Quiet And Noisy

- LONG WEEK END

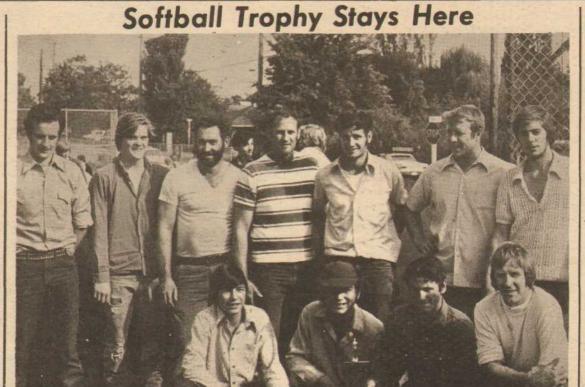

Noisy motorcycles and cars were the most prominent feat-ures of the last holiday of the summer on Salt Spring Island. It was noisy and quiet, RC MP at Ganges were called to quieten motorcyclists at Mouat Park but there was little incident over the holiday, reports Cpl. D. E. Burke, in charge of the detachment at Ganges.

Extra patrol car and officer have been stationed at Ganges during the summer months, following incidents here during the May Day week end.

CAR HITS POLE AT GANGES MONDAY

Doug Lewis, of Sidney, was demonstrating his car to a group of admirers in Ganges on Monday, when he lost con-trol and hit a telephone pole.

Damage was estimated at $500. Lewis was charged with driving without due care and attention and drew a Traffic Violation Report.

This is the successful Fulford softball team which topped the league at the week end tournament on Salt Spring Island and kept the trophy at home. Trophy was presented by Rob Dunn on behalf of the Salt Spring Island Recreation Comm ission, donor of the trophy.

This the second year of the tournament and it is now a part of the summer's final holiday activities on Salt Spring.

HE WASN'T MISSING AT ALL!

HOT DRY WEATHER CLOSES WOODS

Brilliant sunshine persisted most of the week end with clouds and spots of rain on Sunday in some areas.

Almost unseasonable heat continued through Tuesday as September crowned the hot dry summer in the islands.

Legacy from the late summer was the closure of forests on Saturday. Hazard was up to extreme, reported the B. C. For-estry department and all workers were called out of the woods to stop work until the rains

Construction work through the islands was stopped and excavation of foundations or drains must hold off until it rains.

The year has been one of the driest on record for many years.

MARC HOLMES

Salt Spring Island director on the Capital Regional Board for the past four years, Marc Holmes does not plan to seek a further term after the close of the present year. His name will not be in the ring in the November elections, he told DRIFTWOOD this week.

Two candidates have already een named here, Jim Wilkinon and George Heinekey.

Mr. Holmes has also served as spokesman for the electoral areas on the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

The Salt Spring Island director, retired mili ary man and busy fruit grower at Isabella Point, was elected by acclamation four years ago with the retirement of Doug Cavaye.

He has served through one of the most heated periods of island history as the island has been split over planning and

Missing Youth is Found at Home

Search party which carried on through half the night on Sunday at Galiano, failed to locate a mainland youth who was believed to have fallen over the Bluffs. He was later discovered to have gone home alone and was abed in White Rock while the party was out looking for him.

Missing youth was one of a party of nine holidaying on Galiano for the Labour Day weekend.

Another of his companions Ken Neil Persey, of White Rock, fell from the bluffs and was re-

Holiday At Galiano

Last holiday week end of the year brought problems to Galiano. One man was rescued from a fall over the Bluffs, two cars were taken joyridden around the Island; two fires were lit by thoughtless visitors and put out by Islanders. Machin-ery, belonging to Fred Robson and Ollie Garner, was wantonly wrecked and several hundred dollars worth of damage done.

When the ferries came to take several hundred people away, they took a load of trouble away.

Victims Abound

Unprecedented numbers of wasps have been flourishing on the islands this year. Like all insects, wasps follow a cycle, and this is their year. Doctors and hospital have been treating a steady flow of sting victims.

Few homes are free of the yellowjackets, which have nest ed everywhere.

Companions of the cliffdweller were alarmed and called for help. The police boat was called in and a search party was formed.

Constables Al Evans and Pete Sherman climbed down the cliff face in the darkness, Sher-man, engineer on the Sidney, was obliged to abandon the climb after hurring himself.

It was a day of new experi-ences. It was the first time the mainland man had fallen over a cliff and the first time he had ever fallen into a tree. It was the first time police boat skipper Sgt. R. G. Beazley had been to Galiano. He is recent-ly arrived from Thunder Bay, Ont. And it was the first visit to Galiano for Const. Al Evans, just here from Edmonton.

COLLINS SEES WIDE HIGHWAYS

Doug Collins, speaking on CBU on Wednesday morning reported that the recent assurance by Highways Minister nam Lea appeared to be

The minister, after some urging, agreed that the smaller roads in the islands need not be graded out to a full 66 feet. Collins had made enquiries at a level beneath that of minister and had discovered that the directions from the minister did not include arterial roads; that arterial roads on the islands were ill-defined and that the department had no idea of what the minister was talking

There had been some con. cern at the loss of a leafy lane to a broad avenue of gravel and dust when highways crews went to work on any island thoroughfare.

Collins explained on his radio commentary that the department likes to have roads wide enough for two graders

SHOOTING DEER AT NIGHT

Two reports have been re ceived during the past week of marksmen hunting deer after the hours of darkness.

At Beddis Point Subdivision a resident expressed "disgust" at irresponsible hunters shooting deer in the neighborhood out of season and at night.

Residents are hopeful that the vehicle may be traced to the owners after shots were fired late at night.

In the Fulford area reports have been received of shooting at night and one resident reports picking up a spent . 303 shell. Beddis Road nightshots left a No. 5 shotgun shell.

RCMP at Ganges report that complaints of pitlamping, or hunting deer at night with flashlights, are not uncommon at this time of year. Police officer explained that pitlamping is one of the most difficult depredations to pin on anyone. By the time police arrive pitlampers are usually far away.

CARS CLEANED UP BY SAM TOTAL 587

The Capital Regional District removed 587 cars during its June clean-up on Salt Spring Island, Director Marc Holmes

Despatched with the cards, was a quantity of old refrigerators, stoves, deep freezes and washers and driers, which had been dropped off at the dumps where the compacting was carried out.

The flatdeck trailer which hauled the crushed cars from Fulford Harbour to Swartz Bay for reshipment to the Richmond Steel Recycling Company average 24 cars per load. The low-er number of ferries and more difficult docking facilities made it impractical to ship from Long Harbour, he noted.

Director Holmes said the Regional Board has had 4, 600 cars hauled away from Langford, Colwood, Metchosin and Salt Spring Island, and that they expect the figure to pass the 5,000-mark before the program is completed in Saanich and caused by leather rubbing against a fabric?

A. These are among the "tough ones." However, if the fabric is washable try a thick soap-and-water solution, rubbing well over the fabric. You might make matters easier, too if glycerin is worked well into the stain beforehand and allowed to stand awhile before washing. For unwashable fabrics, try glycerin, working this into the stain carefully by rubbing lightly between the hands. Let remain awhile, then rinse by sponging with water.

Q. How can I thaw frozen meat quickly?

A. Try wrapping it in aluminum foil, then placing in a moderately hot oven for 10 to 15 minutes.

Q. How about the cleaning of oil paintings?

A. If these are very valuable paintings, it's best always to get a professional job done on them. However, if you want to try it yourself, wash them with warm milk and water, rubbing gently and carefully, and then drying without rinsing.

Q. We have some glassware whose edges have been chipped and the sharpness makes drinking a rather hazardous thing. Is there any remedy?

A. You can often smooth those edges nicely with a fine grade of sandpaper.

Q. We have below-ground basement windows surrounded by window wells, and the windows inevitably become splashed with mud and dirt in heavy rainstorms. How can I remedy this?

A. Dig out about three or four inches of soil and replace with an equivalent amount of clean gravel. This will prevent mud from splashing up against your windows and will also expedite drainage during wet days.

Q. How can I remove old blood stains from handkerchiefs?

A. You can usually soak these stains out in a solution of two table spoons of ammonia to a quart of cold water.

Q. How can I do a good job of cleaning my bathroom ceramic

I was once a member of an Irish secret society. I was all of eight years old at the time. An Irish boy came to school to join the already fair-sized clan of Irish in England, so many years ago. To us he was an English boy from Ireland. He saw himself as an Irish boy in England. When he formed his "Double-Six", based on a current silent film plot, he saw rent silent film plot, he saw his society wresting a dimly-remembered Ireland from the English. His English companions saw themselves as a lawless group of devil-may-cares, waging a just war against an oppre-ssive society of parents, teachers and adults generally. And that secret society probably had all the ingredients of a civil war, with the exception of a preparedness to destroy.

Randy Morton, of North Beach Road, was too late for the Shark Fishing Derby at the week end. He caught a 16 lb. 4 oz. dog fish on Sunday after-noon at 3, 50 pm, but he could not boat the fish and get to Ful-ford in 10 minutes. Not only was the fish bigger than the derby winner but it was also plural. While it lay, an abandoned trophy, it gave birth to a school of new, small dog fish.

I noticed a report recently of the death of Bill Newton at Sidney. He was a remarkable mar in many ways. A scientist who preferred to remain on the coast rather than be promoted elsewhere, he was a prominent figure among the Pacific Coast Rangers during the Second Work War. Possibly the top remini-scence I have of Bill Newton was his sharp way of slurring over the fact he had forgotten your name. If he was talking to someone on the street and you happened along, he would say to his companion, "Of course you know John Smith!" He avoided admitting that he couldn't make an introduction because he had forgotten the name of the fellow with him. Fellow could fill a book with reminiscences of Bill Newton. And about every one of them adding to his credit!

Bevis Walters left on Sunday for six weeks in Europe. He was escaping from the swarms of yellow jackets, he explained.
Funny thing if he lands in England to find a plague of wasps

Grant Carignan was busy last week making up signs urging people to read his ad in Driftwood as fast as Driftwood was making up his ad urging people to call in at his Trading Co.

"Not bad for an Englishman," quipped Bert Motion, in his incomprehensible Scots dialect.
"Not so much of the Englishman," retorted Graham Shove, Canadian veteran.

There's an awful lot of junk comes to me in the mails, but the other day I received a letter which left me with the feeling that I wasn't up to much as a member of society. It came from the joint committee in Canada for African relief and explained that the committee had collected only half its target for helping the desperate African people, victims of a drought. The letter reminded me that I had given nothing and that the deadline was four days off, long before it reaches days off, long before it reached me. The Combined Appeal for African Drought Relief had reached 40% of its hoped-for target. The ferry crews had been rewarded with a pay hike. The railwaymen were pressing for one. The woodsmen are shaping up for a new contract and car munufacturers are next in line for a strike or negotiations after the telephone workers and the postmasters. We should all be pretty well off after all these strikes and negotiations have made us million aires. Like everybody else, I was so busy looking at this cornucopia that is Canada I had forgotten that there were too many people dying for lack of the water we haven't fought over...yet. While we can ignore the wail of a people out of hear ing, we haven't progressed very far in humanity. Incidentally, if anyone wants to offer help to a thirsty, dying people, the address is Box 497, Station A,

The Islands are full of graduates of the Royal Air Force station at Patricia Bay. I wrote recently of the closing of the station and its reversion to civilian use only. Jim Wilkinson, of Mobrae, tells me he was sta-tioned at Patricia Bay much about the same period as I was. He was engaged in liaison duties, working with the RAF and RCAF. He was serving in the latter force. On Tuesday, Edraund Colchester, presently of Beaver Point, was in Driftwood to tell me he was sports officer at Patricia Bay with the RAF. He was also stationed at Wey-burn in Sackatchewan which burn, in Saskatchewan, which was the first station I saw in Canada. The woods is full of

When RCMP spoke of nude bathing on Salt Spring Island, a spokesman for the Ganges detachment warned that offenders would be prosecuted. "Would the prosecuters," asks a United States reader "be offended?"

Nobody likes to admit he doesn't know a thing and I kept quiet the fact that I figured the two-day shark-fishing derby was restricted on fishing hours. I find a lot of people who had it figured the same way. The tickets stated, in writing, "Saturday, 7 am to 9 pm. Sunday, 12 noon to 4 pm." I was under the impression that those were the hours you could fish. But, no, they jeered, those were no, they jeered, those were the times you could weigh in your catch. And I wasn't the only one that stupid. Another thing the rod and gun and the rotary could do on Salt Spring is to have more weighing stations. A weighing station at Ganges would help on a Sunday So would one at Vesuvius or Fernwood. Even on the outer islands would not be too bad an idea. Then the keen fisher-man could stay at it until the last minute. If he knows he's allowed to fish that long!

Among bears, a favourite sport is tree-sliding. A bear will climb up and down a tree repeatedly giving every evidence of doing this solely for the fun he gets out of it. ROCK throwing is another popular game. Grey Owl, an early Canadian conservationist, has described watching a hear described watching a bear spend some time deliberately shoving large rocks over the edge of a cliff. Upon hearing the resulting clatter, the bear made loud noises which it would be difficult not to construe as laughter, or at least an expression of amusement.

POSTAL SERVICE

Vancouver was never further away from the islands than during the ferry strike, when neither passenger nor freight could make the journey.

With the return of the ferries comes the sharp realization that Vancouver is still a long way from the islands by mail. A letter from a Gulf Islander must go across the Gulf to Swartz Bay and thence into Victoria. It is handled again in the capital city and then travels by air to Vancouver, to be finally sorted for distribution.

While this process was taking place there has been a ferry running directly to Vancouver. There has been an aircraft flying from island to island en route to Vancouver.

The time must be close when a direct mail service would be justifiable between the islands and the mainland. Or is that time already upon us?

JOLTING REMINDER

Importance of the tourist industry to the islands economy was sharply delineated this summer when tourists were chased away by the fear of being cut off from civilization.

The islands traffic has developed over the summer to the normal busy peak. Then came the warning bell and visitors by the score took to the boots and fled.

There was nothing deader than an island store that first morning of the ferry strike.

Last week end the strike was a thing of the past and the visitors were looking at the last sunny week end of the year. They looked at the weather and they looked at the islands. Friday saw the population of the islands suddenly leap. By Saturday traffic was everywhere and not until Monday did it relax.

This pattern of rise and fall of traffic incidence showed clearly the volume of tourist traffic coming to the islands.

Islanders could readily reflect that many of the services and supply outlets offered here would be out of reach of the community were it not for the tourists who keep the merchant or businessman active during the summer months.

Many islanders are a little cold about visitors but these travellers each year form an essential part of the islands activities .

NAMES AND MUD-THROW-

Editor, Driftwood,

I am deeply concerned that words like "malicious" and "vicious" are appearing regularly on the political scene of the Gulf Islands. Politics is a question of issues, and issues necessarily involve conflict and disagreement. The essence of disagreement in our community is becoming more potent as the issues involve more personal aspects; land, money and our various hopes and visions for our future.

Participating in such a conflict can be rewarding and exciting, and used as an opportunity to learn more about ourselves and others, to test ourselves in the arenas of opposition, compromise, and inspira-tion. However, to resort to sarcasm (which is not the same as wit) and even more distasteful, attacks on the personal in-tegrity of our elected representative, is neither "good politics", nor in any way construct-

Many in our private lives follow philosophies which are in direct contradiction to the promotion of this atmosphere of hate and vengeance. I can only encourage these people to become more aware of these inconsistencies within themselves. Let us keep our debates confined to the issues and our energy channeled in creative ways. Regardless of our political positions, our hopes for these islands are dear to us all, but so should be our treatment of our Fellow Islanders.

Donna Watt, P. O. Box 689, Ganges, September 1, 1973.

IN THE DOG HOUSE!

Editor, Driftwood, I see Mary Backlund has to complain, about dogs, being

Mary, we have no other place, since they are not allow ed on upper deck, sun deck or dining room, which of course, is quite right. Mary Backlund, if you were not so concerned with barking dogs, perhaps you would have time to think a little. Did it ever occur to you, that not all people can afford to place their pet in a boarding kennel?

Do you not think, Mary Backlund, that more barm is done lund, that more harm is done to a pet by leaving him behind He can't understand why his master has left, so he frets and sometimes refused to eat. I fail to understand why so many to understand why so many people nerves are scattered by a dog's bark. Would you still complain if you happen to be drowning or fell overboard, and a dog's barking brought you help? If you choose to stay on car deck during your trip, it's up to you, for I doubt very much, Mary Backlund, if a dog bark can be heard on upper deck anove the roar of the engines. If dogs upset you so much, why not travel by plane, and leave our dogs alone?

ERNEST AVES

DEATH OF VETERAN OF THREE WARS

Veteran of three wars and a respected citizen of Salt Spring Island for a quarter-century, Ernest Owen Aves passed away, at the age of 91 years, at the Lady Minto Hospital, Ganges on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

He was born in London, England, in 1883 and had volunteered with the Imperial Yeomanay in the South African War.

He came to Canada, lived in Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver, before settling in Victoria.

He volunteered and went overseas with the 16th Bn., Canadian Scottish in 1914, and was wounded in France early in 1915. Having won his Gold Stripes, he again volunteered and went overseas with the 103rd Bn. when he was again wounded.

He served in the Second World War with the Pacific Coast Rangers, and was appointed Recruiting Officer for His Majesty's Forces in the North.

He was a member of the famous Red Chevron Association, 1914-British volunteers throughout the world.

He served the Canadian Legion for over 35 years, and was a Charter Member of the Cariboo Branch. He was a member of Charity Lodge 570, Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, London, England.

Pre-deceased by his son, Radford, killed in Italy in 1944. he retired as Provincial Assessor for the Cariboo District and came to live on Salt Spring Island in 1947.

Interested in boys, he was president of the Boy Scouts Association in Prince Rupert for some years, and had many friends in the North, in Skeena, Cariboo, and in Victoria, where he made his home for many years. When young, he was chosen by many in the Empire to pursue his artistic talents in London, encouraged by his uncle, the well-known artist, Hendry Yeend-King, R. A., vice-president of the Academy.

Fond of sports of all kinds, he at one time played rigby for Victoria, and in his youth was table-tennis champion of Great Britain. A quiet man, during his whole lifetime, he "played the game" with everyone. He leaves, to mourn his loss, his loving wife and son, Owen, at home.

Funeral service was held 2 pm., Friday, Aug. 31, in Ganges United Church. Rev. Fred Anderson officated. Interment followed in Ganges Cemetery. Arrangements were by Goodman's Funeral Home, Ganges. (Contributed)

The following are excerpts from the Land Commission

(4) The commission may, in accordance with the regulations, hear and determine applications for permission under subsections (2) and (3), and under subsections (1) and (4) of section 10, and may grant or refuse permission for a use of the land for other than farm use, and may impose whatever terms and conditions it considers advisable, and, except as provided in subsection (5) THE DE-CISION OF THE COMMISSION IS FINAL AND NO AP-PEAL LIES FROM THAT DECISION.

(5) An owner of land aggrieved (a) by an order or decision of the commission refusing permission under subsection (1) or (4) of section 10 or under this section; or

(b) by the terms and conditions imposed by the commission in an order made under subsection (1) or (4) of section 10, or a permission granted under this section, MAY APPEAL, ON A QUESTION OF LAW OR EXCESS OF JURISDICTION ONLY. BY WAY OF STATED CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT.

I would urge all residents here who have lodged appeals against their land designation to study these points

On behalf of many people who have spoken to me on this issue, I am urging the Capital Regional Board, once again, to reconsider their earlier decision and have these hearings held locally. It is grossly unfair that hundreds of people have to take time off from their work and businesses at some considerable cost to themselves to attend these Hearings in Victoria.

Points of Observation It is reported that there are 396 airstrips in the province of British Columbia. Thank Goodness we have one here in this community. It certainly proved to be of great convenience for many many grateful people during the recent ferry dispute.

MAYNE TRAVELOGUES

BY BUS AND BY PLANE

BY ELSIE BROWN

Vic and Edith Griffiths, Mt. Parke Estates, had a most en-joyable Bus Tour during the sum mer. Several methods of transportation were tried out by the travelers which included shooting the rapids on the Yukon River and where they followed Trail of '98. They also received the "Order of the Walrus" which is presented to visitors to Alaska and also became first class Cheechakos as well as re-ceiving a certificate making them "Honorary Sourdoughs" as they retraced the steps of the Argonauts from Skagway to White Horse,

Their travels took them as far North as Anchorage, Alaska, Visits were also made to Dawson City where they struck it rich panning for gold. Got enough to make a ring, reports Edith

Other side trips included a bus trip to Valdez and a ferry trip to Columbia Glacier. On the return journey they had stop at Prince George, Jasper and home via Kamloops.

A distance of almost 6,000 miles was covered and a most memorable journey for the Griffith's scrapbook.

Bob and Joy Brownsword of Tsawwassen, who have just finished their summer home on Cherry Tree Lane, have return-ed from an extended tour of Eng land and the continent.

Preceding them were Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brownsword of West Vancouver. They travelled via Pacific West ern, arriving in London where they met to outline their itinerary. They visited a great-aunt in Wales at Deganwy and went on to Llandudno. Before leaving for Europe they had a short stop at Edinburgh, Scotland.

There is a possiblity that a special charity stamp will be issued in Britain during 1974, if arrangements can be made

Your Local Initiatives Program is even more local.

This year, $83 million is going to be invested in helping people help themselves in their community.

BALL CIES

If yours is a typical community, we're putting the "local" into the Local Initiatives Program by setting up a Constituency Advisory Group, or by having L.I.P. staff consult with already established groups. So now you help decide which projects will contribute most to everybody.

On the Constituency Advisory Group will sit a good representation from the community, including people active in community affairs, people from local government and social agencies, and L.I.P. sponsors from last year, all suggested by your M.P.

Your project could have up to $75,000 to work with, if your idea is a highly creative and innovative one.

To qualify for L.I.P. funds, your project must create not less than 15 man-months of employment. Workers with the skills required for your project must be available within your community. Project sponsors must hire all employees through Canada Manpower Centres. Deadline for applications is October 15th, 1973, though early submissions could result in projects starting as early as December 1st. In northern or isolated areas, projects could start as early as November 1st. Projects may be funded for up to six months.

There's Do-it-Yourself Business L.I.P., too, for companies which want to provide facilities or services for their communities. Projects are not to be related to business operations, and must create additional jobs.

All it takes is one good idea.

If the Carrothers are not where the action is, it pursues them, anyway. Dr. Alfred Carrothers, president of the University of Calgary, and his wife, Jane, with Matthew, Jonathan and Alexandra D'Arcy, had just arrived on Pender at Faraway Bay, Conery Crescent, when an invitation came from Calgary. They were bidden to dine with the Queen. So they turned around and flew right

It was a relaxed affair at the Palliser Hotel, some in cowboy gear, before the opening of the Stampede by the Queen. At the Captain's table, the Carrothers got behind-the-scene peeps into the royal flight.

After dinner there was a special grandstand show and musical ride, honoring the RCMP.

The ancient story of the woman who wove from a purple wool only to be turned into a purple spider was effectively shown. A huge net for the web hung from the ceiling, and the purple lady spider looked down on everyone.

Winter programs are under consideration by Salt Spring Players.

Summer is rapidly coming to a close and the tourists and visitors are departing. This is the time when the residents start planning their winter activities and get back to doing their various things.

The Salt Spring Players are about to get going again, having been greatly inspired by Stuart Margolin's production of "Sea Marks". Many of the players had the opportunity to meet and discuss with the professionals the various aspects of stagecraft and there is great enthusiasm on all sides.

ROYAL WEDDING IN STAMPS

There can be little doubt that the most popular stamps from Britain in 1973 will be the pair to be issued on November 14.

The occasion, of course, will be the royal wedding of Princess Anne and Mark Phillips.

A stamp issue in these circum stances presents quite a challenge for the Post Office and the stamp printers, for there is very little time in which to design, print and distribute the stamps.

The British Post Office has recently announced the subjects of the special stamps which it plans to issue during 197%. If one were to predict the most popular it may well turn out to be the issue to commemorate the centenary of the bir th of Sir Winston Churchill in October. It may be recalled that Churchill was previously honored on two stamps issued in July 1965, following his death. Thus, Churchill becomes the first commoner to appear on more than one issue of British stamps.

An issue to appear in June, 1974, will come as no surprise to stamp collectors. It is to commemorate the centenary of the Universal Postal Union, which has been described as the United Nations of the postal world. Other issues of the year will include another in the Tree series in February, a set honoring the 200th anniversary of the first comprehensive legislation on fire prevention and the provision of fire services in April, and the usual Christmas stamps in November.

The final issue definitely planned is one featuring four famous historical figures, to be issued in July. The figures to be shown are Robert the Bruce, Edward Plantagenet, the Black Prince, Owain Glyndwr, and posibly Boadicea. Next year erested in any aspect of theatre will be held at 8 pm on Mon-day, Sept. 10 in Room 4 at the High School. Apart from acting there is a great need for backstage workers.

It is hoped to produce and perform a three-act play at the end of November. Starting again in January, three one-ad plays are to be offered in March. By embarking on this ambitious program it is hoped that a maximum number of players will get an opportunity to participate in one category or another.

The list of requirements for such productions is lengthy. A production manager is needed. His duties will include publiciprinting, artwork and overty, printing, artwork and ov all administration. A stage manager is needed to work with the director to prepare the sets, props and wardrobe; a technical director to supervise lighting, sound and backstage mechanics, prompters, make-up people, artists, designers, carpenters and handymen.

The B. C. Drama Association holds a series of workshops each winter and several of the member drama groups also put on occasional workshops to which the Salt Spring group, as members of the B. C. D. A., is invited to attend.

invited to attend.

This winter the Salt Spring Players plan to participate in these programs in addition to starting their own series of workshops on stagecraft which they hope to share with fellow drama g "oups.

Tentatively scheduled are a lighting effects workshop. a lighting effects workshop, a play reading series, a makeup workshop and movement and mime workshops. There will be off-island theatre trips to attend previews and performances of BCDA group productions. It is hoped that an exchange of productions between member groups will be possible.

Auditions will be held at a date to be announced at the meeting to select players for the up-coming three-act play.

Last season's production of "Breath of Spring" was an un-qualified success, having been sold out all three nights. Several awards were won at the B. C. Drama Festival in Victoria for this production and it is hoped that two of the three one-act plays will be entered in the Festival in May.

Members of the Salt Spring

Players will be invited to assist in productions by the drama classes in the schools and students will be encouraged to participate in the "Players" productions,

There is a real fun aspect to this type of endeavour, an op-portunity to meet people and to be involved with a very cosmopolitan group. Experience is not essential. The Salt Spring Players fill a real need in our Island community so anyone interested is urged to attend the September 10 meeting and hear what it is all about.

BY GRACE A. WRIGHT

Winter weary, I longed for Spring With greening grass and birds

a-wing. It came. By then, my mind ahead,

I thought of summer days instead. When days were humid, much too hot, Still not quite happy with my lot, I longed to hear the scrunch of snow

And snugly sit in firelight's glow. It's wrong to wish each season done -

Just wished away as it's begun? I pray to learn to live content, To see each day is fully spent. To look ahead need be no sin - If I accept time's discipline. ? Inquest?

PASTOR DAVID G. LOW

Even though this country was founded on good Christian prin-cipals and the church has been allowed to operate independently of state control, and the state is not governed by church control, there are times when the clergy should stand up and be heard regarding certain prac-tices and laws of our land.

The question of Abortion could be argued from a medical stand-point of where life acmally begins, but being a min-ister, I am concerned with what God says through His word concerning this subject. God considers that before a baby is born, it is just as much an individual as that it will be 10 minutes after it is born (Luke 1:41, 44). In Jeremiah 1:5 God has formed Jeremiah, not when he had achieved full physical development and not when he was born, but when he was con-ceived in the womb. You are a complete being when you consist of body, soul, and spirit.

When you are conceived, just because your body is not as well developed as when you are born, that does not make you any less a human being. The same comparison is true of a 1-day-old baby and a 20-yearold man.
God's law defines murder as when you willfully take the life of an innocent party. A child whether born or unborn has no way of defending him-self and is an individual. So when you take that life, you are murdering that child.

If the laws of the land stray away from the Biblical principals whereby our dominion was based, then at least our personal convictions and our conscience based on God's word can be our guide.

Benny and Donna Begon were in Edmonton to see son Bobby and his wife, Marg but the real highlight was granddaughter, Marcy. Benny no somer got home than his old enemy, hay fever struck at him and he ended up his holidays in misery. Bill and Irene Lawson are also home from their holidays. They went up Island and had a grand time. Now Bill says he will have to get to work on the finishing touches to his new home.

Our neighbour, Barry Crooks is home from a spell of fishing on the west coast with Davy Jack. The kids next door were really happy to see their Dad home. One of the happiest to see Barry was his dog Nipper. Nipper is quite a dog; to get into our yard he hops on the fence railing and walks along it until he is well in the yard. If he chased cats that would be quite an asset. quite an asset.

A welcome sight this summer has been Louise (Sam to everyone) Peramaki who has been staying at a cottage at Narvaez Bay. Sam has left to go back to school teaching in Surrey.

Ernie Atkinson has been over to Lady Minto for a short visit but to make sure that Uncle Ernie was OK, Vi Rush is over to help him out.

The Gordons, from Sidney, are over and their place is jump ing with kids.

Bev and Ailleen Campbell have ended their holidays and gone back to rest as we think they do more work over here than at home.

The Cathcart Family from Reno, Nevada, who own the Eric Nicold Cottage have been up with their new trailer for some weeks. Gordie Campbell was busy clearing Dave Chapman's lot on Pavne road and talking to wee Kelly and Shawn Crooks when the kids yelled "what's that?" and Gordie looked and saw a real live monkey. A few minutes later Mr. Cathcart came along and retrieved Lucille Brotten had her oldest grandson Tad Bettinger with his new wife Rachell over from Everett. Lucille hopes to have more of her family over for a holiday. She has one of the loveliest gardens on the island.

A lady who has a cottage in Lyall Harbour is Bernice Lukie. Bernice recently retired from BC Tel after 19 years. She was presented with a charcoal grill and a wrist watch. She plans on moving the grill to Saturna.

We will have a new teacher to assist Taimi 'Hindmarch in the fall. He is Rod Swift and taught in England, Scotland and Alberta. He received his P. E. training in Oregon and after a year teaching in Vancouver is going to live in our teacherage.

Police officers are regarded as someone to turn to in time of need or trouble - but are classified as tourist attractions in few countries throughout the world.

However, India can boast of more than just a fine police force. The country's officers are also a tourist attraction. In addition to being helpful when it comes to directions and other information, India's policemen are among the most colourfully dressed in the world.

A white uniform is set off by a brilliant red turban with red and white plumes. Thus, tourists who bring their cam-eras to India take almost as many pictures of the policemen as they do of historic land-marks, temples, monuments and art work. Tourists will find that the officers are quite willing to pose for pictures
