

OAP's hold their first meeting in renovated hall

BY PENSIONER

Sept. 13, Wednesday, was a big day for Branch 32 OAPO, when we held our first meeting in the newly repaired Central Hall, now to be our permanent home.

Mrs. Elsie Thacker was in the

We do thank all the helpers, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. V. Griffith, Mrs. Hartley, Mrs. A. Code, Mr. and chair to welcome members and friends. We had tried to get together all those who had helped with the "Building Fund" to raise money. We regret to report that through sickness, Rev. T. Wright, Mr. George Truefitt and many others were unable to attend.

Mrs. McRoberts and of course Mr. and Mrs. Brigden who returned from their trip only the night before. Mrs. Eva St. Onge, was down with the flu and Mrs. Thacker had just been on the sick list for three weeks, but it takes the old folks to face the music when we

Mrs. E. Thacker gave a report on the comings and going of the Branch, how she started this Branch in 1958 and has worked for the past 20 years. After the passing of Rev. Holmes, she became president and has remained in that position ever since. Mrs. Thacker gave particulars of what we had done with our money and now own all our own furniture and equipment and now we have our own little place.

Mrs. Thacker stated she would like to retire in November this year. We will help all we can to take care of the elderly and welcome those who would like to join us in our efforts.

Mrs. Mabel Clark our secretary treasurer will be at her phone 537-2059 to answer any questions you may have and meetings will be announced in Driftwood.

Thanks to all the people who helped and those who came to enjoy the gathering.

ing into their beautiful new bungalow; They have completely built it themselves during the past year working on weekends and their summer holidays. It is a real asset to the Cherry Tree bay area. They are being assisted in their house warming by members of Lillian's family by combining it with their reunion.

Taking part in the combined reunion and house warming are Lillian's two sisters and her brother.

Her sister, May, with husband Gene Harnet are from Marlborough, South Devon, in England. Marlborough is so named because it is a meeting point of several neighbour communities whose access roads meet there.

Their Church, which serves the area, has a very high steeple which can be seen from far out to sea and serves as a landmark and beacon for the many fishermen living in the town.

Lillian's other sister, Bessie Stobart, of North Vancouver, is taking part in the celebrations. She has been over with the Dolphins many times since they purchased their property.

Jack Barclay, with his wife Muriel and daughter Susan, are from Toronto and they live in the High Park area. Jack is Lillian and Bessie's brother. They are enjoying the reunion during the house warming and we all wish Clinton and Lillian much future happiness in their new home.

The Mayne Island Chapter showed real "Tops enthusiasm" as they assembled for the first September meeting. The leader commended them for having close to 100% attendance.

Best loser of the day was Bertha Evans. Best loser for the month of August was Kay Adams, who won the overflowing basket of fruit.

Sally Burden drew attention of the members to the fact that our leader Edona Medcalf had maintained her weight at, or below her goal, for a period of over six months.

She was awarded a charm and a round of applause. Edona noted that more than one-third of the members have reached goal and have attained KOPS status or are close to it. Six others are within a few pounds.

It was decided to delay the graduation ceremonies until December and combine it with the anniversary party.

At the subsequent meeting there were two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Canon from Courtenay, BC. They had a display of craft articles they had made.

KICK OFF

Game cancelled for lack of players

BY MALCOLM LEGG

With last week-end's game cancelled, due to the Bays' lack of players the island soccer scene remained fairly quiet.

Even so, in the wings, the wheels are turning as many new developments are apparent.

The Annual general meeting drew a receptive crowd of 30 or so people who listened to an outline of the Association's soccer program for the coming season.

At the meeting Ken Collins was formally introduced as the Referee-in-Chief.

The Association is very fortunate to obtain the services of an official of such high quality.

The girls' team "The Sock-eyes" held a bake sale at the Farmers' Market and raised $85 towards their jackets. Let's hope the girls play soccer as well as they can bake!

The Division 6C team, our newest club, has been christened. They will be known as the Salt Spring Island Strikers. Their coach, Strick Aust, is new to island soccer, coming from the Prospect Lake organization. He is a welcome addition to our association as he has a good background in youth soccer. No, the team's name has no relation to the coach's first name.

The intra-island division got under way last week with several practices. Unexpectedly the avalanche of players has created a problem, the lack of coaches. With 60 players joined so far it appears a five-team loop will be operational this season but to date we only have coaches for three teams.

If you like kids and can organize small groups come out and coach these youngsters; we will supply the knowledge and assistance. The practices are every Tuesday and Thursday after school.

This week-end sees all our boys' teams swing into action; Div. 2A Salt Spring Canadians; Div. 4B Salt Spring Kicks; Div. 6C Salt Spring Strikers. Come and watch them play.

The Boot Exchange needs boots, please sell your old boots to us. For boots or any information, call Malcolm Legg, at 537-5870, after 5 pm.

HOW DO THEY HELP?

A question that always seems to crop up during every soccer season is what do the players contribute towards their own game to enable them to be able to play in Victoria.

It is commonly known that the players and the Association receive a substantial amount of financial support from businesses and organizations in the community, but what do the players contribute to their own sport?

In actual fact, the players contribute a great deal towards their own game and a lot is not only financial. These include;

Funds including raffle ticket sales, Sun Cup ticket sales, concessions and other miscellaneous events which exceeded any single donation from a business or organization.

Approximately 15 local players contribute their time to referee the Intra-island players (under 10 age group) and also act as linesmen in the off-island games.

The players help to run and organize their own banquet and tournament at the end of the season.

Several of the older boys have helped in coaching the youngest players participating in soccer.

Over the years the players have assisted with community projects primarily rock-picking at both the Fulford Field and more recently at the new Portlock Park.

This coming season we hope to see the boys and girls in the Association raise even a greater percentage of their own funding by;

A Kick-a-Thon contest which will be run in October. Each player will be sponsored by members of the public for the yardage each player can kick a soccer ball.

An increased enrolment in the Referees clinic.

An increase in player-coaching-player concept being utilized in the Association.

A continuation of their efforts in

They were salmon he insists

They were salmon, insists Ed Chew.

They were not osmeridae, or smelt, agrees Gordon McEachern, federal fishery officer.

Ed Chew Junior caught two fish from the Ganges wharf a couple of weeks ago. Ed Chew Senior reported that the fish were salmon.

Last week Ganges wharfinger Jim Stuart suggested they were not salmon, but smelt.

Ed Chew Senior was indignant. He recovered one frozen fish from the locker and invited Fishery Officer McEachern to tell him whether it was a salmon or a smelt.

On examination it proved to be of the salmonidae family; salmon or trout, he reported. Without the internal organs it was not easy to be precise, suggested McEachern.

"One can only guess that the fish is a steelhead," he concluded.

Trapped in crash

Alf Temmel, well-known Salt Spring Island painter, was trapped in his car when it left the road at Fulford on Monday morning, September 18.

The vehicle left the road a mile north of the Roger Hughes residence and ran along the ditch for 40 feet before colliding with a pole.

The driver was trapped and Salt Spring Island Fire Department was called out to free him. Operation took an hour. Temmel was taken to Lady Minto Hospital afterwards.

DOWN THE GUTTER

...with Ken Collins

Last week saw the start of yet another season of bowling. There are still a few openings on the various leagues, so if you want to get on a team give Dave Calver a ring.

Already, we have had some good scores recorded. They are as follows, Ken Collins, 860-749; Leo Toutant, 820; Garry Webster, 790; Carol Kaye, 774; Bob Akerman, 752 and Mike Kelly, 708. Three-hundred games came from Leo Toutant, 330; Ken Collins, 313 and Garry Webster with 306.

Carol Kaye was the bowler of the week in the Ladies Department, and in the men's it was Ken Collins.

The Golden Agers saw action last Monday against Parksville. Three teams travelled to Parksville and two teams came to Ganges. As of yet I have not had any results of the outcome of the various games. The Golden Agers are stronger than ever this season, they have started one extra league, making a total of four to date, with the raffles, concessions, banquet and the tournament.

An expansion of co-operation between the players of the Association and community projects where assistance is requested.

It is difficult for the Association to become fully self-sufficient due to the high cost of balls, uniforms and travel but it is hoped through hard work and good fund-raising projects the players can share in a great percentage of the financial revenues.

possibility of a fifth one starting shortly.

If you are a Golden Ager and would like to get on a team, just give Dave a call. The cost for three games is just $1.25. Even if you have never bowled in your life, don't give it another thought. We have people who are only too willing to give you the basics. You are never too old. A prime example of this is Ted Parsons, who took up the game last year at the age of 92.

Quite a few people are not aware that if on any given night that they are supposed to bowl, if they can't make it for any reason, then they are allowed to roll off. You just have to phone and let Dave know you will be at the alley at a certain time and away you go. This solves the problem of trying to find a spare to replace you.

I am going to once again give you a bowling tip each week, just to refresh your memory. It seemed to work last season as we saw quite a vast improvement in the averages.

BOWLING TIP OF THE WEEK

The biggest fault I see most people do is twisting their foot at the end of their slide, just before they release the ball. Your foot should be pointing straight down the alley after you have released your ball, otherwise you will do what we call, side-arming the ball.

You, of course, will have to adjust your starting position if you start to do things right.

The golden rule is if you miss the head pin on the left, then you move slightly to the left and if you miss the head pin on the right, you move more to the right.

as the officer in charge of the marine division of the RCMP at Ganges, he was still in the islands long after the marine division was absorbed into the regular force.

Sgt. Lewis is now stationed at Sidney and in a recent issue of the Sidney Review, he was quoted as warning boat operators that the RCMP will be watching traffic in Active Pass through the winter as well as the summer months.

Small boats are required to keep out of the way of the ferries. That is the requirement under the Canada Shipping Act.

RCMP crews from Ganges and Sidney make a regular patrol of the Active Pass areas to ensure that the small boats do just that.

If the sports fisherman fails to see the hazard, the ferry skipper will give five short blasts to warn him to get out of the way. If he still doesn't move out, the police move in.

JUST KEEP OFF!

George Lewis recalled the fisherman who has urged him to keep the ferry off while he lands his salmon.

He cited the instance of a Surrey boater in his 39-footer, who left two ferries in mid-pass trying to avoid each other.

The sports boat was off Helen Point at about two knots, with the Queen of Tsawwassen coming up fast from behind. The Queen of Vancouver was approaching from the other direction. As the Tsawwassen started to overtake the pleasure boat, she altered course and came into the direct path of the ferry. The Tsawwassen turned sharply to avoid a collision and the Vancouver was hard pressed to swing out of the way.

There was no collision, but the small boat skipper could take little credit for that.

Incident cost the boater $100 for impeding the ferry and $50 for altering course while being overtaken. Maximum penalty is $200 on each count.

Sidney based RCMP patrol boat Harvison had been a witness of the incident.

AVERAGE 50 BOATS

Lewis reports that at week ends during the summer there were averagely 50 vessels fishing Active Pass and even on a weekday there would be 35 to 40.

Up to three 430 ft. ferries can negotiate the Pass at the same time, he noted. George Lewis was also statistically minded. He recalled that the Pass is four miles long and 1,800 feet wide in its narrowest point. The vessels run through at speeds up to 15 knots and the tide runs at up to seven knots.

Charges are not laid as often as they would be if the procedures were easier.

Because they are under the federal shipping act, every case requires the appointment of a federal prosecutor when it comes to court. It also necessitates calling ferry crews as witnesses and causes many administrative problems.

It has been mooted, said the Review story, that boaters be subjected to voluntary penalties just as drivers are. They could then be fined on the spot by the officer patrolling.

Most offences are without offence, said Ganges Detachment's Sgt. Ray Stelter. The fishermen who offend are not breaking the law by intent. Majority are simply unaware of the law regarding small vessels and some are breaking the Change in Islands service sought by West Coast Air

Plans of West Coast Air to initiate a downtown Victoria to downtown Vancouver air service will not prejudice island air services, according to the company's general manager Russ Minaker.

The service to the islands will be maintained with a guarantee of two flights a day, he noted.

This summer the company has flown four services a day to the islands, stated Minaker.

The direct flights between Victoria and Vancouver are seen as additions to the present schedules.

Present services are maintained with de Havilland Beavers and Cessnas. The direct inter-city flight would be undertaken with twin-engined Otters.

New Otter service will be instituted in October and will go ahead even if the Transport Commission rules that stops must be made at the islands.

Island travellers are not warm towards the prospect of being left out of it.

Despite Minaker's assurances that the islands will be included in his company's plans, some patrons of the service are fearful that the permission to overfly would be permission to forget the islands.

One irate passenger suggested that once the service became inter-city the islands passengers could be shrugged off in favour of full-trip passengers.

The company is asking permission to overfly the islands when there are no islands passengers. At the present time they must land here if they have no passengers to drop off or pick up.

New schedule, it was felt, would represent a change in function from an islands link with the two major cities to an inter-city link with occasional islands stops.

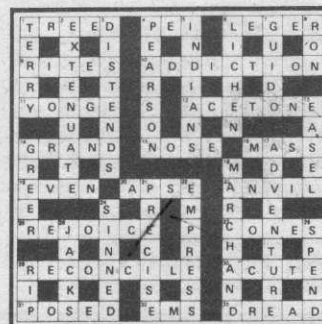

The manager did not agree. "Absolutely not!" he told Driftwood "We are trying to upgrade the service."

He emphasized that there would be no less than two flights a day under the new proposals.
