

Clung to rock ledge for two hours at Bluffs Park

A Vancouver girl spent two hours hanging on to a ledge at Bluff's Park, Galiano Island, last week end.

Andrea Fredrickson, 18, was rescued at 8 pm Saturday evening after she slipped and fell on a steep part of the bluffs. Her cries for help were heard by Mrs. Don Stewart, who alerted the fire department and the first aid crew.

Jean Lockwood, member of the first aid crew, said Monday that Miss Fredrickson had been "hanging on by her fingertips" to a rocky ledge. Miss Lockwood said the girl had been sitting in the park, studying before the accident. She evidently got up to leave and lost her footing on the slippery ground.

Terry Champion of Galiano, went down the side of the cliff with a rope to rescue the girl.

The victim was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. C.H. Fredrickson, when the accident occurred.

Chairman Holmes cautious

Trust to look at home industries on Salt Spring

The Islands Trust is going to look into amending By-law 66 in relation to home industry.

At a meeting of the local trust committee at Ganges Wednesday it was decided to "take under advisement the pro's and cons of amending By-law 66 relative to home industry".

Greater flexibility would be allowed with the use of auxiliary buildings being permitted under carefully defined circumstances.

Salt Spring Island Trustee Jack Fisher said he had felt for some time that the present by-law was too restrictive.

"There are quite a few home industries being conducted in separate buildings on the island," said Fisher.

This is illegal under the terms of the zoning by-law.

"Those who are operating these home industries are contributing a great deal to the island," said the trustee. "Many are practicing arts and crafts and are making their livelihood from it, in whole or in part."

GROCERIES AT HOME
"The only thing I propose is legalizing the existence of auxiliary buildings of 600 square feet, single storey and no closer than 50 feet to the front lot line."

Trust chairman Marc Holmes cautioned that such amendments could lead to more and greater abuses "than we have now".

He cited a case where someone started a grocery store as a home industry in another area.

"The regional district prosecuted and lost in court," he warned.

Porter asks for credit bureau

Speaking for service businesses on the island, Hugh Porter, of Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce has called for a credit bureau.

The season has been a poor one for service businesses on the island, he reported. A credit bureau would reduce the numbers of bad debts facing small operators.

The committee chairman, and proprietor of Hugh's Machinery, also urged the Chamber to bring into full-time operation the public toilets in Centennial Park.

When the toilets are closed visitors assail service stations and other businesses for the use of the facilities, he explained.

Toilets in the park are kept locked in the off-season because vandalism always starts with public toilet facilities.

Request for copies of minutes rejected

Planners to protest to minister over letter from Capital Regional District staffer

Salt Spring Island planners are indignant over an action of the Capital Regional staff.

Copy of a letter from the executive director of the Capital Regional District to the Salt Spring Island Community Planning Association is to be sent to Municipal Affairs Minister Hugh Curtis.

The letter from Young was in reply to a letter from the planning association requesting the minutes of Advisory Planning Commission meetings.

Henry Elder described Young's letter as "deplorable under any circumstances" at a meeting of the association Monday evening.

Following is the letter from the association and Mr. Young's reply.

The Salt Spring Planning Association would like to request that copies of our local Advisory Planning Commission minutes be sent to it on a regular basis.

You may be aware that the association already receives copies of the Regional Board's minutes. We have found that these minutes are of limited value to us because there are no descriptions of the provisions of the by-laws or proposals which are approved or disapproved. If we can obtain the APC minutes, the details of these decisions can be taken from them and be used to make the Regional Board minutes comprehensible. We have found it difficult to rely on contacting our regional director every time the association wishes details on a by-law.

Champions line up with trophies won in competitions

Trophies are presented to islands tennis champions on Saturday

BY IAN THOMSON

The highlight of the social side of the Salt Spring Tennis Association took place on Saturday evening at the Golf and Country Club. Over 30 members and their friends gathered for dinner which was followed by the presentation of the Gulf Islands challenge trophies. More than 50 players from Salt Spring and the outer islands have been competing for the trophies on the Portlock Park tennis courts.

Junior awards went to Peggy Stacey and Gordon McQuiggan, the girls and boys singles champions. This was not the only time that these two young players appeared as they both entered and placed in senior events as well. Peggy was the ladies singles runner up, and, together with Jill Stacey, ladies doubles runner up; while Gordon won the mens singles consolation event.

The trophy awarded to Gordon is the A.W. Wilderson cup for boys under 18, first competed for in 1928 when the winner was D.P. Crofton. In 1929 the winner was Norman Best who also appeared as a winner twice this year.

The Harbour House Hotel trophy for mixed doubles was won by Wendy Smith and Norman Best, with Margaret Beach and George Granick of Galiano as runners up. Ray and John Coates, also of Galiano, won the consolation event.

Two up-and-coming young men, Bill Cadogen and Matt Small, won the men's doubles consolation event, while the Bank of Montreal trophy was won by the Best brothers, Alan and Norman, who beat Keith Alway and Ian Thomson the runners up. This result was probably the most interesting of the championship results, since the Best brothers individually were beaten by Alway and Thomson in the singles event, but when teamed together easily won over their singles victors. Yet another interesting point here is that Alan Best won the same event, mens doubles, with his brother Gordon, exactly 50 years ago.

For the second year in a row Toby Seward won the mens singles championships and was awarded the Ganges Boat Yard cup. Runner up in that event was Keith Alway.

This winds up the formal activities of the Tennis Association, though weather permitting, much more tennis will yet be played throughout the winter with a tournament scheduled for New Year's day. Plans are already underway for an expanded slate of events for next season together with an enlarged and improved multi-level instructional program particularly for junior players and beginners.

association needs access to these minutes so that it can judge whether the APC members are acting to support the provisions of the Community Plan. WE have found that individual APC members are reluctant to disclose details of the meetings for fear they are violating the board rule against doing so before the board has acted on the APC decision.

The association would also like to request that copies of the APC minutes since January 1, 1977 be supplied.

Letter was signed by Vice-chairman Gail Secor.

I regret that I am unable to comply with the request contained in your letter of September 2, to provide your association with copies of the minutes of meetings of the Salt Spring Island Advisory Planning Commission. The commission, as its name implies, is advisory only, and its members are appointed to serve rather than holding office by virtue of public election. As a consequence their deliberations and recommendations are considered confidential, and this procedure permits them to act without fear of pressure to favour one position over another.

I further note in your letter that the minutes of the regular meetings of the Capital Regional District Board are of very little use to you, this being the case, and as the provision of these minutes to your association is by special arrangement not normally available to members of the public, I will give instructions that the practice be discontinued from now on.

Letter from the Capital Regional District was signed by Dennis A. Young.

The planning association decided Monday to write Regional Board chairman Jim Campbell requesting that the district continue to send minutes of board meetings.

I.C. Shank told the meeting there was no law prohibiting the release of APC minutes to the public. Only stipulation is that the minutes must be reviewed by the regional board before they can be made available to the public.

The planning association is also going to request that the Capital Regional Board supply the association with the minutes following their review by the board.

Notice

Recycling is going strong. We shall need co-ordinators for October and November to phone volunteers for Saturdays 10-1. Phone 537-2903 or 5844 or 2201. Bring your newspapers folded once. Tins, flattened with both ends off. Glass bottles and jars, cardboard & office paper. Clean small plastic bags. But don't leave anything outside the shed on weekdays. You are welcome to take egg cartons, jam jars, and wine jugs.
Do you have apples out of reach? We can pick them for you from a 20 foot tripod ladder with no damage to branches, in exchange for some of the fruit. 537-9237. 40-1

Death and art to be discussed

"Definition of Death", with Dr. Elke-Kluge and "History of Christianity Through Art", with Professor Terry Guernsey are the first two lectures in the University of Victoria Gulf Islands Week end University Series in Ganges.

Both lectures start at 1:30 pm on Sunday, Oct. 16. Dr. Elke-Kluge will speak in Mahon Hall and Professor Guernsey will be in the Activity Centre. Pre-registration is requested.

A committee of interested people joined with Allen Beveridge of the Continuing Education Department of the University of Victoria to select topics and make recommendations for this Sunday series.

Other lectures will include "B.C. History" with Professor Patricia Roy and "Canada Today" with Professor G.R.I. MacPherson, to be presented on November 6.

A third hearing is slated for November 27, "Concept of Immortality" and "Quebec and Independence".

Leaf harvest

First a drifting, tumbling leaf
Then a few more, then a pause;
Then a whirling whistling shoal,
Then a silence on the lawn;
Then the raking and the sweeping,
Then the piling up in heaps;
Then the prayer for all the trees
To fold their limbs and go to sleep.

Monday night the third quarterly meeting of the Community Club was held with a good number of islanders in attendance.

During the course of a very lengthy meeting, reports of the various committees were given. Lorraine Campbell who spoke for the Lamb Barbecue committee announced a fine profit on this year's efforts.

Ann Bavis gave the Fire Department information. A generous donation of five hundred dollars was voted to the Lions Club for equipment for the John McMahon playground project at the school.

The members present discussed grant applications pending under the Canada Works programme, and called for a special meeting to go into details of the Fire Department's plans to add a second storey to the Fire Hall to facilitate medical services here. A vote enthusiastically endorsed the suggestion to send Arthur Ralph, a founding father of the community Hall and Club now in hospital in Sidney, a token of our concern and best wishes.

LIONS LADIES' NIGHT

Tuesday the Lions at their Ladies Night had a warm welcome for District Governor Lyle Tinker with his wife Berta, and a number of visitors from the Salt Spring Club, including Zone Chairman Colin Mouat and wife Ann, and Ivan Mouat. During the course of the evening, the Pot o' Gold (four glasses with the Lions insignia) was won by Jack Vincent.

Thursday Mike Hayes was off to Ganges for a day of observing, with other teachers of French in the Outer Islands, Mrs. Irene Wright at the Salt Spring Elementary School. During his absence Lynn Scott once again substitute-taught the intermediate class.

The whole school enjoyed their first excursion Friday morning to the Mayne Island School. All the children were especially excited about their access to the gymnasium facilities, and had fun with exposure to more French with Ken Hardy. The little ones spent time with their counterparts in the class of Cathy Takagaki, while the older children spent time becoming familiar with the library and resource centres, having first been assigned small research projects. Everyone is looking forward to the next of these planned bi-weekly excursions.

Don Hogg has returned from his trip duck-hunting in Merritt, as has Marie (Granmarie) McMahon from her holiday visiting friends in Cultus Lake and on the Mainland. Jim and Lou Money also took a few days out to travel to the Interior and points east.

Visiting mothers are news in the Valley, as Polly and Graeme Howarth now have Graeme's mother Leah with them, and Laura and Em Coombs have Laura's mother Mrs. Ingam with them for a time. (Mrs. Ingam was a special guest at the

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE BY LEGION FOR NON-VETERANS

Salt Spring Island Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion is setting out on an entirely new path this week.

On Thursday evening there will be a meeting in the Legion Hall in Ganges to decide the future of the veterans' organization.

Meeting will include sons and daughters of members who will be invited to perpetuate the organization in the absence of rising new veterans.

The country is running out of war veterans and there are no new ones being made.

The offspring of members will be invited to examine the new membership proposals and to take membership in the Legion.

Juveniles are blamed for list

A number of juveniles have been arrested following a series of break-ins at Ganges.

One juvenile has been apprehended for breaking in to the office of Stacey Charter Service on August 30. Door of the office had been kicked in.

On August 31, Mouat's Trading Company was broken into and $170 worth of clothes were taken from the store. Two juveniles have been arrested.

Arrests have also been made for break-ins to Embe Bakery; Everybody's Store, which was broken into two nights in succession; and the Legion Hall. Juveniles were involved in all the break-ins.

Trophies are awarded by Galiano club

Annual Trophy Dinner was presented by Galiano Rod and Gun Club in Galiano Hall on Saturday, Oct. 1. Dance was to the music of Rex Weaver.

President of the club, Hank Knudsen was commended for his work in making it a success. He enjoyed the help of his wife, Mary and other club members.

Following trophies were presented: 12 GAUGE

Darrel Modeste, Inter-island trophy; Bernie Knudson, Junior trophy; Tim Barnes, B.C. Cup trophy; Lloyd Baines, Single Handicap; Edmond Crocker, Doubles; Lloyd Baines, High-overall; Fred Robson, Handi-cap Doubles and G. Bradley, Salmon trophy.

.22 TROPHIES

Frank Basarab, Standing; George Georgeson, Kneeling and Sitting; Frank Basarab, Prone and High Over-all; Danny Basarab, 2400.

Lions dinner).

Dr. Maureen Piercey made her first visit to the island as medical practitioner, bringing her nurse with her. The Hall was filled with patients, and it seems there will be no shortage during the course of her regular visits. Dr. Piercey also has a Victoria practice so there can be more continuity for islander's health care.

UPCOMING EVENTS:

Reminders:

1) Thanksgiving weekend: Friday night, the Hall; High Wind In Jamaica, an adventure film: pirates, lots of action: for old and young alike.

2) Saturday evening: Lions Harvest Festival, very popular annual event; food and fun.

3) Keep posted for news of a contemplated Pig Barbecue.

Police watch theft

On September 29, Dave McKerrrell of Ontario, reported the theft of his wallet from his truck. Two juveniles were apprehended the following day.

Theft took place while RCMP were making a routine check of McKerrrell's truck. Constable Ted Pomeroy and McKerrrell had been standing at the back of the vehicle when the constable noticed two juveniles walk away from the front of the truck.

One of them had reached through the window and picked up the wallet from the seat of the truck.

It had to go but sign can now remain

Sign in Ganges which was put up on private property and ordered removed by the ministry of highways may now remain, says the ministry.

Sign opposite the School Board Office advertises the Valcourt Business Centre.

Provincial regulations require that no sign be erected closer than 50 feet from a highway.

On Monday evening Denis O'Hara reported that if the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce asks the minister for a relaxation of the act, the sign will be allowed to stand.

Truck burns briefly

Slight damage was sustained to a truck owned by Dick Royal when a fire started following a break in the gas line.

Incident took place on Burgoyne Bay Road on Friday. Wiring in the truck was damaged.

Four little Gangeses are under fire by Henry Elder

The proposed plan for Ganges was under discussion at the meeting of the Salt Spring Planning Association on Monday.

A plan has been prepared by the Capital Regional District that "doesn't look constructively towards the future", Henry Elder told the meeting.

Another plan has been drawn up for Ganges by Mr. Elder, Quentin Wilson and James Raeside.

"The plan we have drawn up is especially for Ganges, while the legal document prepared by the regional district could be used anywhere," explained Mr. Elder.

"We want Ganges to be one village," he said.

"At present, we have four little Gangeses. There is the Mout Ganges, the Ramsey Ganges, the Trading Company Ganges and the Valcourt Ganges. The community is not pulling together."

Elder told the meeting that he had attended some meetings of the merchants group that comprises the property owners included in the triangle that runs from Harbour Grocery to Ganges Pharmacy and up McPhillips Avenue. He had been impressed by the spirit of the group but he was displeased with the Regional District for supplying a grant of $2,000 to the merchants for making planning studies.

The grant should have been made to the whole village, said Elder.

It's time to look at the resources and the future of the village, he said, and the opportunities are tremendous.

"The only resources here are us old fellows," commented I. C. Shank.

Three object to rezoning bid by Sailing Club

Three residents spoke out against a proposal to rezone the waterfront off Beddis Road for the establishment of a sailing club moorings when the proposal came before a public hearing on Tuesday afternoon.

Robert Aston explained that he lived on the adjacent property and that he was fearful of pollution. "I am in no way opposed to the sailing club," he told the hearings, "My objection is the potential pollution."

Aston feared the pollution of the sea from discharges from vessels tied up at the moorings. He feared a be-fouling of the water from jetsam from the boats and shore and he feared noise.

His experience of the currents and movements of the water has convinced him that the debris would float on to his beach.

He would not stand by his objection to the pumping of heads if there were a substantial law against it, he told the hearing, in the Legion Hall, but he would not accept that even a stringent house rule could be binding on visitors.

Mr. Aston and Ron McQuiggan both expressed concern that the notice referred to the rezoning of the waterfront from Water A to Water B and that there was no clear indication that the application also calls for an extension of the original waterfront lease.

McQuiggan and Lionel Coulthard, through his neighbour, also objected to the installation on the grounds of contamination of the water.

There is little tidal flow and all water movement is very sluggish, noted the first speaker.

Supporting the application, Peter McMillan, Commodore of Salt Spring Island Sailing Club, sponsors of the plan, suggested that the project would be an asset to the community.

There is a shortage of accom-

New routine on brochures

Publicity brochure which has been produced by Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce for many years is to be discontinued.

The Chamber will produce a local map for the use of visitors, showing the village area. A second map will depict the island, rather after the style of the realtor's maps already available.

A new brochure will be designed for distribution off-island.

Plans were revealed on Monday evening by Pat Baines, chairman of the Tourist Committee.

modation on the island, he noted and the club's 100 members need the facility.

Unveiling

On Saturday, Oct. 15, the new maps and signs on the Tourist Information Booth in Ganges will be unveiled.

Tentative date was announced on Monday evening by Chamber of Commerce President Steve Nelson.

May Queen Julie Collins will be invited to perform the ceremony.
