

Cookies mark book release

A tasty treat is in store at a Book and Cookie Labour Day event set for Saturday, September 3.

Celebrating the advance release of local author John Sorrell's book called Openings to Lighten the Way, it runs from 1 to 5 p.m. on the deck in front of Salt Spring Books.

"Everybody likes a yummy cookie," said Sorrell's wife Sharon, who will make goodies for the day. "We plan to decorate each cookie with uplifting images and words from the book itself, so with every bite you get a taste of what the whole book offers."

Bookwatch, New Connections, and other leading magazines call Openings to Lighten the Way "enlightening" and "exhilarating." Bookwatch said, "Each opening fuses inspiration, prayer and poem in just a few charged lines [that] reveal our inner strengths and unfold our truest gifts."

It will be published by World House in 2006.

"Each of the openings in this book — over 200 of them — explores another way we can grow closer to each other and make the most of every day," said Sorrell, who has brought Openings to people on national television and radio and at numerous events across the continent.

"There are openings in this book not only for facing our biggest challenges, but for getting more out of the little things we all go through — things like waking up, taking meals, even doing household chores."

"Everyone will get a chance to see the innovative and exclusive bookmark display stand in action at the event, too," said Sharon Sorrell. "People tell us it makes going through the book an opening a day that much more enjoyable, and it comes free with every copy."

Advance copies will be available after Saturday at Salt Spring Books, or visit OpeningsUnlimited.com, or call 537-1534.

Triskele gets toes tapping at CD party

Saturday afternoon will be filled with Celtic fun when Triskele Celtic Band holds a free concert and CD release party at Mahon Hall.

From noon to 3 p.m. at ArtCraft in the hall, the well-known Salt Spring band will play songs from their new CD called Come by the Hills.

The title track is a traditional Scottish song that embraces the nostalgia that Celts often feel for their homeland.

Other songs range from High Mountain Honey — a tribute to south-end honey producer Dave Harris — to the rousing a cappella Mary Mac with driving bodhran, and the familiar sing-along Wild Mountain Thyme.

The four musicians play a variety of instruments as well as sing.

Myranda O'Byrne plays guitar, dulcimer, bodhran and spoons; Michael Price plays bass guitar, harmonicas and bodhran; Bob McIvor plays fiddle and guitar; and Jonathan Grant plays guitar. Each member comes to the group with a strong musical background and each has been playing Celtic music for 20 years or more.

Their repertoire includes traditional Irish and Scottish ballads and airs, contemporary Celtic songs, and lively reels and jigs.

Light refreshments will be served at the September 3 event.

Local hosts AAC stop

Independent Canadian performance arts get the spotlight at The Local pub on Salt Spring as the Artistic Arithmetic Collective (AAC) makes its first stop on a cross-Canada tour on Friday, September 2.

From solo performances to full-band jams and an open mike segment, AAC shows are known for their dynamic energy.

"The idea of the tour is to showcase the talent of the individual artists involved, while creating a band atmosphere on stage with members playing a wide variety of instruments," explains a press release.

Guest artists are featured at AAC shows whenever possible, along with the open mike segment.

AAC also plays on Galiano Island on September 3 at the Grand Central.

Ishani offers musical thanks for Salt Spring inspiration

By MITCHELL SHERRIN
Staff Writer

Inspired by the empowering energy he's tapped into at his new island home, Iqbal Ishani has blended multi-cultural musical experiences to share new recordings and an upcoming concert at The Glass Onion.

"I'm paying homage to this wonderful island," Ishani said as he described a song called Soul Spring from his new Flowing Abundance CD.

"This is my way of saying thanks."

Born in Nairobi of East Indian parents in a "melting pot of cultures," Ishani came to Salt Spring via a European-film-industry career based out of Munich.

Now Ishani is releasing two CDs (Flowing Abundance and Chi Temple) and is holding a performance at The Glass Onion on Thursday, September 1.

"I wanted to live in a place where I could work on myself spiritually and Salt Spring is ideal."

When he first arrived on the island, he was cared for and looked after wherever he went, he said.

"I met up with Randy Bachman and he told me that people come here and get totally inspired."

Even though he grew up in a family steeped in a rich musical culture, he previously worked as a sound engineer and camera man and only played music recreationally.

"I've been using my music to relax myself and the people around me."

But he noticed that film crews were drawn to his campsite while shooting at various locations and listeners seemed to find a balm from daily stresses through his playing.

"My style is a spiritual fusion of world music," he explained.

Once he spent some time on Salt Spring, music became increasingly more important in his daily life and he opted to "put it out there," as people kept recommending to him. "Right now, I'm very much into my guitar, which was made in Spain when I was studying flamenco."

He also plays piano, flute and drums and sings — which is central to his spiritual vision of music, he said.

"Prana is life and life is music and music is voice."

Within his performance at The Glass Onion, he plans to share African and Brazilian rhythms, along with sacred mantras from India.

One of his songs is called Om Blessing and he uses a cross of ancient mantras to pray for peace, he said.

Comparatively, Fong Song is inspired by Ishani's studies in Qi Gong traditional Chinese medicine.

"It's a mixture of Chinese words with a Brazilian groove."

He also sings in Swahili for songs such as Karibu and Roho.

Along with danceable tunes, he will also offer purely instrumental pieces from his Chi Temple CD — an album originally developed to complement healing arts such as Qi Gong, meditation, yoga and massage.

Soft "sound vibrations" in this recording are designed to influence the body's energy centres and balance and release tensions, he said.

Ishani appears at The Glass Onion at 8 p.m. on Thursday. Admission is free.

Stagecoach steps up with new classes

Stagecoach School for the Performing Arts opens its 2005-06 season with a new slate of classes in theatre and dance.

Stagecoach administrator and founding member Simon Henson has brought together a dynamic series of programs with dance and theatre department heads Andrea Rabinovitch and Sue Newman.

Dancers will continue their explorations and studies in ballet, creative movement, jazz, tap, modern and hip hop techniques, with Newman, Rabinovitch and Jill Smith returning in their teaching roles.

The performing group Dankids will be headed by Victoria dancer and teacher Kassia Skilsky. Slated for January, this by-audition-only class will heat up the winter term, said Newman.

Also new this year is the branching out of dramatic offerings to wider ages.

In addition to the three-day-per-week Mainstage program for eight to 13 year olds is Playstage for four to six year olds, Stage One for six to eights, the Spotlight series for eight to 13 year olds and Footlight Retreat for the 14 to 19-year-old age group.

Barb Slater and Tisha Boulter will lead Playstage participants through basic skills discovered by playing imagination games, drumming, character songs and a tickle trunk.

Penny Burton will create a vivid adventure in theatre skills with Stage One students.

Visiting artists will bring different aspects of theatre to life each week in the Spotlight Series.

Footlight Retreat is a monthly intensive for teens. Guest instructors will offer participants the nitty gritty of techniques, including cartoon voice-overs, musical theatre and stage combat.

For more information or to register, see www.stagecoach-theatre.ca or come to All Saints on Saturday, September 3 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Partial and full bursaries are available based on financial need.

Thunderbird shows Hames' prairie images

Big prairie skies will be on display for an exhibition of artworks by Salt Spring's Michael Hames opening at Thunderbird Gallery on September 2.

"Most of the pieces in this show are landscapes from southern Alberta and the many moods of the prairies," Steffich said.

The transplanted Albertan paints landscapes within a "conventional realism" style, but his stark and simple compositions are rich with elements of abstract design.

"So many of the artists that live on this island paint their surroundings, which is typical; nothing unusual about that. But although Michael's been here 18 years, he continues to paint the prairies," Steffich said.

Hames makes frequent pilgrimages to the foothills of Alberta for inspiration and to take photos, Steffich noted.

"He used to work in fire towers and often his paintings depicted views from there."

Hames has displayed work at Thunderbird four times over the last three years and Steffich has been impressed with the latest results.

"This guy just gets better and better."

Hames works in a variety of mediums — including bronze sculpture — and his 12 newest pieces show his skills with oil, graphite and mixed media.

Mixed-media works include elements of oil paint, charcoal, graphite, coloured pencil and spraypaint, Steffich noted.

"When you look at an oil painting, it looks one way. When you look at a mixed media piece, it's always got a different feel to it because of the mixture of different medias."

Mixing mediums requires technical expertise.

"When you start blending them all and mashing them all, you've really got to know what you are doing. That's something he certainly excels at."

Hames' reception starts at 5:30 p.m. on Friday September 2 at the Thunderbird Gallery in Grace Point.

The show runs until September 15.

Day art welcomes neighbourhood

Artwork in your home can become friends.

ART BEAT ON THE ROCK

WITH ANDREA RABINOVITCH

In Margaret Day's studio at the barn on South Ridge Road (look for the coral/orange house) the walls are filled with potential buddies.

"Living on Yonge Street," works by Karen Day, opens with a reception on Sunday, September 4 from 2 to 5 p.m. with the show running till September 12.

Day, a graduate of the Alberta College of Art, is an illustrator specializing in portraits and drawings for editorial articles. Her work has been used in several publications on a regular basis, including the National Post.

Her style uses dabs of contrasting colour to delineate the features of the large portraits, while strong flat backgrounds like a Lichtenstein cartoon or an Andy Warhol support the humanity and warmth of her perspective.

These acrylics on canvas chronicle the multi-ethnic people in her Toronto neighbourhood.

Asking permission to paint the portraits of the strangers who were part of her everyday experience, photographs were taken and the subjects were asked what their favourite words were.

Some identified with their occupation, like the recent arrival to Canada — an Albanian painter — and some with their interests, like the shy window washer who surprisingly chose "pizza" and "sex" as his words.

Some chose a higher power, like the Jamaican woman who chose "One Love."

Others chose their culture as their identifying feature, using words in their language.

Personal journeys are on display in two galleries at ArtSpring.

In the larger ArtSpring space, two photographic artists — David Baughan and Kevin Steinke — use black and whites to tell stories.

Baughan's journey is a literal one. You start at the beginning and follow the photos around in order.

Like a visual puzzle, the subject and composition speak to the universal quest for self and placement in our environment.

After a personal crisis, Baughan used his belief in Taoism, nature and photography to pull himself out.

Two examples of Karen Day's work are shown here. Her art is now on display at her mother's South Ridge Road studio.

"Finding the Path" starts at the beginning of indecision with images of dual paths. We then move to the photographs with obstructions often with Baughan's shadow overlaid on objects until finally there is a rather literal enlightenment at the end.

Steinke has a BFA degree in art from UBC (painting and film) and a masters in art history. The composition, use of the varying shades of black to grey to white, and lighting speak to that knowledge.

Using Salt Spring Island and Vancouver, most of his photos are landscapes, although there is also a cityscape, a forest and an interior.

Steinke explains, "Photography parallels my attitude towards the world:

It must be very clear and panoramic, i.e. both interiors and exteriors, and non-judgemental."

Called "Silent Photographs," the images evoke a stillness that Steinke likens to "the moment between a breath when the world is stilled." Lovely.

This show runs till September 18.

Next door at the Bateman Gallery, Jamie Callum Macaulay has landscapes a la Cezanne, riveting self-portraits, off centre interiors not unlike Van Gogh's, and some charming small etchings on display till September 5.

The self-portraits and rooms especially give the viewer an idea of the inner workings of the artist's psyche.

Coastal life celebrated at next M&M

"Canada's West Coast troubadour" is coming to Music and Munch next Wednesday, September 7.

Alan Moberg has been writing and performing songs that capture the beauty and mystery of B.C. for over 30 years. The title of one of his recorded CDs, Saltwater Cowboy, aptly describes what his music is about.

Moberg was born in Pender Harbour, B.C. and raised in a fishing family; his songs speak of his love for this land from the west coast to the interior.

Howard White, publisher of the Raincoast Chronicles, says of his music: "Moberg does for B.C.'s interior ranchland and coastal rain forest what Ian Tyson does for Alberta cow country and Stan Rogers did for the Great Lakes."

Moberg performs regularly at the Tree House Café and on stage annually at the fall fair.

He has recently done a stint in Alberta singing gospel and old-time country music, and this past weekend sang on Salt Spring for the square dancers jubilee.

His Musical Journey Around B.C. for Music and Munch begins at 12:10 p.m. and is followed by the customary optional light lunch for $5.50.

This performance marks the beginning of the Music and Munch fall-through-spring series of concerts, which fall on the first Wednesday of each month only. The remaining Wednesdays will again feature organ recitals from Barry Valentine beginning at 10:10 a.m.

FHB sound hits stage

A band described as "the standard bearers" for bluegrass in Toronto and even Canada is touching down on Salt Spring next Wednesday.

The Foggy Hogtown Boys (FHB) may have been Toronto's best kept secret, but apparently there have been some leaks.

"Over the last three years, an ever-widening audience has been raving about the band," says a press release introducing the group's September 7 concert at ArtSpring.

"With a regular weekly show, the release of their first CD, Live At The Dominion, and a recent tour of western Canada, The Foggy Hogtown Boys have established themselves as one of the most exciting bluegrass bands in the country."

Talking about that "hard-driving" live CD, Now Magazine said it settles any arguments about the band's stature in the bluegrass world.

"Nobody can touch them."

The FHB, known for dynamic shows filled with their distinctive brand of bluegrass and great laughs, are Andrew Collins on mandolin, Chris Coole on guitar, John McNaughton on bass, Chris Quinn on banjo and John Showman on fiddle.

"This is not just five hot pickers in the same place, playing the same tune at the same time. The Foggy Hogtown Boys are a band with a unique sound that is the sum of its members' personalities and musicianship."

CITR DJ Arthur Berman recalled the band's appearance at a Pacific Pickin' festival: "The highlight in terms of crowd reaction was The Foggy Hogtown Boys who, by the time the festival ended, had the crowd in their hands..."

The concert starts at 8 p.m., with tickets available through the ArtSpring box office at 537-2102.

LET'S EAT WITH LINDA KOROSCIL

Wild West Beef on a Bun

1 beef brisket (5 lb.)

salt
cracked pepper
1 bottle dark beer
1 c. chili sauce
1/2 c. brown sugar

1 large onion, diced
2 tbsp. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. oregano
1 tbsp. chili powder
1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. liquid smoke
3 cloves garlic, crushed
Tabasco to taste
crusty onion rolls baked beans, coleslaw, or potato salad on the side

Trim fat from beef and roll into a nicely shaped roast. Tie together. Rub with lots of salt and pepper. Place in roaster.

Whisk together all the other ingredients to make a lovely marinade. Pour over meat. Cover with foil and roast for 4 hours at 300 degrees. Remove and cool slightly. Grill roast on barbecue until charred and smoky — about 20 minutes. Meanwhile take the marinade and simmer until thickened. Adjust seasoning. Thinly slice beef or pull into shreds and add to sauce. Pile onto hot crusty buns and top with coleslaw.

This is the best barbecued dinner and so easy it can be made ahead of time, so you can have cocktails with your guests!

An opportunity to own an 18+ acre parcel of farmland and woods; walk on sand beach. All day sun, open space, large farmstyle house. SIMPLY SUPERB!

ISLAND STAR VIDEO presents...

Flick Pick

Caouette's style garners most praise in Tarnation

Tarnation, in which 31-year-old Jon Caouette tells his troubling life story, is as close to a film version of self-analysis as they come. Caouette's mother suffered from mental illness at an early age and her being constantly institutionalized meant that he spent his youth either in abusive foster homes or under the care of his grandparents. Caouette himself had more to deal with than just the lack of a mother: he realized he was homosexual at an early age and delved into the Houston subculture scene (learning about underground film as well), suffered violent fits and suicidal acts, and became increasingly anxious about the possibility of also being mentally ill. The film itself is made up mostly of film and video footage compiled by Caouette over pretty much his entire life. It begins with pictures illustrating his grandparents' and mother's lives, moves on to cumbersome family video, and eventually comes directly from what appears to be his obsession with recording everything in his life on tape. As compelling as the source material is, it's not the story of Tarnation that garnered Caouette so much praise, it's his style. He mixes his footage with pop culture clips and downer alternative music to create a truly postmodern collage. It's here that his skill as an editor and visual wizard become obvious. Amazingly, Tarnation was made for something like $218, using the free software that comes with an Apple computer. With this Caouette creates fantastic and evocative images: split screens, warped faces, shifts in colours, it goes on and I can't describe them here. The most startling part of it is how nothing is done "just because he can;" every single jump, flash, swirl, or scream is somehow linked to the mood or concept of the moment. I was floored by just how intimately appropriate every moment of the film feels, if for no other reason than most films that look like this feel too abstracted. That said, there is a sense that Tarnation loses its creative energy towards the end. As Caouette ages his medium becomes increasingly sophisticated; early on he's forced to manipulate still photos. Later, he has a video camera, and everything is reduced to shots of talking heads. It's still captivating, but the excess of the first half of the film gives way to a stark portrayal of his mother's demise into madness.

Quilters tuck into national sewing wins

By MITCHELL SHERRIN
Staff Writer

Two islanders showed the right stuff when they hit the podium for the Great Canadian Quilt Challenge.

Out of some 57 competitors from across the country, Salt Spring's Ineke Van Hasselt won the grand prize and Susan Paynter won the first prize.

Four islanders (Van Hasselt, Paynter, Marjorie Horsell and Darlene Wellington) entered the competition through the local fabric store, Stitches Quilt Shop, said Paynter.

"I think it's an amazing feather in the cap for Stitches."

Van Hasselt won a Bernina Activa sewing machine (valued at $1,899) and Paynter won a craft table and various quilting supplies (valued at $1,000).

"Considering that Ontario usually cleans up, that's pretty amazing for us," said Paynter.

The event was sponsored by Contemporary Sewing Materials (CSM) and featured fabric from Canadian designer Lydia Quigley's Ravenswood Collection.

Participants could make a quilt from any pattern, but they had to use all six samples of materials from the Ravenswood fabric line.

But Paynter wasn't particularly fond of the Ravenswood fabric, she said.

"It was the challenge of seeing what I could do with this fabric I didn't really like."

Van Hasselt didn't like the fabric either.

"Susan and I think along the same lines so it was really interesting to see what she did with the same fabrics. They were not my colours."

And Van Hasselt almost gave up on the project, she said.

"I was ready to throw it in the corner and forget about it. But then I figured out how much money I'd spent on the fabric already and I thought, 'No, I'm going to do this.'"

She likes the extra challenge offered by competitions and deadlines.

"If I just say, 'Let's make something nice,' it's not enough structure, or challenge, or whatever."

In the end, Van Hasselt's winning design featured a plethora of different bird cages in a slightly asymmetrical double-border pattern with a rich red and green frame.

"I called it, 'For the Birds' because it was a really challenging thing."

Paynter's design offered a geometric landscape of blackbirds pecking berries off a tree at sunset with a border of trapezoids in alternating colours.

"One of the fabrics had little black birds in it. So I cut out the little blackbirds and called it Four and Twenty Blackbirds."

The project took both women several months to complete.

"At $1,000, I couldn't tell you how many cents I made per hour," Paynter said.

One of the longest time components was creating the design, said Van Hasselt.

Winning quilts will be on display at a show in Toronto starting September 15. They can be observed on the CSM website (www.csm.ca).

FALL FAIR FOCUS
Poultry...Bees... Volunteers
By Sandy Barclay

Poultry
The poultry barn will be brimming this year with everything from commercial breeds to the most exotic bantams and even a family of emus!
To prepare your birds for exhibition, make sure to dust them for lice before bringing them to the fair. All chickens should be deloused regularly and their feet treated with Vaseline to prevent leg scale. All birds will be veterinarian-checked, so that breeders may show their birds with confidence.
Expert kids from the 4H Poultry Club will be on hand to demonstrate showmanship and answer all your poultry questions.

Bees
The Bee Tent never ceases to fascinate with its glass display-hive & an array of beautiful products from the hives of Salt Spring Island's many beekeepers.
Honey entries should be brought in plain clear jars and should be free of air bubbles and foreign matter. A visit to the Bee Tent is always a sweet experience.

Volunteers
Volunteers are always welcome for the Fall Fair. If you are interested in a particular section, please contact the coordinator of that section. Names and phone numbers can be found on page 3 of the Fall Fair catalogue.
The S.P.C.A. will NOT be having a dog sitting area at this year's Fall Fair. NO DOGS will be allowed on the fair grounds on Saturday (except for the sheep dog demonstrations). On Sunday only those dogs participating in the sheepdog demonstrations, Hoof and Woof, or competing in the pet show will be allowed. Owners should make arrangements to take their dog home after these events.

SEE YOU AT THE FAIR!

Artists set up easels in Ganges for second annual paint-in

By MARY FOWLES
Driftwood Contributor

The sidewalks, store-fronts and boardwalks of Ganges will be spotted with painters practising their art en plein air this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The second annual Labour Day weekend Celebrate Art on Salt Spring paint-in is expected to draw at least 35 artists from Salt Spring, Vancouver and Vancouver Island.

"The event is attracting a lot of people who want to paint and also a lot who just want to come down and see the painters at work," said Melissa Howard, chairperson of the paint-in and a member of the Salt Spring Island Painters' Guild, which is sponsoring the event.

Salt Spring was recently named the "best art town" in Canada and the ninth best in North America by author John Villani in his latest edition of The 100 Best Art Towns.

"This event just enhances that a little more," said Howard.

"We hope in the future the paint-in can grow even bigger and go on for a whole weekend, if there is enough interest."

Participants are encouraged to bring samples of their work and may offer paintings for sale, although commercial sales are not the event's main purpose.

"The goal is to help artists promote themselves, to be outside and just to paint," said Howard.

"We also want to bring more awareness of the painters guild."

The Salt Spring Island Painters' Guild was started in 1972 to develop training opportunities for local artists. Today the guild has about 100 active members working in a wide range of media and styles.

"The guild's objective is to encourage artists to paint and enrich themselves, and to gain inspiration in a supportive atmosphere," said Howard.

Members of the guild meet every Wednesday to paint together and for workshops throughout the year.

The registration fee for artists wishing to participate in the paint-in is $10.

Maps and general information will be provided, along with coffee and muffins.

All proceeds go back to the painters guild and are used to fund workshops on different drawing and painting techniques by professional artists from across B.C.

Artists interested in participating in the Saturday event should contact Melissa Howard at sspm@saltspring.com or call 537-2580.

First gay pride festival celebrates community with global outlook

By MARY FOWLES
Driftwood Contributor

Salt Spring Island holds its first-ever gay pride festival next weekend on September 10-11.

Instead of the traditional parade and cluster of gay-themed parties and events, the adult group Gays and Lesbians of Salt Spring Island (GLOSSI) is cooperating with youth from the local high school's Gay-Straight Alliance (GSA) to present Pride: In the Name of Love.

With fun and educational activities aimed at young and old, gay and straight, the festival is designed as a local celebration with a national and global outlook.

"With the passing of Bill C-38 we thought it was time to publicly celebrate. Salt Spring Island has never had a gay pride festival so we might as well start the tradition," said GLOSSI member John Godsman, who took the helm and has been organizing the event over the last six weeks.

"We are very lucky to be living in one of the few countries where gay marriage is now a recognized right," said Godsman, who returned to Canada two years ago after living 25 years in Texas.

He moved to Salt Spring with his partner of 20 years and was married shortly after.

"I was tired of living in the Bible belt where the conservative religious right is very powerful," he said.

As he started to get involved in island life, he found Salt Spring's gay and lesbian community was quite large. GLOSSI has 134 members.

He said Canada, as a vanguard for equal rights for gays and lesbians, is in a very unique position on the global stage.

"Now we have to ask what the future looks like on our island and we have a responsibility to see what we can offer the rest of the world, such as preventing human rights abuses of homosexuals in other countries."

A major focus of Pride: In the Name of Love will therefore be Visions and Voices, a panel discussion taking place Saturday evening at ArtSpring.

Panel members include well-known figures such as Svend Robinson, Charley Beresford, Mary-Woo Sims and Salt Spring Island-based writer, Evelyn White, as well as two 15-year-old members of the Gay-Straight Alliance, and their sponsor, Bill Turner.

Participants will share personal stories, and discuss future goals and challenges for the local and international gay and lesbian community.

ArtSpring will also present a "Life Mapping Survey" of local lesbians and gays through an art and photo exhibition.

"This is a thinking-person's gay pride," said Godsman. "We want this to be an educational event, but also inspirational and enjoyable for people."

Godsman says despite the rights and equality gays and lesbians enjoy in Canada today, there remains "a lot of misinformation and stereotypes which continue to lead to discrimination and violence." He cited homophobia in schools, among aging people and discrimination internationally as examples.

Other featured events will include an information booth at the Saturday market, a gay and lesbian film festival, a cocktail reception, and a dinner and dance party at The Glass Onion Saturday night. The festival winds up Sunday with a picnic at Ruckle Park.

"We hope to come together to celebrate with the entire community. Without the support of Salt Spring Islanders and Canadians we could never have achieved this, so we want to show our gratitude," said Godsman, adding that the response from the community so far has been overwhelmingly positive.

A full schedule of events is available at: www.salt-spring.com/glossi.

Etta James - Time after Time Jazz

The musicians alone make this an amazing CD but add Etta James' rich smokey voice and you end up with an evening of fantastic entertainment. She brings a blues lilt to old standards like "Teach Me Tonight" and "Fool That I Am" that washes away all other renditions. Share this with good company and they won't be disappointed.

Savory Selections

A variety of fresh produce from local producers and around the world is available at GVM.

Ganges Village Market, better known as GVM, is celebrating its 21st year on Salt Spring Island. The store opened in the 5,000 square foot Harbour Building in downtown Ganges in 1984 and moved to their present location of 22,000 square feet in 1989.

The store is a completely independent food store, Salt Spring Island owned and operated. It joined a buying group made up of other independent food stores from Vancouver Island five years ago which has allowed access to volume buying savings and offers the store a better variety of product while remaining competitive. The store's goal is to offer very best quality and freshness at affordable prices.

The different departments offer the customer a complete grocery shopping experience. The Meat Department offers only the very best cuts of meat. The Deli has a full range of meal solutions from the lightest of snacks to entrees. With the completion of our newly renovated bakery we now have a wide variety of freshly baked goods and delectable sweets all made from scratch! The Produce Department strives for freshness and variety of product from local producers and around the world. Our Bulk Food section has a wide range of products and has a reputation for freshness and cleanliness.

To provide for continued quality service to the customers, improvements to the store have been ongoing over the past few years with the addition of a post office, an ATM machine and the recent installment of new modern energy efficient freezers and dairy cases. The weekly 10% Tuesday continues to be a popular day for our customers. If there is an item that a customer is seeking and is not able to find it in the store, we will go out of our way to obtain the item for them.

GVM is a strong supporter of community non-profit organizations with special emphasis on youth programs. Remember to save your tapes and place them in the box for the charity of your choice. The donation we provide to that charity will help with the success of their program. It is one way of saying how proud we are to be a part of such a vibrant and unique community.

The Management of GVM extends its gratitude to its many valued customers for their tremendous support over the years. That support enables growth and provides for a healthy environment for your grocery shopping pleasure.

This year's Salt Spring Trail and Nature Club fall trip is to Hope/Manning Provincial Park, September 12 to 15. If anyone who has signed up for this trip has any questions or concerns, please call John Myers at 537-1933.

An off-island trip to Galiano Island is planned for October 11, when the Ramblers and Walkers head to Montague Harbour Park by water taxi, leaving Ganges at 9:30 a.m., arriving 35 minutes later and returning from Montague at 2:30 p.m. Travel time is approximately 35 minutes. The walk around Grey's Point and the lagoon will be led by Val Wethersett and Harold Page. The trip is open to all members.

Charge is $22 per person. Those interested should contact Janet Andersen (537-8720) as soon as possible to determine if there is sufficient interest. Monies must be in Janet's hands by September 21; after September 21st, there will be no refunds unless the trip is cancelled 48 hours previous to October 11 due to inclement weather.

The all-new Subaru B9 Tribeca doesn't fit into a category - it creates its own. After all, how many crossover utility vehicles have symmetrical full-time All-Wheel Drive and a 250-hp boxer engine? Or for that matter, 64 seating arrangements that adjust to suit any occasion? Complement this with a sleek, elegantly designed interior and you're left with a vehicle that's unlike anything you've seen before. Unless, of course, this is your second time reading this. ALL I NEED IS THE AIR THAT I BREATHE

EPA's Total Exposure Assessment Methodology (TEAM) studies found levels of about a dozen common organic pollutants to be 2 to 5 times higher inside homes than outside, regardless of whether the homes were located in rural or highly industrial areas.

ENEREADY™-Heat Recovery Ventilators and accessories (HRV's) provide quiet, comfortable and continuous fresh air year-round. When properly installed, they can prevent the stuffiness, odours and condensation problems of an unventilated home.

An ENEReady™ HRV delivers fresh air throughout your home while the stale, moist air exhausts outside.

Inside the HRV, heat in the warm airstream transfers to the cool airstream. You benefit from energy savings while keeping the air fresh, comfortable and healthy.

Specialty filters and attractive, easy-to-use controls enhance the performance of your ENEReady™ HRV to best suit your family's needs.

Youth soccer season gets rolling

As September rolls ever closer, so does another soccer season for the many youth soccer players on Salt Spring Island.

The executive of the Salt Spring Island Youth Soccer Association (SSIYSA) has been fervently preparing for the upcoming season, with registration, team formation, raffle organizing, and uniform and ball ordering.

These shall all be highlighted in order to prepare everyone for another exciting season of youth soccer.

Registration

As is usually the case, many people have not registered their children for this season's soccer season, as our early bird registration ended some months ago. Fortunately there is still time to get youths registered, but we highly recommend that it be done now if you want your children to play this year.

SOCCER ROUND-UP

WITH MALCOLM LEGG

Team formation is underway with coaches meetings due to commence this week and team practices in the first week of September.

Do not delay, as forms are available at Island Savings Credit Union and Sports Traders, and forms and money can be left at these sites, or contact Mike Barter at 537-2448.

Team formation

At present our association has one team definitely committed at the Boys U-17 Gold level, as the Gold teams had to be declared early.

Our other teams are at present being put together and placed, but are waiting for final registrations to fill as many age groups as possible.

Final teams will be declared in the first week of September.

Coaches meetings could be held this week and please check our website www.salt-springsoccer.com for more info in this area.

Raffle

Once again our association will hold its annual raffle, where youths will sell tickets and give people an opportunity to win one of more than 50 prizes.

The raffle is our major fundraiser for SSIYSA for the season. Anyone interested in providing prizes or volunteering with this committee should contact Natalie Gold at gold@saltspring.com or phone 537-9353.

Refereeing

Once again our association is looking for referees, whether established or new, as there will be many games that need referees in the new season.

Our association provides the training, the uniform and equipment and all the support through classes and assessments to turn people into competent referees.

For established referees there will be a refresher course/fitness test held at Portlock Park on Friday, September 16 starting at 4:30 p.m.

This course is very important for all Class-4 refs and it's up to them to get registered for the new year.

A Class-5 clinic (for 12 to 14 year olds) could be held for new referees this year if enough registrations come in.

Those 14 or older can take the Class-4 clinic, which we would make arrangements for.

Contact Malcolm Legg at mlegg@saltspringwireless.com or phone 537-4970 after 6 p.m. for any referee-related issue.

Ice-breaker tourney

The annual ice-breaker tourney will be on Saturday, September 10 at Portlock Park.

Details have not been finalized, but technical director Sue Spencer feels most teams will play Saturday morning, with older teams on the field later. Full details will be posted on the soccer association website.

Sponsorship

Once again this season we are looking for sponsors for our off-island teams. For a fee of $250, businesses or private individuals can sponsor teams.

A sponsor banner is staked at each game, sponsors are invited to the Christmas dinner and get mentioned in team articles.

It's a great way for our community to help joint sponsor teams with the SSIYSA and greatly assists us with the costly operation of teams travelling to Victoria/Duncan.

For more info, it is back to Malcolm Legg at mlegg@saltspringwireless.com or 537-4970.

Volunteers

As is always the case, the SSIYSA is looking for enthusiastic volunteers who would like to either sit on the executive board or just volunteer in other areas of our association.

Areas that need assistance are the mini program, trophies/medals, year-end tourney, sponsorship program, raffle and with scheduling.

If you are interested and have a little time to give (we only meet once a month) please contact Natalie Gold at 537-9353.

Your help will be greatly appreciated by both us and the youth of Salt Spring.

THE SECRET OF THE PEAR

As summer's glory begins to wane, the glorious and elusive pear returns to herald the changing of the guard.

With its sweet, juicy flesh that melts like butter on the palate when perfectly ripe, it is no wonder that Homer (the poet, not the Simpson) referred to pears as "gifts of the gods".

The Bartlett Pear is perhaps the most well known and beloved pear in North America. It derives its name from the 19th century nurseryman Enoch Bartlett of Dorchester, Massachusetts, who distributed the pear widely. However, the Bartlett pear actually came from Europe with the first colonial settlers, where it was known as the Williams pear, after it was developed by 18th century English horticulturist Williams Bon Cretien.

Today BC produces 15 million pounds of pears annually, including 50% of the Canadian crop of Bartlett Pears. Most of these grow in the Okanagan, Similkameen and Kootenay valleys where heavy soils predominate.

Pears are one of the few tree fruits which do not ripen well on the tree. If pears are left to ripen on the tree, the flesh will turn brown and mealy. Therefore, pears are picked by hand before they are fully ripe. Green pears can be ripened by placing them in a brown paper bag, stored in a cool, dark place and checked for ripeness periodically. When ripe, the skin will be a pale yellow, the flesh yielding to soft pressure, and the aroma intoxicating.

Finding the moment of peak "pear-fection" is an elusive, but rewarding task. It has been said that North American's do not have the patience that a pear requires. Edward Bunyard says it most eloquently in his Anatomy of Dessert, "The pear must be approached, as its feminine nature indicates, with discretion and reverence; it withholds its secrets from the merely hungry."

So slow down a little with some bodacious BC Bartletts, on sale this week at Thrifty Foods.

20 CELEBRATIONS

GUTHRIE, IONE Vivienne (Nonie), December 23, 1915 - August 23, 2005. Only daughter of Bevil and Marjorie Acland, late of Salt Spring Island. Born in Hythe, Kent, England. Grew up in Victoria and Duncan. Education: Strathcona Lodge School, Victoria College. Married Charles Clement Guthrie (Menty) 1936. Lived in Mill Valley, Calif. until 1941. Mother of Barnaby and Nicholas (Anna); grandmother of Sean, Ross, Ben, Jenny and Evan; great grandmother of Joshua, Christopher, Matthew and Adam. 1959-1969 Headmistress of Strathcona Lodge School. During her 37 years on Salt Spring, after her retirement, Nonie was a founding member and later Chairman of the Salt Spring Community Society; a member of the advisory committee to George Heinekey, Director member of the Capital Regional District. She also served as chairman of the School Board. She was active in the Anglican Church (Camp Columbia, parish warden) and Hospice (Bessie Dane Foundation.) Nonie Guthrie was a woman of stature, a writer of elegant letters and essays, a bell-ringer and an educator. In her prime she delighted to drive a small tractor and relished bonfires almost to the point of pyromania. An accomplished cook, and a passionate vegetable gardener, she grieved when she was no longer physically capable of getting down and grubbing in the soil. A strong addiction to the printed word (and, late in life, the television) and to current affairs, kept Nonie entertained and vitally interested in the world around her. Nonie hated being ill, she was an impatient patient who vigorously resisted all her well-meaning friends' efforts to make her more comfortable. If she eventually got better it had to be on her own terms. In spite of this she was greatly loved and deeply mourned by her many exasperated friends. This lady was never boring! Funeral was on Tuesday, August 30, 2005, 2:00 pm at All Saints by-the-sea, Ganges, Salt Spring Isl. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Bessie Dane Hospice Foundation, Ganges, BC.

Marzlie Chitwood passed on August 28th, one day after her 79th birthday. We think of her as pain free & happily mobile with her twin sister (who died as a baby) & her parents. Funeral at the Baptist Church, Thursday Sept. 1, 11am. Much missed by sister Madge Kimball, nephew Tao Kimball & son Eban, niece Ariadne Sawyer & daughter Kerra Downey, Sharon Rowe and many other friends.

8 CARD OF THANKS

Sea Breeze Pacific Regional Transmission System Inc. would like to meet interested Salt Spring Island residents and discuss our proposed Vancouver Island Cable Project including undersea routing that would bypass Salt Spring and all other Gulf Islands.

Our team examined the feasibility of using the same route as the existing aging power line and decided that renewal of the link required a "start from scratch" approach and a new route that maximizes engineering capabilities and minimizes environmental and community impacts.

GUTHRIE, IONE Vivienne (Nonie), December 23, 1915 - August 23, 2005. Only daughter of Bevil and Marjorie Acland, late of Salt Spring Island. Born in Hythe, Kent, England. Grew up in Victoria and Duncan. Education: Strathcona Lodge School, Victoria College. Married Charles Clement Guthrie (Menty) 1936. Lived in Mill Valley, Calif. until 1941. Mother of Barnaby and Nicholas (Anna); grandmother of Sean, Ross, Ben, Jenny and Evan; great grandmother of Joshua, Christopher, Matthew and Adam. 1959-1969 Headmistress of Strathcona Lodge School. During her 37 years on Salt Spring, after her retirement, Nonie was a founding member and later Chairman of the Salt Spring Community Society; a member of the advisory committee to George Heinekey, Director member of the Capital Regional District. She also served as chairman of the School Board. She was active in the Anglican Church (Camp Columbia, parish warden) and Hospice (Bessie Dane Foundation). Nonie Guthrie was a woman of stature, a writer of elegant letters and essays, a bell-ringer and an educator. In her prime she delighted to drive a small tractor and relished bonfires almost to the point of pyromania. An accomplished cook, and a passionate vegetable gardener, she grieved when she was no longer physically capable of getting down and grubbing in the soil. A strong addiction to the printed word (and, late in life, the television) and to current affairs, kept Nonie entertained and vitally interested in the world around her. Nonie hated being ill, she was an impatient patient who vigorously resisted all her well-meaning friends' efforts to make her more comfortable. If she eventually got better it had to be on her own terms. In spite of this she was greatly loved and deeply mourned by her many exasperated friends. This lady was never boring! Funeral was on Tuesday, August 30, 2005, 2:00 pm at All Saints by-the-sea, Ganges, Salt Spring Isl. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Bessie Dane Hospice Foundation, Ganges, BC.

Marzlie Chitwood passed on August 28th, one day after her 79th birthday. We think of her as pain free & happily mobile with her twin sister (who died as a baby) & her parents. Funeral at the Baptist Church, Thursday Sept. 1, 11am. Much missed by sister Madge Kimball, nephew Tao Kimball & son Eban, niece Ariadne Sawyer & daughter Kerra Downey, Sharon Rowe and many other friends.

8 CARD OF THANKS

Fulford Community Nature School Society gratefully acknowledge the financial support of the Ministry of Education and Legacies Now Society, the Audain Foundation and the Salt Spring Foundation. Sea Breeze Pacific public meeting

Date: Friday, September 9, 2005

Time: 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Place: Hart Bradley Memorial Hall 103 Bonnet Ave. Lion's Hall

Sea Breeze Pacific Regional Transmission System Inc. would like to meet interested Salt Spring Island residents and discuss our proposed Vancouver Island Cable Project including undersea routing that would bypass Salt Spring and all other Gulf Islands.

Our team examined the feasibility of using the same route as the existing aging power line and decided that renewal of the link required a "start from scratch" approach and a new route that maximizes engineering capabilities and minimizes environmental and community impacts.

333 FIREWOOD

"AUGUST IS LAUGHING across the sky, laughing while paddle, canoe and I drift, drift, where hills uplift on either side of the current swift." 90 links have been added to the long chain of the years since E Pauline Johnson was laid to rest on Ferguson Point in Stanley Park. Her paddle sings no longer yet August unfolds exactly as she saw her and Caesar Augustus stands sculpted in Rome. Time and the River roll on. In five months Christmas shall be over, the days short and dark and cold. The happy honey bees of David Harris are hard at work in the Fireweed areas of the Sooke Hills. They well know the story of their industrious cousins, the ants, and the grasshoppers. They gather the finest of fireweed honey to store against the winter. At the City of the Bees, at 2431 Fulford-Ganges Road, there is plenty of the finest of fully seasoned fir firewood. Those not of the grasshopper persuasion may enjoy some delivered now, split & cut to lengths for $220 per generous cord or $200 for those who prefer to split their own. Also available one 1/2 and 1/4 cord amounts for self pick up. 653-4531 evenings or leave a note at the honey stand.

This Week's Horoscope

by Michael O'Connor

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

The tempo is changing and you feel ready for the challenge, yet not without a sigh for sweet summer moments gone by. Your charm and passion are riding high. This mixed with a growing momentum all week long! A steady pace with some calculated moves aimed at organization will keep the flow smooth. A willingness to expand your horizons is part of the overall plot. Honor the value of genuine service.

Taurus (Apr 21 - May 20)

You are in for a creative spell over the next month or so. Opportunities to be the director of your movie will present themselves. Dreams of deep friendship and union represent the star in your night sky. Visions of beauty are bound to arise during this swell. Yet, you must lay full claim to more of your hidden powers and/or creative abilities to make the most of this time of opportunity. Focus and reveal courage!

Gemini (May 21 - Jun 21)

Taking a playful approach to learning new things is especially ideal now. Meanwhile, taking stock of what must go and what must stay is also on your mind. Your creative thinking will shift to critical analysis this week to support new intentions. Honoring your individuality and choices as well as those of others involves exercising mutual respect. Play with the possibilities to cultivate a new sense of freedom.

Cancer (Jun 22 - Jul 22)

A busier momentum than usual finds you getting things done. Errands and communications of all kinds are giving you reason to creatively manage your affairs. A steady course of action overall remains your rule of thumb. Revolutionary action must work with evolutionary reality, so there is no need to rush. Your love of order will be satisfied with progress while the Sun is in Virgo. Proceed with a plan.

Leo (Jul 23 - Aug 23)

Building a new structure and sense of order is on your mind. The New Moon in Virgo yesterday is a signal to get your feet on the ground and into action. What you do is up to you and up to your vision and decisions and destiny. Take heed now and exercise critical analysis towards a more constructive and productive approach. Honor your powers of intention and engage your higher mind which is your heart, the organ that rules your Sun sign.

Virgo (Aug 24 - Sep 24)

Taking new strides and initiatives continues. You may be a little slower off the start than you would like, yet your focus will sharpen this week. With an eye for beauty and a feeling for pleasure you will want all chores handled quickly and easily. As you progressively yield to the dissolution of old self-concepts, continue to generate positivity to keep your heart high and open to life, as it is, here and now.

Libra (Sep 23 - Oct 23)

Lying low, as you can, and taking some down time continues as a central focus. At least your pace might be a bit slower. This should become even more noticeable as Mercury enters Virgo (Sep. 5 - Sep. 21). Striking a balance and working to create more fairness and mutual respect on relationship fronts continues as well. Are your principles true to your heart or right in your mind? Meditate for authentic answers.

Scorpio (Oct 23 - Nov 21)

The challenge to fully actualize your power in the world will require imagination. Whether you are riding high on a steady momentum or scrambling to pull yourself together, imaginative thinking to maintain and/or restore balance is the key. Imagining how you can escape from certain realities is not the path you want to take. A steady focus backed by patience with yourself and the world will bring success.

Sagittarius (Nov 22 - Dec 21)

A process of building and refining your overall foundation continues. This may include some buff, polish and shine for presentation and aesthetic appeal. Your focus will become much more practical and strategic this week. You are in an important learning curve which will last a couple of years, so be open to new trainings and or education. Which friends and allies can help you with your cause?

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 19)

Will power can basically be divided into two categories: ego will and spiritual will. The trick is that both emerge from within. Yet, ego will is much more from our environmentally conditioned personality mind while divine will emerges from the purity of one's heart. This is why all the stories remind the hero of the importance of listening to the voice within or following a path with heart. True heroes yield personal ambition to heart wisdom.

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 19)

A melting of separate ideas, skills, resources and other assets as a means of merging them with those of others continues. Getting a clearer sense of what your strengths actually are may be part of the plot. You have many good ideas, yet some of your visions may be too large for you alone. Explore the possibilities by reviewing your contact list. Intend to play like a team mate to be a winner!

Pisces (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Cultivating more grace, poise and refinement on relationship fronts continues. The freedom you are seeking includes looking beneath the surface to the subconscious mind. Old limiting beliefs, memories, self-concepts, attitudes and perceptions etc. lodged in your subconscious mind are holding you back. Opportunities to clear these saboteurs will continue for the next five year, but get going now because your subconscious mind is as big as the ocean.
