will probably take steps to encourage old cars to be brought here from the Outer Islands at the same time.

VOTERS TO DECIDE SCHOOL PROGRAM

Two Votes On Saturday For Islanders

School building program has a second chance. When a plan for two schools on Salt Spring Island and changes to most outer islands schools was presented to the ratepayers last December it was rejected by a narrow margin.

On Saturday the property owners of the islands will be asked to take a second look and offer the program the support necessary to go ahead.

After some criticism from ratepayers the school board has split the program into two separate votes. One vote covers all elementary school plans and the other refers entirely to the high school.

Major project in the elementary school plan is the reconstruction of Salt Spring Island elementary school. Erected in 1941, the building is under fire by the fire marshal for its finish and its design. The fire marshal has asked for a fire-resistant construction and other changes. Major planned expense is for this job. Alterations to the elementary school will cost $182,000 and the activity room another $130,000. In addition to the total of slightly more than $310,000, there is another $20,000 for a

FAST TRAFFIC

Suggest 20 mph For Rainbow

Salt Spring Island Community Planning Association decided on Monday evening that the speed of heavy traffic on Rainbow Road was no concern of its members. At the same time members agreed that traffic speed was excessive and suggested that a limit of 20 mph might be sought for the section of Rainbow Road from the Cement plant to Lower Ganges Road.

The association heard a report from Ed Chew who explained that he had stopped a gravel truck and charged the driver with excessive speed.

Jim Wilkinson told the association that he had twice been forced off the road by heavy trucks and that his wife and her mother had taken to the ditch on another occasion when met by fast-travelling trucks from off the island.

Mr. Chew agreed to pursue the matter with the RCMP and the Salt Spring Island Ratepayers Association.

NO MORE GARBAGE IN WOODS

Garbage trails are to be eliminated from Salt Spring Island woods.

When Gavin Reynolds paid a visit to Peter Arnell Park on Stewart Road last week he was indignant at the collection of old cars, domestic garbage, commercial dumping and discarded household appliances.

Peter Arnell Park was named in honour of the Salt Spring Island land surveyor who lost his life to a hunter on Galiano. While the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce has been negotiating with the province on park development, the community has turned it into a garbage dump, complained Mr. Reynolds.

RCMP were called in last week to ascertain the identity of persons dumping the garbage and to take any possible action to halt the practice.

Garbage has been burned and buried and public access is restricted to foot traffic.

Use of public property for garbage dumping is an offence under provincial statutes, warned Mr. Reynolds.

WHO AND WHERE?

WHAT'S VOTING?

WHAT VOTE?

On Saturday property owners of the Gulf Islands School District will be invited to cast a ballot on two referenda.

WHAT FOR?

One referendum calls for approval of a $392,700 building program for elementary schools. The other wants $359,300 for expansion of secondary school facilities.

WHICH IS THE IMPORTANT ONE?

Which is the important one? Both votes are important and both are aimed at providing adequate opportunities for island children.

WHERE DO WE VOTE?

WHEN DO WE VOTE?

From 8 am until 8 pm.

WHO CAN VOTE?

Any Canadian or British subject who owns Gulf Islands property and is over 19.

HOW SHOULD

WE VOTE?

Yes.

No Money For Youth 72

There is no money for Youth 72.

Chairman of the youth committee on Salt Spring Island, Tina Wichmann was told by letter last week that the Salt Spring Island project has been turned down by the minister, Gerard Pelletier.

Earlier this year the federal government cut back the Salt Spring Island application for funds under the federal youth program. Last week they cut it back to nothing.

Last year youth on Salt Spring Island was awarded a grant of $24,000 for various projects. This year they were told there have been many applications of more value.

There will be no youth program on the island this year.

Building Near $4 Million

Building in the Gulf Islands last year amounted to an estimated $3,625,745.

Figures for the year have been released by the Capital Regional District.

Of the near $4 millions put into island building, $1,853,089 was in respect of Salt Spring Island and $1,772,656 for the Outer Islands.

There were 163 permits issued on Salt Spring and 171 permits on the Outer Islands.

They covered 82 single-family dwellings, one duplex, seven commercial structures, 15 plumbing installations and 58 "other", on Salt Spring.

Outer Islands saw 98 new single-family dwellings, four commercial structures, 20 plumbing installations and 49 "others".

By the end of March this year building permits had neared the million-dollar mark, with 31 on Salt Spring at $415,028 and 27 on the Outer Islands for $337,035.

Stores To Prosecute Lifters

Close check is to be kept on Salt Spring Island stores in an effort to reduce thefts by shoplifting.

Retail merchants' committee of Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce last week decided to invite random checks by RCMP. They also agreed that members will prosecute shoplifters without hesitation in future.

Operators have been concerned over the sharp increase in thefts from island stores. Shoplifting is on the increase across Canada. Rate of increase is as great on the island.

CHOIR TO SING HERE

Pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. R. B. Horsefield, Mrs. M. V. Gilpin, Mrs. N. Hind-Smith, Mrs. Desmond Crofton, Mrs. K. Rathwell, Mrs.

W. Utley and Mrs. F. Silby.

Tea was served by students of Grades 11 and 12 who attend Gulf Islands Secondary School. Those serving were Ann Ross, Marnie Jarman, Susan Byron, Karen Brown, Tina Wichmann, Brenda Geary and Joanne Mostad.

Mrs. P. G. James was responsible for the artistic arrangements of lovely spring flowers.

The popular Bake Stall loaded with home made cakes, pies, cookies and jellies did a brisk business. This was convened by members of St. Mary's Guild at Fulford.

The raffle was organized by Mrs. Campbell Carroll assisted by Mrs. H. Stafford and ladies of the Chancel Guild. Mrs. Emily Crosby donated several hand made gifts for the raffle; donations were also received from George Wells and the Simson brothers, North End. The winners of the raffle were Mrs. H. Hywatt, Mrs. Hind-Smith, Mr. Babin, R. Walker, Mrs. A. Butler-Cole and Mrs. A. Wolfe-Milner.

FESTIVAL IS SUCCESS

Most successful flower show seen on Salt Spring Island was Sunday's Flower Festival in the grounds of the Gulf Islands Secondary School.

The courtyard and rock garden were draped with flowers for the first festival on Sunday.

Each area of Salt Spring Island submitted a display in keeping with the community.

Beddis Subdivision had a sea-side display complete with Utley's Castle and trees. St. Mary Lake showed a lake complete with algae.

In addition to the displays there were various specialty flowers characteristic of the area or of a grower in that community.

Ganges Hill was well-represented and Isabella Point was more concerned with the characteristic growth.

Vesuvius emphasized the water and Hundred Hill was shown by exhibitors as more rock than gardens.

The festival was set in the natural setting of the rock outcrop at the secondary school and gained from the surroundings. Some weary exhibitors who had worked valiantly on Sunday evening to clear up the display decided that it would have been a fitting display for students on Monday. Many would have enjoyed it, DRIFTWOOD was told.

The highly successful festival took the place this year of the spring flower show. Salt Spring Island Garden Club was already talking of next year's show before they had cleared up this one.

OFF TO BURGOYNE BAY FOR VISIT IN SCHOOL HOURS

Mr. Woodley's Grade 6-7 class travelled to Burgoyne Bay and Isabella Point to study geological formations last Friday.

At Burgoyne Bay the students examined the fault line and found examples of quartz and granite. They also were extremely interested in the large conglomerate rocks that have come down from Mt. Maxwell.

Later, at Isabella Point, different types of metamorphic rocks were studied and samples brought back to class.

Arts And Crafts For Hospital

BY ELSIE BROWN

The bazaar held on Saturday at Mayne Island under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts group was an unqualified success and the members were very pleased with the support given them by both islanders and visitors.

ANDERSON IS STILL IN THERE FIGHTING GIANT OIL TANKERS

BY SPECTATOR

Our man David Anderson, the Ralph Nader of Canada, is still fighting oil tankers in the American courts. The United States Department of the Interior's "Second Environmental Impact Statement on the Trans-Alaska Pipeline System" vindicates Anderson's stand.

The "Statement" agrees that there will be massive oil spills on the tanker route and admits that the Mackenzie Valley land route is superior. But the issue is by no means settled and those colossal tankers are under construction.

Anderson will continue to fight for us in the American courts. Sympathetic Canadians have thus far contributed $15,000 to support him, which has met his expenses to date. He needs more.

Perhaps you didn't send your dollar or two when he first appealed and would like to help now.

The address is: The Canadian Wildlife Federation Trust, Box 741, Victoria, B. C.

The proceeds exceeded $300 and will be donated to the Women's Auxiliary of Lady Minto Hospital who have supplied needed extras for the hospital for many years.

Convener, Mrs. Marjorie Haggart officially opened the bazaar at 1:30 p.m., welcoming the enthusiastic shoppers.

Responsible for the tea and various booths were: tea convener, Mrs. Millie Paton assisted by Mrs. Blanche Anderson, Mrs. Gertie Vigurs, Wanda Paton and Barbara Ross; bake table, Mrs. Margaret Bennett and Mrs. Winnie Hayhurst; arts and crafts Mrs. Annie DeRousie and Mrs. Liz Harris; plants and produce, Mrs. Betty Fry, Mrs. Kathleen Dought and Mrs. Pearl Brau; white elephants, Mrs. Sophie Betts and Mrs. Maud Smith; raffles, Mrs. Effie Pigott and Mrs. Kay Spencer; at the door, Mrs. Helen Buckland.

Winner of the door prize painting donated by Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, was Alex Mussick.

Other raffle winners were: Mrs. Lenore Safioles of Edmonton who won the quilt made by the arts and crafts group. Mrs. Edith Imrie, doll made by Mrs. Marie Elliott; Neil Imrie, footstool, upholstery done by Vic Haggard, design, Mrs. Barbara McFarlane; Mrs. Effie Pigott, painting donated by Mrs. Nita Flick.

Members of the Lady Minto W.A. from Salt Spring Island attending the bazaar who came by water taxi were President Mrs. F. Scorgie, Mrs. W. Petapiece, Mrs. Betty Smith, Mrs. Connie Kelly, Mrs. Eileen Perry, Mrs. Neil Jackson, Mrs. H. Shandro, Mrs. T. Chester and Mrs. Mary Yellowlees. They are to be thanked for helping to make the bazaar such an outstanding success.

Islanders are asked to keep the date of the official opening of the new wing at Lady Minto in mind - it is Friday, May 19. Quite a number of Mayne Islanders plan to go and will leave Village Bay at 11 am. The opening ceremony is at 3 pm.

NEW RESORT FOR LAKE ?

New resort project is looming for St. Mary Lake.

On Monday evening the Salt Spring Island Planning Association received a letter from L.D. Busswood in Vancouver, explaining that his family had originally planned a residence on their cleared land at the head of St. Mary Lake.

In view of reports on new commercial development, they feel that perhaps such a use is the logical development of their own property.

The lake is "prime target of those who would exploit it to the full", said the letter.

They plan to use the large, five bedroom house as a lodge, and add smaller cottages. The resort will include a wharf and floats for boats, but they are not yet decided on water skiing, the letter explained.

The developers were advised to approach the association first.

The announcement met with no support from Director Marc Holmes.

"I am, as you all know, opposed to any further commercial development on St. Mary Lake," he observed.

to be frank

By Richards

Statistics Canada is blowing my mind. It goes on and on and on and on and on...I get all kinds of questionnaires. Gulf Islands figure they've had enough questionnaires. Wait till Statistics Canada finds out; it's only just started. Newest includes a book of 15 pages to tell you how to fill it in. Who are you; what are you? Why? They want to know everything because more people will know more facts about more businesses in more places than ever before. Or something. And helpful! You've never read it, you just don't know! Section 8: para a.. Question... Did you rent space to any concessionaires in your business location during the reporting period. Explanation as per page 14 of the book of explanations: Indicate whether you rented space to any concessionaire in your business location during the reporting period. But then we come to the kernel of the whole thing. You can't go wrong if you read the book. It just tells the story exactly as you have to do it. "Check the appropriate box on the questionnaire" says the helpful handbook. Do they think I'm a kook? Did they figure I'd use the wrong box just to be different? Well, I did! Accounts receivable are all part of the deal. Give the amount of your accounts receivable at the end of the reporting period. Not at the end of your trading year...just "the reporting period". "Exclude trade paper sold" What the devil is trade paper? I suspect it means negotiable agreements for sale but I spend too much time away from the bit cities. I can't exclude it because I don't know what it is! It all starts off badly. This report should cover the operations of the business identified above, including the operations of the locations owned by the business. You don't say! Hold everything! "This natural division" includes everything...What is a natural division? Who knows? Only one thing left for Statistics Canada. Next year they'd better bring out a set of explanations of the set of explanations of the sets of questions already published. Pity the poor public!

What was wrong with that fellow Saturday? Mauled by Lions the day before, I guess!

Ray Simard has less hair on top than he had 20 years ago. He was recalling, the other day, when his youthful off-spring clambered behind him on the chesterfield and triumphantly announced, "I've discovered your head!" He could afford to laugh. He's never lost it yet!

Stamp out The Bug, says the poster everywhere. I don't feel that badly about them...but, then, I never drove one!

opment could proceed using Section 794 A of the Municipal Act as a means of avoiding Regional regulations," stated McCrimmon, "nor did we ever state that we proposed to use the Land Use Contract to avoid regulations. We did suggest that, to enable a start to be made in 1972, we would consider such a contract application as a means of applying for approval of plans on two areas of approximately 30 acres in total. "We must observe the same regulations as any other developer. Before any development commences, plans must be approved by the Regional Board. We never have had any intention of developing any land except on the basis of this approval, and all our representations have stated this," said McCrimmon.

"It is an integral part of our plans that development will meld with existing or other potential Island development, that a reasonable land use density ratio be maintained, and our aim is to maintain natural conditions," said McCrimmon.

Pensioners Prefer Local Site

BY ISLAND OUTLET

On Thursday, April 27, the general meeting of O.A.P.O. Branch 32, opened with "O Canada", and the Motto.

President R. D. Griffin welcomed members from the Fulford area, who had previously been unable to attend because of transportation lack. He reminded them that mini-bus service is on a trial basis. A full load must be maintained for every meeting to insure a permanent charter.

Minutes of previous local and provincial meetings were read and adopted after which secretary-treasurer Mrs. Elsie Thacker asked for volunteers to attend a meeting to be held outside the Legislative Buildings in Victoria, on May 10 at 1 pm. All Vancouver Island branches and Branch 32, are sending representatives to discuss the needs and problems of Old Age Pensioners with Cabinet Ministers and government officials or candidates.

An open forum discussion now would be timely and could bring action. Several members volunteered but more would be welcomed.

Anyone wishing to be included, please contact Mrs. Thacker. Note: this is also the date for our Open House. President will announce further plans later. Notice will be in DRIFTWOOD.

Mrs. Edith Barber read her report of the Island Council meeting.

Due to Mrs. Griffin's absence her hospital report was read by the president.

A vote was taken regarding the Annual Parkville Picnic versus a local site. Majority preferred the local one, as many find the long drive to and from Parkville very tiring. Two local outings were proposed; one in July, the other in August. Announcements will be made later.

President adjourned for the sing-a-long with F. Bostock at the piano.

Refreshments were then served by tea convener Mrs. S. Kit-chener and her able aides.

YOUNG BOWLERS ARE LINED UP FOR CHALLENGE

Challenge Before Leaving

When Jeffrey Williams was facing departure from Salt Spring Island for Victoria he met a challenge. The grade three student leaves shortly with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams, of Baker Road. On Friday he called up two teams to bowl against Miss Marg Johnston. Miss Johnston offered to bowl against any two teams he could produce. First team member was his teacher, Mrs. Smith, who later disqualified herself as prize-winner. Play-offs were at Leisure Lanes after school. Winning players were Neil Anderson, Paul Albhouse and Cathy Bryer. Others taking part were John Willad-sen, Ian Menzies, Jimmy Hor-el, Calo Legg and Jeffrey Williams.

VOTE SATURDAY AND VOTE YES!

Graduates of Salt Spring Elementary School are among the younger grandparents of the island. Not all are in that category. Some are young parents and some are yet students. Nevertheless, the third generation of islanders is now studying at the elementary school.

Nothing's changed. At least, not a lot. There are some new desks and the books are different. Some new paint has been added. And that's about it.

A lot of people have lived happily in a 30-year-old house for a long time. But that is only when it was a first-class house to start. Otherwise they have been making up for the mistakes made when the house was built.

That's us!

Maybe there's too much of an English streak among islanders. "What was good enough for my grandfather was good enough for my father is good enough for me!"

Or is it?

There is no possible question but that the elementary school at Ganges is out of date, out of condition and in need of work. There is no alternative but to spend the money.

Salt Spring Island Elementary School needs renovation. Only the property owners of the islands can give it the needed work. On Saturday they can and they should.

Second referendum to be considered on Saturday asks for the same facilities for students on the islands as for students in other parts of the province. In the recent past there has been a movement away from university courses as so many university graduates are among the unemployed. The alternative is a training in technical or mechanical dexterity. The province has established vocational schools to offer a wide variety of subjects, but the student at an ill-equipped or unequipped high school cannot meet the standards. He must have some knowledge of tools and machines.

The vote on Saturday is aimed at giving him the chance.

Not even the off-island property owner can be smug about the referendum.

If he lives on the mainland and comes to the island at week ends or on irregular occasions he is dependent on the island students gaining the facilities they need.

The commuter needs services, transportation, fuel and a host of others. In emergency he needs a doctor and a hospital. All these services are offered by family men whose children are in school here. Without an adequate school there will be no services available and it won't be worth coming here at week ends.

There is only one logical, rational and selfless course. We must vote on Saturday and we must vote yes.

Letters To The Editor

PEILER PARK

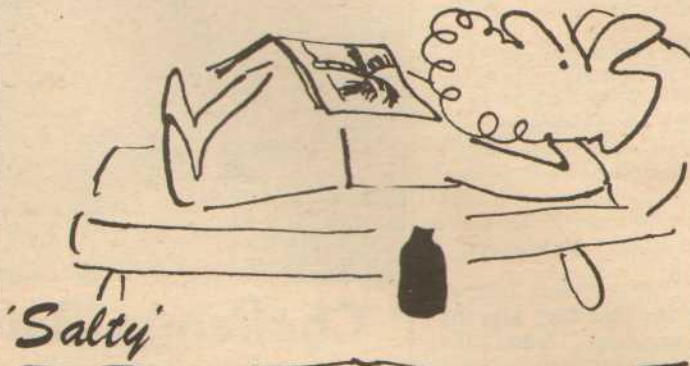

Editor, Driftwood,
The end has come for Col. (Moose) Peiler, as it must for all of us, but his memory could and should live on.

It was he who made Centennial park in Ganges although the work of Adrian Wolfe-Milner, Dorothy and Jack James, and several others, should not be overlooked. This park will, I hope, be the nucleus for the development of a far more beautiful Ganges. Already there are signs of this.

British Columbia has had four centennaries during the past 14 years and there must be hundreds of centennial parks, playgrounds, arenas, etc. I suggest that the park in Ganges be renamed Peiler Park. Col. Peiler's community service, aside from the park, would justify this.

The Chamber of Commerce was and is the legal entity for the land on which this park is situated. I respectfully suggest that the Chamber consider taking the necessary action in this matter.

IT HELPS OTHERS

Editor, Driftwood,
I do hope you will not mind my dropping you a line, since I often read Driftwood.

Regarding the correspondence S. Ingles started, I read something about libel in Harry Nichols' letter.

I have always understood that the Editor will not publish any letter which could be construed as libel?

I should say that Mr. Ingles wrote what he sincerely believed to be true and surely the truth can't hurt anyone?

If he is mistaken, then perhaps some equally honest person will endeavour to prove him wrong?

I would say to D.F. Thomas, I fail to see that Mr. Ingles' letter can only do "potential harm".

It seems to me that by airing his views honestly in the open then he can get other opinions which must surely benefit everyone.

DRAFT FAIR

Editor, Driftwood,
I am writing with regard to the proposed "Craft Fair" to be held in Centennial Park on May Day, Saturday, May 20.

This will be a day for all artists, craftsmen and musicians of all ages throughout the Gulf Islands to come, demonstrate and exhibit what they will.

The aim is to have cooking booths that will offer an alternative to hot dogs and Coca-Cola with good music and fine crafts.

Pass the word around and let's make it happen. Phone me at 537-2876 or come around to Wax Works with any ideas.

LET'S FACE THE FACTS!

Editor, Driftwood,
Please allow me to answer Mr. Wills' letter, "Count your blessings".

All one has to do is compare Duncan prices with our local prices. When I am able to go to Duncan, Mr. Wills, I save enough to pay my expenses both ways, also enough left to buy $1.75 lunch. On meat I save $2 sometimes more, depending what meat I am buying. I save on sausage meat, dog food and many other items. Of course, I must admit there are some things cheaper in Ganges. So please, let's face the facts. In regards to drug store I do not know whether the same service can be obtained in Duncan as here. The good Lord so far has blessed me with good health, but I do know this, I can obtain 200 aspirin in Duncan for 1.29. I don't seem to be able to pick them up here at that price.

Once again, let's face facts and let's stop praising our storekeepers as though they were God. My God has no stores. Sure they work hard, but so do many of our citizens. The men who look after our lights, the men who keep our roads in shape, our firemen, etc. all work hard. No, I don't dislike our storekeepers. The one I deal at is a gentleman in every respect and his staff cannot be spoken of too highly. In fact they should be getting twice the pay they are paid. I just simply do not think our storekeepers are God, as you have try to paint them. They work no harder than most of our citizens. They enjoy life here and are in business for one thing to make money, the same as the rest of us. True their week-

CHOIR IS RARE TREAT

BY PHILIP SAWFORD...
organist, St. Peter's Church, Quamichan.

A rare musical treat was enjoyed by many of the people of Salt Spring Island when the choir of St. Catherine's Anglican Church, North Vancouver, performed in St. George's Anglican Church, Ganges, on Sunday, April 30. They sang at the 11 a.m. "Service of Morning Praise", and in the afternoon rendered a concert of "The Music of the Church's Year."

This small group of singers ably demonstrated the truism that quality overshadows quantity, for there were only 12 in the choir, who were able to make the week end visit.

Under the capable direction of their organist and choirmaster, Peter W. Chappell, the choir sang with real purity of tone and with excellent diction, and without any of that annoying vibrato which is ruinous to so many choirs.

The writer had the privilege of hearing the afternoon performance, and, while space does not allow details of all the selections, particular reference must be made to "There is no Rose of such virtue", Joubert, duet and choir with the duet part being taken by Moira Hind-Smith and Judith Chappell, where purity of tone and true pitch were clearly shown.

William Croft's "God is gone up with a merry noise" was excellently sung, and the concluding number, "As now the sun's declining rays," based on the hymn tune St. Columba, was a choral treat.

Unquestionably St. Catherine's young organist and choirmaster, Peter W. Chappell, knows what he is doing, and should go places in the musical world.

Credit must be given to Ven. Dr. R.B. Horsefield, rector of Salt Spring Parish and organist and choirmaster Norman W. Hind-Smith for bringing this excellent group of singers to the island.

ly wages may not be as high as some of us take home, but no one holding a gun at their head or forcing them in any way to stay in business. I believe we are living on a Island, where freedom of speech is their most honour treasure. So let's face facts, and let's say all the nice things to all the people living on Salt Spring Island and elsewhere.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, I take it Mr. Wills don't think you work very hard. Perhaps he will exchange places with you for a day or two.

ZONED

There is nothing to the forest licenses, according to a provincial government spokesman.

DRIFTWOOD asked for guidance on the property which has hitherto been under one type or another of forest management programs. It had been mooted that the forestry company property in the islands would be immune from local planning restrictions and regulations because forestry land could not be zoned.

By the time a property is used for residential development it is no longer considered forestry land and is therefore no longer protected from local ordinances, he stated.

OUTER ISLANDS PLANNING PATTERN

Gulf Islands were at odds last week when Outer Islands Director of the Capital Regional District J. M. Campbell tied his banner to a community plan, while Salt Spring Island Director Marc Holmes looked to a local plan.

Community plan is more binding, explained Mr. Campbell, and cannot be changed without sanction of the residents.

When the regional board came to adopt a planning committee resolution it met with sharp response.

Policy be adopted of the enactment of official community plans which are in conformity with a regional plan and have a consensus of support in each community, proposed Campbell.

"But this shall not be mandatory," countered Holmes in an amendment. He meant that the community would not be required to have the plan, added the Salt Spring Island director.

The community plan proposal gained approval and each area may ask for such an official plan.

WHAT DID HE SAY ... OR MEAN?

When the Capital Regional District last week considered an application to operate a gravel pit in the district a letter was received from Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell regarding the proposal.

The minister's appearance in the matter was criticized by Chairman Hugh Curtis. His entry into the matter was premature and poorly conceived, asserted the chairman.

The letter from the municipal affairs minister was problem

Death of Judge Peiler at Lady Minto

With the death of Col. Maurice F. ("Moose") Peiler, OBE, ED, Mentioned-in-Despatches, a long military career and a short judicial service came to an end. Col. Peiler had distinguished himself in both areas.

Since his retirement to Salt Spring Island in 1961, Col. Peiler had served as magistrate, provincial judge and coroner.

He passed away in Lady Minto Hospital on Wednesday, April 28.

He was born in Montreal, Quebec, January 4, 1897. His education was interrupted by World War One, when he served in Victoria Rifles of Canada. He later transferred to the Royal Flying Corps. He was shot down while flying as pilot and was taken prisoner.

After the First World War, he lived and worked in Montreal. He took a very active part in the militia and served in the Canadian Grenadier Guards. He took that regiment overseas as commanding officer in the Second World War.

His distinguished service during World War Two gained him the award of Officer of the British Empire and a mention-in-Despatches.

He returned to civilian life in Montreal after the war. He was in his native city until he

LIKE MOTHER ...

LIKE SON

Like father...like son. And son Michael has produced a small book of verse. Son is Michael Coleman and the like-father is actually Mother, Mary Garland Coleman.

Mrs. Coleman has been writing verse for many years. Her work has been acclaimed and rewarded. She is a regular contributor to DRIFTWOOD.

Michael Coleman's is small and brief and many of its listings have already appeared from time to time in different publications.

It is very readable and Mum's influence is discernible. I think.

Ivory and Coloured Glass, by Michael Coleman is quite small quite quickly read but appealing and in the modern manner. - F.G.R.

THREE FACE CHARGES OF DAMAGE

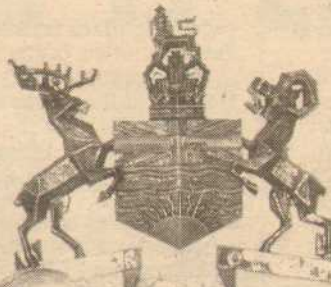

One adult and two juveniles are facing charges of wilful damage following the wrecking of St. Mary's Anglican Church at Fulford last week.

Adult is Gerald Lesley Leeper, of Salt Spring Island.

Case is coming up Wednesday afternoon.

No. 1.

After five attempts had been made to interpret the minister's directions it was agreed to appoint a delegation to attend upon Mr. Campbell and find out what his letter meant.

was transferred to Hamilton, Ont. In 1961 he retired and the following year he moved to Salt Spring Island.

Shortly after settling on the island, he was appointed Magistrate and later named a provincial judge, an appointment he held until last January.

Although he took an active interest in many community affairs, Col. Peiler was best known in his capacity of judge.

In community affairs, his greatest contribution was to the Centennial park at Ganges. In the planning from its first stages, he stayed with it until the park was opened by the then Lieutenant-Governor, Maj.-Gen. G.R. Pearkes, VC. After its opening in 1967, he became chairman of the Centennial Park Society.

An ardent sailor, Col. Peiler had been a member for many years of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. He was also a keen fisherman, a bridge player of repute and an amateur photographer.

He leaves his wife, Marnie, his partner for the past 44 years. Funeral services were held in St. George's Church, Ganges on Thursday, April 28. Cremation followed. Donations were invited to the Heart Fund in lieu of flowers.

NATIVE NEWS

WHEN INDIAN WAS FOREIGN

Regular monthly meeting of the Evening Branch Anglican Church Women was held at the Rectory on Tuesday, April 25. Archdeacon and Mrs. R.B. Horsefield welcomed eleven members.

President, Alice Coels, opened the meeting with prayers and a Bible reading.

Treasurer's report was read by Pat Horrocks.

No Dorcas report was made by Kaye Magee but Phyllis Newman delivered items of knitwear she had completed.

Prayer Partner report was made by Ivy Piperno. New Prayer Partner is 19-year-old Vicky Lambe from Calgary. She is the youngest A.C.W. secretary and a very active, busy young lady.

General discussion followed regarding plans for the Garden Fete and other business.

Education secretary, Dr. Horsefield then gave a brief report on the first radio broadcast in the Cree language, from station CFAR. One news program was T.P. Tidings, with items of general interest. The second was T.P. Chit-chat with local and family news. The Security Department in Annual meeting of the B. C. Historical Association, Gulf Islands Branch, heard a Guidance Counsellor of the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development prior to the election of officers.

Some 20 members of the outer Gulf Islands met in Saturna Hall, Tuesday, April 18 for the meeting. Officers for the Ottawa stopped them, because broadcasts in a, quote, "Foreign" language was forbidden.

Phyllis moved adjournment. Dr. Horsefield closed meeting with prayers. Refreshments were then served.

BY MARY BACKLUND

We were so pleased to see Bruce Good over for a few days to visit his sisters and their husbands, the Ross Parminters and the Les Robinsons. Bruce looks the picture of health, and tells us, after spending a couple of years at Courtenay, he is now moving to Esperanza Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island. He will work at a missionary hospital there, and says that there is enough work for ten carpenters for ten years, but he will only work for a few hours a day. After spending so many, many years being so very ill, it is such a pleasure to see him in such "good health".

We hear that Chester Williams is back home on Galiano, after extensive surgery on his back; hope he is feeling much better.

Arthur Price is now home from hospital at Ganges.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart returned recently from a trip to Kamloops, where they visited their son and family.

The writer spent several days last week as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bamford, in Vancouver. This week, she will drive to Parksville as chairman and Regional Director of Media Club of Canada, for that meeting, then across to Vancouver again to attend a meeting of the Vancouver Branch. Guest speaker is Joyce Gilfillian, national president of Media Club.

Several dates to remember.. Galiano Ladies Service Club will hold sixth Birthday party in Galiano Hall on Tuesday, May 9. President Lou Miley extends a warm invitation to all present and former members and their friends to attend.

Galiano Club will hold its annual Auction Sale in the hall on Saturday, May 20, at 8 p.m. Donations of good used furniture, fixtures, equipment and large and small household furniture are welcome. Ladies are asked to bring a cake or an item of home baking, as this is one of the highlights of the auction.

On Friday, May 5, the Salt Spring Island secondary school band will come to Galiano school and give us a concert. If the weather is fine, it will be in the school grounds, otherwise, at the Galiano Hall. Bandmaster Maj. John Dought will be conducting.

Roads are much narrower on Galiano these days, because of the necessary piles of gravel along one side. This is in preparation for the blacktopping from Montague Harbour to Sturdies Bay, and the North End Road. Men are working hard to get it done, and if the weather co-operates, it should soon be over. Let us all use great caution, and be pleased that soon we will have a paved road all the way to the north end.

Gary Lupton drove from Kamloops recently to visit his mother Mrs. Dorothy Lupton.

Coming year were named as follows: president, Donald New, Galiano; vice-president, Rev. John Dangerfield, Saturna; secretary, Mrs. Clare McAllister, Galiano; Program director, Mrs. J. Campbell, Saturna; counsellors for Galiano, Mrs. Donald New; for Mayne, Mrs. J. Brown; for North Pender, Mrs. C. Claxton; for Saturna, John Saunders; for South Pender, Mrs. Gertrude Bennett.

The meeting accepted with regret the resignation from the duties of treasurer, of Captain C. Claxton of North Pender, necessitated by recent illness. Captain Claxton has for many years kept in order the financial affairs of the organization, including records of the sale of "Island Patchwork" and the branch's funding of a native Indian bursary. The president undertook to secure a member to replace Capt. Claxton in these duties.

The speaker was Miss Mildred Mallory, Guidance Counsellor of the Fraser District of the federal department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, who travelled from Vancouver for the occasion. Miss Mallory holds both a teaching certificate and a social work certificate and explained that she is one of two native Indian counsellors employed by the department. She gave a very clear picture of the stresses on children, coming from small and isolated reserves to foster homes secured by the department in B.C. cities, in order that they may have access to the higher grades and to high school and other specialized education.

Counsellors in the south act as liaison with those knowing the children's homes in the north; as contact between the foster home receiving the child in the city and the school the child attends. Counsellors at present may have to pave the way for and share in the problems and successes of as many as 70 or 80 children.

Miss Mallory was generous in answering questions from the very interested audience. It was learned that foster parents sign an agreement and are paid for board and room and other expenses. Ties with the student's parents are preserved.

UBC Indian Education Resource Centre provides valuable information. At present only 23 persons are members of the B. C. Native Teachers Association. Some 14 native Indians hold degrees.

Miss Mallory spoke warmly of the encouragement given to young native people through the three bursaries provided by the Branch last year. All the recipients are doing well in schooling. One boy is moving into a leadership role in soccer; a girl is proceeding towards social work course, now in Saskatchewan; a boy is in Vancouver City College, taking technical radio work.

The warm thanks of the meeting were presented to the speaker. Tea was served before members embarked on the Mayne Queen. Miss Mallory was given a bunch of island daffodils and spring greenery.

A number of members plan to attend the provincial annual meeting in Port Alberni May 25, 26, 27.

FLOWER ARRANGING IS DISCUSSED AT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On April 6 the Pender Institute held its general meeting which took the form of a demonstration of flower arranging by Mrs. Kempster of Royal Oak.

Three members reported having attended the Regional Annual meeting at Sooke.

LIONS AND SCOTTY GEORGESON

BY MARY BACKLUND

Lions Club at Mayne Island are a happy bunch. They laugh a lot, taking their fines from the Taitwister with good-natured acceptance.

When I was invited to be the guest speaker at their dinner, I was especially pleased; I have the greatest admiration for everything that the Lions do.

Our happy telephone man, Harry Lane, made the arrangements. I would go over with Bob Sauerberg, and stay the night with my niece and nephew Sylvia and Charlie Head.

Going into the newly-renovated Mayne Inn was a delight, and I was sorry that the owners were not present.

For some reason or other, all of the Lions were fined by the Taitwister, for being a minute late, or something. Fines were only ten cents, and one of them had to pay his fine for not having on his button.

Roast beef is my favorite dish and it was done to perfection. The meal and the company were most pleasing.

Gordon Ducklow introduced me, and where on earth he got all the information, I cannot tell.

Knowing that there would be several in the audience who would know, I chose for my subject the first lighthousekeeper on Mayne Island. By coincidence, he was my great-grandfather, Henry "Scotty" Georgeson.

It was quite easy to tell, with pride that is hard to hide, about the man who came from the Shetland Islands, went to the 1858 goldrush, and served some time at Sandheads light, before spending 39 years at Mayne Island.

The first light that was turned on at Active Pass lightstation was on June 10, 1885, and this was verified by a little diary I have that was kept by Scotty. It is now one of my treasured possessions.

Love of the sea was strong in this family. One of Scotty's sons, when he grew up and married, had 10 children. Of the 10, one was lost at sea at an early age, two grew up to be British Columbia pilots. One was a sea captain; one went to sea for the love of it, and another son, even though he stayed at home, built and repaired boats. One daughter managed also to have her second daughter born at sea, too. (That was me!)

Although Scotty died in 1927,

Report On Wind Damage

When a near-hurricane struck Salt Spring Island at the end of February two houses were torn apart.

At a recent meeting of the Salt Spring Island Community Planning Association, Director Marc Holmes reported that the Capital Regional District had investigated both.

In the case of the Panabode at the north end of St. Mary Lake, it had been mooted that the large picture window blew out under the exceptional pressure of the high wind and that the wind then ballooned the structure, blowing it apart.

In the case of the smaller house, Director Holmes reported that the building inspector had not approved the construction and had pressed the contractor for correction of evident

SLEEPING BEAUTY IS REFRESHING DELIGHT AT SCHOOL CONCERT

BY LILLIAN HORSDAL

The Sleeping Beauty is a refreshing delight: which is what it was when presented by the students of the elementary school as a pantomime. It was written by the pupils with Mrs. Wright's help.

It isn't possible to name each member of the enormous cast and still leave room for the tide table. Every one of them did their utmost to make it the success it was - a rollicking success. At one point the lights all went out but the play went on, so intent were they on what they were doing.

At Princess Aurora's christening the good fairies really seemed to be instilling those enchanting graces into the royal child. When the bad fairy came roaring in, drawn by the galloping rodents in her Ben-Hur-like chariot she certainly added spice to the fairy tale.

The three nannies were so studiously awkward you could imagine them carrying out their duties just as they sang about them. The dancers added much to the original story and all the costumes were a credit to the designers and the stitchers.

How lucky these pupils are to have such an enthusiastic and able director as Mrs. Irene Wright. She obviously enjoys guiding them and yet follows their lead - an outstanding accomplishment.

When the prince was rowing to rescue the sleeping princess the film strip was so cleverly arranged it created the illusion of movement of the boat.

Their Majesties were as dignified as their roles permitted while the princess had just the right amount of humor. Entertainers at the parties were having fun as were the representatives of the nursery rhymes and this added to the enjoyment of all.

Maj. John Dought is to be congratulated on his conducting of the school band - the pride of our island.

The march which he composed especially for this musical is so rousing we may one day hear it played for other processions across the country. The other music composed by our other talented residents helped to make it all harmonious.

Sorry, I can't think of one adverse criticism! Congratulations to you all - students, staff, technicians and friends for an excellent performance.

congregation had decided to leave the church open.

deviations from the building code.

Mr. Holmes brushed aside an earlier report that the building inspector had closed his eyes to several deviations from the building code. The inspector had been pressing for their correction, he assured the association.

Denis Howard, Ganges, told police he fell asleep at the wheel early on Saturday on Cranberry Road. His car hit a rock and sustained damage estimated at $1,000.

CHURCH IS LEFT IN DEPLORABLE CONDITION

Desecrated, befouled and wrecked, the interior of St. Mary's Anglican Church at Fulford last week was in a sad state.

Phonograph records had been carefully broken and the costumes used by the children's choir in its presentation of Joseph had been thrown on top of the untidy mess.

Photograph of the Sunday School teachers in 1953 had been smashed and the picture impaled on an ornament. Broken glass was all over the altar steps and the organ light had been torn apart.

Church appeared to have been the scene of throwing everything loose in the building.

Cupboards in the vestry were ransacked and vestments and other church linen had been trampled on the floor. A lewd sketch was drawn on the vestry wall and captioned "Praise the Lord".

Damage was first discovered on Tuesday evening when Mrs. A.D. Dane went to the church for a check on the pews. She found the Sunday school room light on and as she opened the door she called "What's going on in here?" She soon found out.

She hurriedly closed the door and ran for help. When she returned with Alan Horrocks the front door of the church had been locked.

Mrs. Dane explained that it was only on Sunday that the Poor Season Brings Good Flowers

The Pender Island Women's Institute Flower Show as held in the Community Hall on Saturday, April 22.

Although the weather had been so cold there was a wonderful display of narcissus, tulips and wallflowers.

This year some of the usual flowers were missing, lilac and iris, for instance, but there was keen competition in all other entries. There were 185 entries, shown by 25 adults and 15 children.

The judge, Mrs. Kempster of Royal Oak, congratulated the exhibitors on the quality of their blooms, remarking that she had not noted even in the larger shows she had attended, some of the flowers which she had seen in this show.

She also congratulated the children on the excellence of their entries.

The Any Other Variety class brought forth a large response, many of the exhibits being quite unusual.

The May Baskets and Wall containers gained praise from many visitors.

As usual the unusual arrangements and the amusing arrangements were the centre of attention.

Although no individual prizes are given in the adult section, the exhibitors having the

W. Randle Iredale, Vancouver and Mayne Island architect, set out his views on the Islands in a recent brief to the Capital Regional District. Mr. Iredale sent a copy to DRIFTWOOD. It is published below:

Thank you for your publication on the Gulf Island options and the opportunity to respond to the suggestions and policies outlined.

highest number of points receive a small monetary prize.

The three this year were: 1, Mrs. B. T. Kynaston; 2, N. Grimmer; 3, Mrs. V. Menzies.

The children received prizes for their entries. The following were the fortunate winners: Senior, mosses; 1, Cindy Grimmer; 2, Grant Kent and P. Wade; 3, Kim Spalding; honorable mention, David Sketch. Senior, arrangement in original container; 1, Karen Amies; 2, Brenda Russell; 3, Eileen Grimmer; honorable mention, David Sketch.

Junior, arrangement on pie plate; 1, Danielle Bellemare; 2, Renee Bellemare; 3, Jennifer Auchterlonie; peep show, 1, Susan Vasilev; 2, Karen Amies; 3, Nancy Richards.

During the show visitors met and enjoyed talking with their friends. Tea was served by the tea committee of the W.I. with the assistance of several of the older girls as waitresses, who did an excellent job. The tea served received many words of appreciation.

My particular concern, and area of detailed knowledge is Mayne Island. For the past 15 years, my family and I have been the owners of the north-eastern quarter of Section 11. This piece of land has 4,000 feet of waterfront at the head of Campbell Bay and contains over 108 acres. This is one of the large parcels of undivided waterfront on the island.

OPTION A:

I am of the opinion that "highways and bridges" with its implication of forced growth as a bedroom community and destruction of natural values of the islands is hardly worthy of consideration.

OPTION B:

Limited growth is a more satisfactory base from which to begin planning. However, limited growth per se is a negative concept which has failed in the proposal to lead towards a positive concept for the islands.

The pattern of land use shown in both Options B and C does not come to grips with the increasing sprawl and dissolution of the character and intrinsic values that gives Mayne Island its appeal.

Besides planning for the Gulf Islands as a whole, consideration should be given to the character of each individual island, each of which differs considerably from the other. Both summer and retirement living require community services and the creation of a sense of "place" and order which is not reflected

SLEEPING BEAUTY AND DANCES

On Wednesday and Thursday evening last week over 400 interested parents and friends saw a delightful musical pantomime of "Sleeping Beauty" performed by students of Salt Spring Elementary School.

Under the direction of Mrs. Irene Wright and many other staff members, over 60 children acted, danced and sang their way through an hour and a half performance. The 50-piece School Band under the direction of John Dought provided a large part of the musical accompaniment.

The children thoroughly enjoyed taking part in this type of endeavour and were assisted by several parents who provided props and materials and also assisted in making costumes.

Added to the enjoyment of the students was the appreciated applause given by the large audience both during and at the end of the performances.

in the proposed land use pattern. The location of the ferry terminal, shops, post office, hotels, and other commercial and community facilities has tended over the past years to disperse. I believe every effort should be made to counter this trend by creating a cohesive island focus.

In considering the overall development pattern of the island I believe that local indigenous endeavours should be encouraged. Operating farms, logging and sawmilling operations, pottery, fishing, educational institutions and research foundations should be zoned for and given every opportunity to locate on the island. These activities encourage a permanent population, and provide the basis for a stable community that gives the island its character. The summer residents and visitors wish to visit another real community, and not just a tour ist resort.

If we are to avoid the creation of an unstable seasonal tourist atmosphere, a key policy in developing the islands should be the preservation and growth of indigenous activities and a permanent population. This will require a recognizable village centre, and as much permanent non-visitor oriented employment as possible.

OPTION C:

'Major Parks' is in conflict with this concept.

In line with the policy of encouraging local employment and to develop a distinctive character for each island. Sewer, water and other municipal services, if consolidated, could also be administered from an island Town Hall. The planning, building inspection and other local functions could be located on the individual islands. Expertise or University training, which may not be available on the island, are far less important than local knowledge and direct contact with the residents. A small office staff provides these services for the University Endowment Lands at U.B.C. The same arrangement would work for Mayne Island.

The consolidation of sewer and water services is also a major problem for the island (in the proposed options no study has been made of these major items, the lack of knowledge of which makes it very difficult to evaluate the proposals). The failure to link the settlement areas shown in the development proposed in Option B leaves these engineering practicalities unresolved.

I am also concerned that the upland and lowland conservation zoning concept does not come to grips with the problem of effectively using the waterfront land of the gulf islands. While recognizing that past waterfront subdivision leaves much to be desired, the attempt to minimize use of these lands through 10-acre and other restrictions has not met the challenge of proposing more acceptable development patterns.

As essentially all the Mayne Island waterfront land, not already subdivided, has been indicated as "lowland conservation", further study of how this land can best serve the needs of the people is required. It is not credible that it should become the fenced reserve of those who can afford private use of ten acres of a very limited resource.

Your planners rightly consider recreation as one of the major values for these islands. However, the limiting of plots to 10 acres will hardly accommodate the recreation needs of very many people.

These 10 acre estates also necessitate costly caretaking arrangements as per experience with vandalism by transient persons has proven. Large isolated waterfront properties are a risk and source of problems to the whole island. The volunteer fire department can attest to this in their annual summer struggle to control campfire which could well become major forest fires. I would suggest that the proper use of the beautiful shores of the Gulf Islands is their enjoyment by the maximum number of people that can be sustained on the land without impairing its natural amenities. We cannot agree

HE HEARS TOO MUCH OF ISLANDS

Some signs of a rift in the Capital Regional Board showed up on Wednesday last week when a Vancouver Island electoral area director stated he was hearing too much of the islands.

He was getting tired of hearing of zoning on the outer islands, he told the board. It was time the western sector received some attention, he demanded.

Chairman Marc Holmes agreed that every member would be delighted to reach the end of the planning and zoning problems on the islands.

The board, sitting as a committee, pursued the matter of islands planning.

ress with the statement from the report "conservation areas are those in which the development has to be kept to a minimum if the future interests of wildlife, watershed, scenic protection or recreation are to be safeguarded." Regulations to protect these values must apply to all waterfront lands equally. There is no logic in the unsubdivided land being asked to provide watershed, wildlife, or scenic conservation while being subjected to water or scenic pollution from subdivided neighbours.

In the case of my own property, I request the same zoning as the remainder of the shores of Mayne Island, whether currently subdivided or unsubdivided, unless some unique feature justifies the "conservation" zoning. The shoreline zoning should contain provisions for the preservation of the wildlife watershed and scenic values and apply to all shoreline lands. The proposed regulations should be based on an imaginative and thorough planning study of possible shoreline land development patterns considering techniques used in other parts of the world such as common ownership of the land, condominium and comprehensive development, so as to be available to a fairly large number of persons but still with the minimum of disturbance of the natural environment.

I hope that these suggestions are of value in formulating the planning policies of the Gulf Islands.

Yours very truly,
W. Randle Iredale.

Breathes There An Islander So Hail

* * * * *

That's why everyone knows the Ramsey Brothers

By Lillian Horsdal

Breathes there an islander with health so fine, he hasn't yet needed to visit the Ganges Pharmacy?

At some time or another we have all beaten a track to its door for a beauty aid, a digestive pill or plastic panties for the young islanders.

Yet it is friendlier than pharmacies in other parts of the country. Neither is it so large you need a road map to find what you happen to be looking for.

The Ramsey brothers come from quite a pharmacist-slanted family. At one time there were more--one father, two uncles and the two we know.

Keith joined the firm in 1970 after he'd spent an extra year at U.B.C.

You see, the Ramseys are from Saskatchewan, a town-called Kerrobert. Les came here in 1963. Formerly he'd travelled for a pharmaceutical company and used to sell to Mrs. Margaret Wells who owned the drugstore at that time.

On one of his visits to see what Mrs. Wells, pharmacist, needed, he asked if she would consider selling to him. It was a cold November day and she answered levelly and honestly, "You're the only one I'd sell to."

He had hoped to sort of retire--working only part-time. This is not so extraordinary now as it would have been ten years earlier. So many men retire early and enjoy a relaxed life, now. Les Ramsey likes a one-drugstore place. He can provide whatever is needed and he knows all his customers.

While he was in the navy and stationed at Bedford Harbour, he had liked this part of the world, so his reason for living here is more than single-minded.

Les and his wife, Sue, a graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, have one son and three daughters. The girls are interested in dramatics and music and Peter, as most of us know, is a young and talented artist.

Mrs. Ramsey, while still in training, hitch-hiked to Salt Spring via the Cy Peck. She liked it here too. This is really rather rare. Some of the wives are not enthused about living here whereas the majority of husbands are very keen. When they were first here they lived over and behind the store.

I asked Les why he'd decided on pharmacy and he quoted another student's opinion, "I'll take medicine but if I'm not smart enough I'll take pharmacy." So he was smart enough to take pharmacy.

The Ramseys, Les and Sue, have a charming home on the sea. They planned it and did some of the drawing. Larry Cruikshank drew the outside plan and from the two drawings the builder accomplished the home they had wanted. A few years ago if anyone had told Les he'd be living on the sea he wouldn't have believed it.

He didn't think it would have

TRAGEDY HITS FEDERAL PROJECT

Tragedy stalked one of Salt Spring Island's federal aid programs.

Mrs. Tanya Krisman was killed on her way to Salt Spring Island last week, when she was involved in a traffic accident.

Mrs. Krisman has been the driving force behind the YWCA project at Beaver Point.

been possible, but here they are.

They are the sort of family who become involved in things, especially the things that are good for the community.

Les is a member of the Lions Club and after being vice president of the Chamber of Commerce for four years he was president. They are both staunch supporters of the United Church.

Both enjoy playing golf in season and skiing in winter. All year long, when the weather permits, they like walking.

All in all, the Ramseys, Les and Keith, Sue and Helen, and their families all like it here and they intend to stay.

Once again, we, the other islanders, are lucky as a result of their decision.

Unfortunately, though I had hoped this would be about both brothers, Keith, Helen and their family were away skiing at the time. But it is good to know we have two pharmacists instead of just one so they can both have the odd holiday now and then without endangering the populace.

Salt Spring Plan Is Looming

Planning came closer to Salt Spring Island on Monday evening.

After a vigorous cross-fire the Salt Spring Island Planning Association agreed to prepare a plan for submission to the people of the island and then to the Capital Regional Board.

Ray Hill opened the door when he stated that only a locally produced plan would have a chance of success.

"The 10-acre doldrums have gone on long enough," he told the meeting.

He called for the immediate draughting of a plan for Salt Spring Island.

"We are at the cross roads when we've got to start planning," agreed Jack Russell, "We've got to get on with it or be planned by Victoria."

There is no doubt that if the people of Salt Spring Island can come up with a reasonable proposal that is equitable and fair it will be acceptable to the Capital Regional District, agreed Director Marc Holmes.

The local plan could not be subject to a regional plan, observed Peter Thomson, because there is no regional plan.

Dr. David Lott stood by Option D.

"I understood we had found a plan," he commented.

Long debate ensued as to whether to draw up a plan and then call in the professional planners to iron it out or to invite a planner to the discussions to make sure that everything is workable.

"We spent a lot of time on Option D," recalled Jack Russell, "Are we throwing that out or are we starting from scratch?"

The association plans to plan without delay.

Mrs. Donna Winter asked whether a referendum could be held to decide the ultimate plan. The proposal met with cool response.

The voter would be asked to approve or reject a specific plan without any option of variation, it was explained.

The association looks to a series of meetings or public hearings where islanders can examine any plan and make their own recommendations.

BOB HENDERSON TAKES OVER

Bob Henderson, new facility director at X-Kalay at Vesuvius

SATURNA

BY PAPAJOHN

Well, let's start with some good news! Tantalizing Taimi Hindmarch, our school principal will have two assistants for the next three weeks. Ethereal Eve Van Leusden and roseate Rosemary Fryer, two teachers-to-be who, as part of their training, or apprenticeship, will try their hands at filling tantalizing Taimi's shoes. More about these ladies later and also how our good friend Bob Hindmarch is going to make out with three women in the house. Lucky guy?

Louisa Gal Money reports that the "ospreys" are back again this year and busy rebuilding their nest in its former spot. Birds "sow not, neither do they reap," but we wonder if these toilers know that we now have a Regional Board and that a building permit is now required.

Mellow Myrt Maskow had a very welcome visitor and old friend in the person of her bridesmaid when she was married (a couple of years ago), enchanting Edith Ford from Winnipeg. Mellow Myrt and Steve were so happy to see her that she stayed a day or so longer.

Our Gulf Islands Branch of the B.C. Historical Society had their annual meeting here last week. Our old friend Donald New is President; our favorite Padre Rev. J. Dangerfield is vice-president; comely Clair McAllister is Secretary. No treasurer was elected in Capt. Claxton's place. Miss G. Hayball gave a short and very interesting talk on historical writing and Miss Mallory, of the department of Indian Affairs, talked about the bursary that the society gives for adopting Indian children during school terms. As usual it was a friendly and entertaining get-together.

Ran out of red coloring so have been giving our hummingbirds green and now think we will put on some Irish records for them but will have to mix North and South music as we don't want them to become too aggressive.

Our fair ladies of the Women's Club put on a going-away tea for Morris and manifold Molly Littler who have sold their home here and are moving into Vancouver. They were presented with a beautiful table lamp and a lovely corgi. A cake, so light it had to be held down as it was cut, along with delectable sandwiches were provided. Most of the Littler's old Island friends were present and it was a lovely tea. Morris and Molly have lived here and been a part of our Island for a great many years; we will all miss them. Their going away makes us all feel that a part of the island is also going.

On Friday evening a card

is getting into the swing of things.

Mr. Henderson took over the island organization a few weeks ago. He assumed the reins from Peter Kagis, who has left the movement to take up an appointment with a national service.

Mr. Henderson came here from the organization's office in Vancouver.

How much is the Government's attack on teachers costing you?

In advertising space costs alone, the taxpayers of this Province have shelled out some $70,000 so far to sustain the Bennett government's attack on teachers.

What have you got for your money?

A barrage of half-truths and glib propaganda attempting to prove that education costs in general .. and teachers' salaries in particular ... are out of line.

What you're not being told is that education's share of the Provincial budget is actually decreasing ... that classrooms are desperately overcrowded ... that programs vital to a child's learning process are being cancelled or curtailed ... that the entire school system is being allowed to run down.

Teachers are taxpayers, too, and we resent this misuse of public funds. Even more, we resent being made the whipping boys for the government's ineptitude in tackling the crisis in education.

The real cost of this campaign isn't to be measured in dollars and cents. It has degraded education and discredited the teaching profession, and the losers are our children.

Has it been a wise investment?

Senior Explorers at Ganges United Church entertained their counterparts from the mainland on Saturday. Girls from Tsawwassen came over to Ganges on the noon ferry. They were met at Long Harbour and driven to Ganges for lunch in the United Church Hall. The 12 visitors were accompanied by their leaders as well as a youth leader from Victoria.

The exchange is a new project and the Salt Spring Explorers will go to the mainland on an exchange visit next month.

On Saturday night the visiting group spent at the old dormitory on Ganges Hill. On Saturday afternoon they were entertained to afternoon tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Toynbee.

She Didn't Blow Her Top

When Elfreda Hoffmann returned from a stay in Vancouver and saw the state of her beloved Boutique at North Pender she didn't blow her top or raise the roof. It had already been done for her.

The wild west wind that engulfed the Treasure Chest had flipped its lid. The 24' x 16' plastic roof that she and Art Chapman had installed had gone with the wind.

However, help hurried to the disaster area. Daphne Stevens and Ora Symes had snatched pictures to safety and given first aid where needed. Good neighbours Frank and Joyce Jones had covered the defenceless boutique with canvas. And now Miss Hoffmann is doing business at the old stand with new stock to beguile the browser. They include a jug, plate and vase by Zurich potter, Anna Zemp; from Jules Perrier, Toronto, copper enamel medallion on a thong; Belgian handnotes you just may hoard, if they're too good for your friends! There are Michelson carvings, by a Latvian who came to White Rock eight years ago. He's busy 12 to 14 hours a day, "creating sleek, and oft-times satirical mahogany sculptures" working on 50 or 60 at a time.

Design engineer for an Edmonton firm for 15 years; chief modeller for Royal Crown Derby in England and Commission for Abelene art college, Texas, he carves Hollywood awards figures. And for birdwatchers, a black walnut owl atop an argillite stump.

There are oils and watercolors by Elisabeth Margaret Hopkinds, Galiano, and Joyce Mitchell, Mayne. A Stevens watercolor of South Pender's Big Rock A commission, soon on its way to Cologne for Hans and Gustel Dohrenbusch, is a Symes watercolor, "Cabin No. 10" at Roeland, Otter Bay, where they stayed last summer.

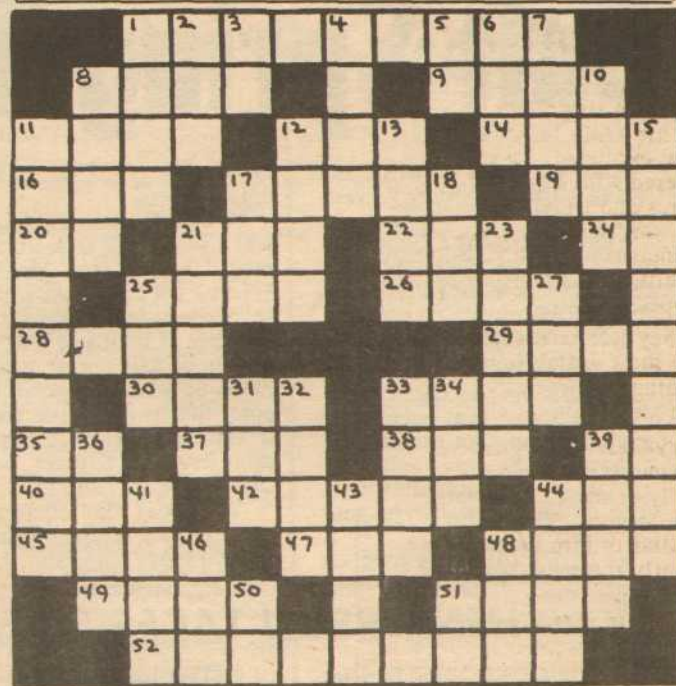

RUMMAGE SALE AND HAMPERS

Centre of attraction on Saturday morning was the Legion Hall in Ganges when the women of the Legion staged a rummage sale.

The keynote was the draw for two hampers.

First was won by Goody Goodman and the second went to J. Lloyd-Walters.

GRADE TWO VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

The interest of four boys in Mrs. Severn's Grade 2 class led to a visit by the class to the Firehall on Friday, April 28.

Todd Parsey, Glen Sollitt, Victor Piperno and Brian Burke had written to Mr. Smith and enquired about the duties of a fireman. Fire Chief Smith's reply was that they must be 18 years of age, but that did not dampen their enthusiasm.

Following Brian's compass N by N.E., the children walked to the firehall where Mr. Smith and his firemen, Mr. Wagg and Mr. McPhee gave an interesting look, hear, taste and

CRITICAL OF LOADS ON HIGHWAYS

Trucks dumping part of their loads on the street were under fire on Monday evening.

Ed Chew told his fellow directors of the Salt Spring Island Planning Association that at the week end so much gravel was spilled on Ganges streets that a backhoe was required to scoop it up.

He urged that trucks be limited to reasonable loads and that ordinances controlling the dropping of gravel or other loads on the road be enforced.

touch tour of the firehall and trucks and the responsibilities of the firemen.

Leona Irwin could have been "Mighty Mouse" in her father's boots. Questions were asked about gauges, pumps, oxygen masks, hoses, axes, nozzles and ladders.

Passers-by were wary when a jet of water spouted from the truck, the hose held gingerly by a volunteer.

The highlight of the visit was a demonstration of extinguishing an oil fire. The children were amazed at the length of time it took to put the fire out with the use of a spray nozzle.

A second demonstration of a foam spray brought forth more excitement, spontaneous clapping and general delight. It was a worthwhile trip - the mini-training period was well planned by Fire Chief Smith, Mr. Wagg and Mr. McPhee.

The visit has caused many stories, drawings, conversations and letters this week. All the children would like to have a return visit. Todd, Glen and Victor will wait their 11 years to volunteer, but Brian really wants to be a policeman!

LADIES SOFTBALL REGISTRATION SOON

Registration for Ladies Softball will be held on Monday, May 8 at 7 pm at the school grounds.

All ladies and girls, 14 and over, are welcome to come out and play softball on a recreational level. Games will be played among the ladies themselves and against the grandfathers who always provide some excellent competition.

Registration fee for the season will be $3. Games and practices will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

A FILM AND A MESSAGE

One boy had been emasculated by a stray bullet. Another had his hands blown off when a mine exploded. Many were covered with sores left by phosphorus and napalm bombs. A few were suffering diseases of malnutrition or other fringe benefits of a war that has never stopped.

They were incidents in the film show presented on Tuesday evening last week by Dr. Norman Merkeley, of Ganges.

Dr. Merkeley, sponsored by Continuing Education, spoke briefly of the Children's Hospital at Saigon. The hospital is familiar to him because he has recently returned from Saigon after joining the Saigon staff engaged in plastic surgery.

The films were made by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and showed the hospital and the victims.

Children without limbs and children splashed with their own blood; it had been charged that such a film should not be shown he admitted, but he did not accept it.

About 30 or 40 people watched through the films and contributed to a spontaneous collection afterwards for funds for the hospital.

Merkeley is at all times eager to engage people's interest in helping the sick and the ailing who are without medical attention. He shrugs off his own contribution.

Since he retired from practice in Winnipeg, he has travelled all over the world offering his specialty of plastic surgery to people and communities who otherwise would never have a hope of treatment.

The two CBC films and the island doctor's contribution to the infant victims of the war in Vietnam are a reminder of its reality.

Until the warring factions can reach agreement these children will suffer. -FGR.

PENDER PLAYERS' PLAY

BY CULTUS COULEE
Pender Players packed the Gerry Stevens' place at Otter Bay, Thursday April 20.

Jessie Cornaby provided "The Lady Who Ate an Oyster" by Mary Cunningham. As a one-woman Greek chorus in a cafe, Gertrude Bennett provided the laffs, querulously, constantly calling for catsup.

The leads in "The Open Window" by W. H. Munro, ("Saki"), were hostess Daphne Stevens and Alex Gray, in their usual form.

President Olive Auchterlonie invited all to The Glade for a players' party, May 18.

Other actors and audience were Maude Adams Baird, Jack and Flo Bridge, Capt. Cecil Claxton and Helen Claxton, John Copley, Nep and Dorothy Grimmer, Douglas and Betty Harker, Frank Plunkett and Connie Swartz.

FERNWOOD

BY JESSIE SAYER

A welcome addition to the district are Ron and Connie Cunningham, who are the new owners of Fernwood store, formerly De Long's.

The neighbors wish them every success. Ron and Connie lived on May Island for several years.

Also newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe, formerly of New Westminster who have built a new home on Fernwood hill.

A proud young celebrity in our midst is Michael Cannon who won four out of five sabot races at Shawnigan Lake recently. He was presented with the overall trophy.

party was held in the hall. As no crib players turned out it was a bridge do. Louisa Gal Money and Bill Lawson won the first prizes and two of our better players, mellow Myrt Maskow and Rev. Jack Dangerfield won the booby prizes. Must remind all the poker boys that they better watch out for Bill as his luck is in. Louisa Gal says it's not luck at all but skill. At any rate everyone enjoyed the cats and had a pleasant evening.

Ron and lavish Lucille Broten fixed up their trailer and went to pick up some friends in Everett, Wash. and then head north but instead spent a couple of weeks visiting their family around Everett.

Jack and delightful Devina Vincent had won a 36-cup coffee percolator but as they don't drink that much coffee at a time they have donated it to our community hall where it will be well used and appreciated.

Jim Money has unbounded faith and patience with "kids" but we wonder this time. He has a group of youngsters up at the Fire Hall, red, red paint, etc., and he hopes to have them paint the Fire Hall doors. You can't discourage Jim so maybe the store better get in a couple of gallons of turps and a lot of rags. At any rate it will be the most (enthusiastically) painted Fire Hall doors in the Gulf Islands.

Well, the parents involved or about to be involved in their

PAINTERS WERE ON THEIR OWN

BY CULTUS COULEE

On Thursday, April 20, decorum took over at Port Wash Hall when Painters-on-their-own came under the baton, or crayon, of Professor Geo Glyde. His instant blackboard sketches are a hallmark and a wonderment, wherever he teaches. It is the fourth year that Pender has had the benefit of instruction from this top Canadian artist.

Unfriendly weather caused the students to paint the outside from the inside. Setting up easels at the high windows were Lil Bradshaw, Brenda Dixon, Margaret Georgeson Grimmer, Meta Hall, Albertine Haslam, Dot King, Ted Morrison, Daphne Stevens, Ora Symes and Connie Swartz.

March 29, John Copley, in jaunty beret, was an ideal sitter for Painters on their Own, and many good studies were done in oil, watercolour and pencil.

Mrs. Evelyn Hillier, back at Lyndale, Port Wash, after wintering at New Port, near California's famous Laguna Beach, Art Colony, was present as an observer.

children painting the Fire Hall doors had second thoughts. It ended up in two slightly older ladies stepping in and doing the job. Devilish Donna Begon and irresistible Irene Lawson did the job in jig time. After this we will not mention again the fact that the Hobby House wall is still unpainted. Amen?

We have some new residents on Saturna. They are Tom and muse Myra Harvey with their two children lively Laura and Brad. Barry Crooks and Johnny Money manoeuvred their new trailer home onto a lot facing Boot Cove next door to the Mogg home. They didn't come from too far away, Sidney. Welcome to Saturna folks and be sure to read the DRIFTWOOD every week.

Whether we like it or not the birthdays roll around. To celebrate demure Donna Begon's 77th-day husband Benny had demure's sister jiggling Jackie and husband Alf Hamilton with Lorne and peachy Phyll Frazelle over to help Donna get another b-day over with. Gramma Louisa Gal Money and actinic Andy Johnson also CELEBRATED their b-days last week. All the other gals on the island can keep their ages secret but not Louisa Gal as she has a twin brother who is an old friend of mine and Lloyd makes no secret of his age.

It might be a good idea if all those who can come out to the hospital board, Lady Minto meeting on Thursday May 11th, at 3 p.m. and learn a little about our wonderful "Lady Minto" and what is going on.

Em and lacy Laura Coombs had lacy's brother Steveingham over for the weekend. Steve has just recently acquired property on the island as he is now a Saturnelite.

Now for some GOOD news. There will be one of our famous CHICKEN Barbecues in front of the Fire Hall on Saturday, May 20. We will be using Chuck Bavis' wonderful contraption, which can make even a non-scratching chicken taste like something out of this world. Jim Money assures us though that all the chickens used will be scratching ones. Keep that date open.

A couple of weeks ago I mentioned grandson #1 and #3, but omitted #2. Number one can read so I was in the soup with number 2. My humble apologies Todd and Papa John will not do that again.

THEY WILL BE THE DRIVE IN LITTERCHEK

Community recreation class at Gulf Islands Secondary School are in the Litterchek drive...they are the drive.

Students have distributed posters throughout the Salt Spring Island communities urging awareness of the campaign to clean up the community.

On Saturday they are planning a drive in Ganges to physically tackle the problem with a clean-up.

Storekeepers and visitors to the community are urged to co-operate in keeping litter down and surroundings up.

In the meantime the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce program is making headway as more than a dozen stores registered with Phil Taylor at the Bank of Montreal to take part in the contest for the most improved.

sewage plant to bring the effluent discharges from the school within acceptable limits.

The same referendum, No. 16, calls for work on the heating system and new lighting at Mayne Island school, with painting, repairs and renovations amounting to $4,000; covered play area, improved lighting and elementary room repairs at Galiano to cost $3,500; repairs to the washrooms and basement, with painting and new slides at Pender will cost $5,000. For $3700 Saturna school will have repairs to the play area, water purifier, mill work, increased entrance and paving.

Equipment for the elementary schools is estimated at $5,000, with plans and contingencies at $39,000.

Total of the elementary school referendum, No. 16, amounts to $392,700.

Second referendum, No. 17, is in respect of one school only.

SCHOOL IS STILL SOUND

Elementary School at Ganges urgently needs reconstructing but it has a sound shell, Dr. E. R. Dixon told a handful of people in Mahon Hall on Saturday.

Meeting called by Salt Spring Island Ratepayers Association drew an attendance of six persons in addition to nine trustees and teachers.

The estimates are reasonable and the costs would be far greater if an entirely new school were contemplated, he said.

It can't even be left.

"Leave it a couple of years and see what happens," he suggested, "we know: construction costs go sky-high. By the end of the year teachers and plumbers will be making about the same money."

The high school was built at Ganges before there appeared vocational schools all over the place, said the Ganges doctor.

"We need it to improve the chances of students who are not going to unemployed B.A.'s," he added.

The high school requirements simply ask for the provision of enough facilities to prepare an island student for vocational schools, explained Dr. Dixon.

Mrs. P. Valcourt wanted to know the reason for installing movable partitions. Some teachers prefer them, she was told.

Local contractors may bid on the project once the school district gains approval of the property owners for the school program, said Dr. Dixon.

BISHOP CUTS THE CAKE WHEN CONGREGATION GREET HIM HERE

BISHOP DE ROO VISITS SALT SPRING

The Parishioners of Our Lady of Grace Church, Ganges and Gulf Islands Secondary School. Asking for $359,300, the referendum provides for new industrial, or manual arts facilities and a new home economics room. Cost of the structure is estimated at $278,000. Alterations to the present workshop to convert it to classrooms and music room will cost $8,800.

New equipment for the school is estimated at $40,000. If ratepayers approve the two votes the school board may spend up to the specified amounts, but not more than the amount voted.

Polls will open on Saturday at 8 am until 8 pm at Ganges, Fulford and Central on Salt Spring Island and at each of Galiano, Mayne, North Pender and Saturna Islands.

of St. Paul's, Fulford, had a visit from Bishop Remi De Roo, Bishop of Victoria, over the week end. Holy Mass was celebrated by the Bishop Saturday afternoon for all members of the Catholic Women's League.

The ceremony of installation of new officers for the coming year was performed by the Bishop in the Church Hall after which tea was served by members. Fr. F. Sutherland was also present.

A dinner was arranged for the same evening at Harbour House Hotel, attended by the Parish Council and C.W.L. members.
